AMES WON'T COME HERE.

COACH E. N. CLINTON SAYS SO.

Football Date the Third Saturday in October Will Probably be Given to Simpson--Triangular Meet at Ames May 10th.

"Ames will not play Iowa at Iowa City next fall," said Coach E. N. Clinton of the agricultural college team who was in Iowa City last night to arrange football and track dates with the Iowa management. "The game we play with Iowa will be at Ames if at all. The date we had this year, Oct. 18th, will be satisfactory to us. Ames will probably play about the same schedule as this year next fall, with the exception of the Wisconsin game. We may get a game with Minnesota. I have not seen the Iowa management, so that nothing as to the Iowa game next year has been definitely agreed upon.

"I am also desirous of arranging for a track meet with Iowa to be held May 3rd either at Ames or Iowa City. The triangular meet will be held at Ames again this year on May 10th. By having the meet with Iowa the week before, the meeting of the three schools May 10th will show pretty nicely whether Grinnell, Drake, Iowa or Ames is to win out at the state meet. We have not Lamb with us for next spring. I do not know much about the rest of the track men. I return to Ames from my Illinois home Feb. 20th to begin training the track team.

"The football season at Ames came out just about even. I understand that Drake and Grinnell both made money on their seasons. Grinnell did not make enough to pay off her debt entirely, I believe. Drake and Grinnell had fine crowds at both their games in Des Moines this year. Their contract calls for a game in Des Moines next Thanksgiving day."

It is probable that the agricultural college will play Knox college of Galesburg next Thanksgiving day. Coach Clinton stated definitely that Ames would not play Simpson on the turkey day date. Other possibilities are the University of South Dakota and the state normal.

Coach Clinton's announcement that Ames will not play Iowa at Iowa City next fall probably means that Simpson will be offered the date taken by Ames this year. The Ames game this year was one of the best practice games on the Iowa schedule. Simpson, coached by John G. Griffith, will be sure to put up a very strong game and the local interest in a game here by a team of the '00 Iowa captain's would be very great.

Coach Clinton was not able to see the Iowa management and will return in February to make the arrangements for the football and track games.

McCUTCHEN A BENEDICT.

General Manager is Married at Carlsbad, N. Mex., to Miss Lou M. Austin.

Fred C. McCutchen was married at six o'clock this evening at Carlsbad, New Mexico, to Miss Lou M. Austin, of Lineville, Ia. Mr. and Mrs. McCutchen will spend their honeymoon in the Sunny Southwest, returning to Iowa City the middle of January.

Mr. McCutchen is widely and popularly known among the students and alumni of Iowa as the general manager of athletics for the university. He has just closed successfully his second year as salaried manager of the varsity teams. The student body will concur with the Daily Iowan in extending hearty congratulations to Mr. McCutchen.

The bride is a handsome and gifted daughter of Lineville, Ia. She is a graduate of the Des Moines conservatory of music and it was while pursuing her musical studies that the now happily married pair became acquainted.

Last month Manager McCutchen made a trip to the westward with his announced destination the state of Colorado. On his return from this trip he talked much of the fine mines he had visited and called his friends to witness that two weeks in the open air in a coach and saddle had greatly benefitted his health. Great were the riches to be mined in Colorado, said Manager McCutchen, and he averred that he had found one of the finest mines in the state.

It now appears that it was during the absence that the General Manager induced Mrs. McCutchen to fix the date of today's happy event, that McCutchen's visit was to New Mexico rather than Colorado, and that his mine will be a close corporation, with the articles of incorporation issued today at Carlsbad, New Mexico.

Steam Pipe Bursts.

Some time late last evening, the steam main, which carries the steam to the university buildings burst and as a consequence the heat in the new building was not up to standard this forenoon. The break occurred at the connecting anchor T, right near the point of juncture from which the distribution to the several buildings occurs. A flaw in the casting was the immediate cause of the accident. A temporary asbestos covering has been cemented on, clamps put on to hold the pipes in place and at 3:30 this afternoon the heat will be turned on. A new casting has been telegraphed for and the break will doubtless be wholly repaired inside of thirty-six hours.

Fortunately the old heating plant was available for several of the buildings and no classes were dismissed on account of lack of heat.

Prof. Nutting will read a paper at the Baconian Club tomorrow night on the subject, "A Visit to the Home of the Cliff Dwellers."

DEANS, DELEGATES MEET

INTERESTING MEETING HELD

The Health, Scholarship, morality and Spirituality of Student Body, and Legislative Needs Discussed—Daily Iowan Commended.

At the residence of President George E. MacLean the board of deans and the student delegates from the several university class, fraternity and club organizations met last night for the first session of the year. After enjoying dainty refreshments the members assembled and the meeting was called to order by President MacLean. In the absence of secretary R. G. Tobin, C. V. Cox was made secretary and Dean L. G. Weld chairman of the meeting. A roll call showed an attendance of seventy, representing in all the deans of the several colleges and delegates from fifty-nine university organizations—a thoroughly representative body.

Dr. MacLean announced the purpose of the meeting as being to get the delegates together to form an official organization for the consideration of those questions of import in which the students and faculty have a community of interest. The health, scholarship, morality and spirituality of the students formed subjects for informal discussion. Attention was called to the admirable hospital service of the university and the special privileges granted students. President MacLean deplored the fact that some few men will seem to lose sight of the fact that their class records are a matter of primary consideration, and as a result tender themselves an invitation to give up the strenuous life of the student.

Reference was made to the fact that though the university in reality ranks as one of the most stalwart institutions in point of morality, yet she is generally accredited with being a weaker member. On account of the lateness of the hour further discussion on these subjects was deferred until the next meeting of the organization.

The advisability of the students seeing to it that their representative legislators learn of the pressing needs of the university in connection with her modest requests was unanimously recognized and various methods of accomplishing this end were proposed and discussed. It was in this connection that President MacLean took advantage of the opportunity to bestow unlimited praise upon The Daily Iowan, its conduct and general policy during the present term. He referred to the lack of a suitable place where the students could assemble for the discussion of those general propositions in which all are interested and suggested that The Daily Iowan went far toward eliminating this difficulty, and, that it might become still less real through the general dissemination of the university news, sentiment and spirit he earnestly recommended that each and every student enroll himself as a subscriber to the Daily Iowan.

The meeting adjourned on motion to assemble again on call of the president.

Team a Good One.

Scarlet and Black, of Grinnell, after giving the Daily Iowan's All-State College team, says:

"In general we would consider the choice of the team a good one. One more man from Grinnell should have gone in the back field, Henry Lyman. At Ames Lyman clearly outplayed Coyle and would probably have been given a place by the Iowan if he had not been kept out of the Iowa and Drake games by injuries. Benson and Handel are also mentioned as among the coming players of the state. On the whole, Grinnell may well be pleased with the Iowan's choice as she is with the season that has just closed. The season of 1901 has witnessed for Grinnell, not only the development of a strong team, ranking second in the state but a genuine revival of the old "Grinnell spirit," which for years has animated Grinnell athletics and won us victories over opponents stronger in almost every way."

Barbecue at Michigan.

The students at the university of Michigan are preparing for a great barbecue which is to serve the dual purpose of a love feast and a send-off for their champions before they set out on their California trip. Roast ox, sizzling hot, will be served to the admiring supporters of the maize and blue and enthusiastic speeches of praise and encouragement indulged in. A season's record of 501 to 0 is certainly worthy of a good live barbecue with an ox of no mean proportions with which to feed the hungry Wolverines.

W. J. Clarke Tonight.

The lecture by W. J. Clarke, this evening, will be of interest and instruction and deserves a liberal patronage by the student body. As a popular lecturer and entertainer Mr. Clarke is well recommended and it is said that the astounding results in many of his experiments are second to none of those produced by the greatest magicians.

The college of dentistry will enjoy an informal dancing party at the armory tomorrow evening. The committee in charge is composed of Messrs R. E. Sherer, W. J. Jeffries, A. Lee, F. Salisbury and F. V. Eberhardt.

Persons having work for students during vacation will greatly oblige them by dropping a card to the chairman of employment bureau, or by leaving addresses at Close hall.

Messrs W. T. Waterman and Clifford Bradley, of the junior law class, were initiated into the mysteries of Phi Delta Phi fraternity last night.

Entered at the post-office at Iowa City, Iowa, as second class mail matter, Oct. 11, 1901.

The large number of letters now daily received from alumni at all points of the compass, containing praise for the manner in which the paper has been conducted during the present term is highly gratifying to those in charge of The Daily Iowan and we trust that we may be able to deserve the same commendation at the end of the year.

The necessity of resorting to a representative body like that which assembled last evening in order to discuss those questions in which the students have a common interest recalls again the urgent and immediate need the university has for an assembly hall where the entire body of students, instructors and faculties can meet, not only once a term but whenever occasion requires. The university suffers in more than one way on account of this need and the past term has presented several occasions upon which it was made pre-eminent. There are many things that the present organization can accomplish and theory in vogue is a good one, but the "university spirit" we have all been clamoring for during past years will never reach its proper development until the university family can meet and meet often under its own roof for the discussion of its own problems.

Notice.

TO STUDENTS IN ALL COLLEGES: Students may register at any time now for the second term's work and are advised to do so, as far as possible, to avoid confusion at the beginning of the winter term. To register for the second term students registered for the fall term and students re-entering, who were registered for work last year, will call at the office of the registrar for tuition cards, pay tuition to the treasurer and return to the office of the Registrar.

New students will call at the office of the examiner who will give necessary information and instructions.

On and after Thursday, January 16, students not regularly registered will not be allowed to be in attendance upon classes.

TO STUDENTS IN THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS:

Students in the college of liberal arts who do not pay their tuition and register regularly for the next term's work before leaving for the holidays, are requested to call at the office of the registrar between December 12 and 19 to arrange in advance their program of studies. In cases where no change in program is contemplated, students are expected to call and give notice to that effect.

During the first four days at the opening of the term those who have been to the office previously to arrange their work and those who register without change of programs will be given preference.

Records of absences are kept from the opening of the term and whether students are or are not registered before the sixteenth, they should be in attendance upon classes for which they intend to register.

Students who fail in Freshman English, French, German or Mathematics, for the first term, must re-register for the same work at the opening of the winter term.
