THE PROGRAM

AN IMPORTANT CONVOCATION

The program of dedicatory exercises tomorrow is completed and the program of the exercises appears probable to be one of the finest of its kind for many years. It is well suited to the purpose for which it will be held with delight by all interested in gymnastic work.

NEEDS

In glancing around over the campus yesterday, it is not difficult to realize that the university is in need of many things. Among the most pressing needs are: a library building, a gymnasium, a medical building, and a building for the medical school. It is clear that the university needs much more space for its growth and development.

BASEBALL SCHEDULE

SOON OUTLINED

THE DEBATE

The Minnesota Preliminary Will Take Place Tomorrow

The Minnesota Preliminary will take place tomorrow. This is an important event in the history of the university, and it is expected that it will attract a large audience. The debate will be held in the auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

At a meeting of the Board of Control Friday night the baseball schedule was practically decided upon. Thoroughly worked out was the matter of singles in the first game. This will be the first time that singles have been played in a meeting of the board.

The dates for the games with state colleges have not yet been decided upon and will not be decided until Friday, when a meeting of the different team managers will be held at the university. The eastern trip has been set for the latter part of May.

THE GYM

The handball tournament has been set to begin on Sunday, January 24. Each team is to play three games with every other team, after which the four teams having the highest percentage of games won will contest in the semi-finals. The victors in the semi-finals will meet the victors of the paris which consist of two bronze medals.

Dental College Notes

The students in the college of dentistry since it has been opened have seen twelve teens apiece have improved for their reading roman prominent dental society of the state. The papers were chosen by vote of the students from different local papers, with journals shown to be most popular among them that magazines will be placed in the reading rooms in the near future.

The new electric stereoscope, which was purchased for the college with state tax, has just been mounted in room 17 and connected up with the current. It is placed in the lecture hall where the lectures are given and is connected up with the current.
sions given. Everyone, from the latest freshman to the senior in the graduate college, then is duty bound to be on hand and take part in the exercises. Let us then, tomorrow, be filled with true university spirit and enthusiasm, for the welfare of our alma mater may, in a measure, be at stake.

Commentable Action

The annual freshman banquet, which will be held at the Kirkwood tomorrow night, is the event which in former years has elicited from the two under classes a great deal of what, under the modern interpretation of the term, is wrongly called class spirit. The event has been one of boisterous, thoughtless student enthusiasm, led by class antagonism. It has been the occasion for fighting, for the disturbance of the peace, for the stopping of carriages and, for the kidnapping and detention of freshmen.

These things done from a student's standpoint alone may seem innocent and harmless, but yet when looked upon from an outsider's point of view, they have been a source of a great deal of detriment to the university. As a result of these class conflicts, scandalous and exaggerated as have gotten over the true in the minds of those who do not understand student activities, and in the end the reputation of the university has been lowered and a result of these erroneous ideas which are held, we have lost the support and commendation of many of the citizens of the state.

Therefore, since these evils result from the class conflict on this banquet occasion, it cannot but be gratifying to note that the practice is gradually dying out and that the small, petty class rivalry, which is a mark of the small college, is giving way to a modern university way of looking at things.

The sophomores this year are certainly pursuing the right line when they leave the freshmen go to their banquet unmolested.

On the other hand the freshmen will surely have no room to boast as the sophomores have as a defense for their actions—the good of the university.

Amusements

Lewis Morrison's "Faust" has been played for twenty seasons, or in other words five thousand performances have been given of this classic play. This year's production of Lewis Morrison's version of this play is the most elaborately in costumes, scenery, and electrical effects, vocal and choral music "Faust" has ever been invested with. A talented dramatic author has written a new prologue of remarkable beauty. The electrical effects are new and striking, the scenery all newly painted and the company an exceptionally strong one, as may be seen at the Opera House on Thursday, Jan. 23.
