NEBRASKA HAS JIMJAMS

MANAGER IN A BAD WAY

Wants to Wipe Out the East in Football—The Reply of the Pennsylvania Management Was Short and Wintry—Will Fall Back on Yale and Harvard

Now it's a football manager that's got 'em.

The University of Nebraska wants to clean out the effete east and make the old song read, "Nebraska, Yale, Harvard, Princeton and occasionally the University of Pennsylvania.

The Quakers got frightened and took to the woods leaving behind them a note which told the Nebraska manager that they wouldn't be at home for some time.

Now the Prairie Dog manager has only Yale, Harvard and Princeton to pick from. The tale of how it all happened is told in many Eastern papers, the following being one of the shortest accounts of the desires of the University of Nebraska:

"Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 27.—The University of Nebraska is the latest Western college to suffer from the buzzing of the Eastern trip bee. They have asked the University of Pennsylvania for a football game next fall and are endeavoring to arrange games with either Harvard, Yale or Princeton. University of Pennsylvania will not play any Western teams this year. At the next meeting of the football committee University of Nebraska will be informed that the Quakers cannot arrange a game with them."

"I'll tell you what, boys," said one of the oldest men in college athletics to a group of college managers at the Victoria last Thanksgiving, "you are entirely wrong when you start to figure out how much money you have made during the season. If you have been successful, keep still about it and pledge your athletic council to secrecy, for the thing that the average college youth hates worse than seeing his college manager turn out badly on the season is to see him make a lot of money and be successful generally. The passions are rather elemental in the college youth and the thing he seems to like best above everything else is to hit a man who has done unusually well. Chas. Baird of Michigan seems to be paying the penalty of success. The anti-Baird faction sprang up at Ann Arbor immediately after the wonderful success of the team last fall, and at the late election were successful in electing the student managers. Despite this, the anti-Bairds have no hope of ousting Baird because of the faculty and alumni vote. The report of the financial secretary of the University of Michigan for the football season shows how successful Baird has been. It shows that from Sept. 14, 1901, to Jan. 10, 1902, a total of $16,111.12 passed through the hands of the association. The season started with a balance in the bank of $29.49. Football receipts were $12,162.80, and the expenses of the team were $1,615.99, leaving a large surplus. Baseball expenses have been $149, track expenses $15 and interscholastic $296. There is now a balance of $296 and a sinking fund of $5,125, making a total of $5,392 on hand.

Phil Butler, a Canadian athlete, has been engaged to coach the Notre Dame track team. He could be as good as some other Canadian athletes who might be mentioned as alleged trainers without violently disturbing the rotation of the earth on its axis.

Notre Dame is engaged in exciting the risibilities of the western colleges by announcing that she has under preparation a set of rules, "very nearly like the conference rules which are calculated to raise Notre Dame from the stigma which has been cast upon her of late." Notre Dame is an excellent college and puts out fine athletes, but if she wishes to get rid of the taint of professionalism that hangs round her still, she could do nothing better than adopt the conference rules and show evidence of an intention to live up to them.

The agricultural college has offered Dobie of Minnesota a position as football coach. Dobie has not yet made known whether or not he will accept. Coach Clinton resigned his position at Ames quite suddenly, the last heard from him before his resignation was announced being his offer of a certain day next fall to Grinnell for the annual Grinnell-Agricultural College game. Clinton had made many friends in the state during his period of work at Ames and it will be regretted that he has chosen other fields for work in the future.

Simpson will have a strong baseball team this spring. Coach Griffith was in Iowa City last week arranging an excellent schedule. Middleton, the crack pitcher, and a number of the Methodists' best men will be back. Simpson will play Iowa at Des Moines this year in all probability, and there is a possibility of the game going to Indianola.

Manager Ferris of Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, has asked Coach Stagg for an early practice game and has been told that he may be given a chance at Sept. 20.

Hunt--Tracy

The marriage of Miss Ethel Marion Hunt to Mr. Charles A. Tracy is announced for Thursday, January 24, at St. Joseph, Missouri. Miss Hunt is a graduate of Grinnell college, being a member of the class of '00, and Mr. Tracy will be remembered here as a member of the law class of '04. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy will be at home at 6327 Jefferson Ave. after March 1.

THE CONFERENCE GAMES

IOWA MEETS MICHIGAN, MINNESOTA AND ILLINOIS

Gophers Will be Brought Here if Attendance Warrants—Knipe will Be Track Trainer

Oct. 25—Minnesota at Iowa City or Cedar Rapids;

Nov. 8—Michigan at Detroit;

Nov. 27—Illinois at Champaign;

These three games with members of the conference nine have been scheduled at the times and places indicated. Negotiations are in progress for one more big game which will complete the list of conference teams the 1902 Iowa football men will meet. Grinnell has written the Iowa manager asking for their old date of November 15, and have been notified that such date will be satisfactory here.

It would appear that the names of Michigan, Illinois and Minnesota have become fixtures on the Iowa schedule. The turkey date passes to Illinois this year and the Hawkeyes will only regret that it is to be played so far from home. The decision as to the location of the Minnesota game will be made next fall and will depend entirely on the attendance at the earlier games. This will be the greatest football contest ever held in Iowa and the management is extremely anxious that it should be held here at Iowa City. Manager McCutchen assured us that the rest of the schedule will be played at Iowa City.

A personal letter just received from Dr. Knipe is authority for the report that he has been confined to the university hospital at Philadelphia for the last three weeks as the result of a surgical operation. The direct cause of the operation was an abscess caused by an injury the doctor sustained in an athletic contest while he was yet a student at Pennsylvania. He writes that he will probably be able to leave the hospital in five or six weeks and will return to Iowa as soon as he is able to travel.

Dr. Knipe will have personal charge of the track team this year and the old custom of employing an additional trainer will be abandoned this season.

Omicron Chapter of Delta Tau Delta will hold its annual reunion and banquet Feb. 7 and 8.

"Theodore Roosevelt" is the subject of an oration to be given at the state oratorical contest.

August von Ende of the class of '98 and later an instructor in the University is in the city for a few days.

F. R. Meehan a Delta Tau member from Wisconsin is visiting at the Delta Tau Delta house.

Regents Alonzo Abernethy, T. B. Hanley, P. K. Holbrook and C. E. Pickett have each been nominated to succeed himself.

DR. ELIOT ON ATHLETICS

RESULTS OF CONTESTS DO NOT AFFECT ATTENDANCE

President of Harvard Introduces Statistics to Explode Popular Notion That Victory in Athletic Contests Brings Increased Attendance

The distinctive feature of the annual report just issued yesterday by President Eliot, of Harvard, is said to be his views on what effect victory or defeat has upon the attendance at that institution. In a comparison of the past ten years the head of this institution concludes that that victory occasions no increase nor does defeat work a decrease. In this regard he says: "Many American colleges have imagined and even affirmed that success or failure in athletic sports has an immediate result on the resort to colleges, victory increasing the resort within a year or two and defeat diminishing it.

"There is no relation between athletic victory and defeat for Harvard and the increase or decrease of preliminary candidates in the following year. Thus the years 1894, 1895 and 1896 were years of uniform defeat; yet, on the whole, the number of preliminary candidates increased substantially. The year 1899 was a year of victory, but no increase in the number of candidates took place. Declining fortune for Harvard is twice followed by small losses and thrice by good gains, and rising fortune is followed once by a small loss, twice by small gains and once by a large gain.

"Looking at the whole period, the freshman class at Harvard has gained a much larger percentage than the freshman class at Yale, although Yale has been decidedly much more successful in the athletic sports."

Minnesota on the Reporter

The Minnesota Daily, after reciting the principal parts of the press notices of the McLain incident here, adds the following: "The story is certainly sensational, but that it can have any foundation, so far as Minnesota is concerned, is denied universally. There is no student at the 'U' by the name of J. A. McLain, and it is unnecessary to add that the debating association of Minnesota does not allow its debaters to prepare for a debate in this way.

The thrilling story undoubtedly originated in the fertile brain of a press correspondent and will doubtless prove to be without foundation. The incident, it is hoped, will in no wise mar the pleasant relations that exist between Iowa and Minnesota Universities."

The paper at Baconian, Saturday evening, will be read by A. G. Smith; subject, "Mathematics in Biology with an Example of the Inheritance in Duration of Life."

Entered at the post-office at Iowa City, Iowa, as second class mail matter, Oct. 11, 1901.

The legal thinkers at Michigan have in contemplation a law journal, the chief object of which will be to discuss modern legal problems and through these discussions call attention to the most important and general developments in the field of jurisprudence. The object of the journal is certainly a commendable one and if conducted by the talent of Michigan's faculty, the journal will unquestionably be one of merit, but if its discussions are to be edited by undergraduates, we fear that no great weight of importance will attach to this publication, as among the real legal lights of the country.

Those educational institutions that have expended much good money in order to induce football players to enter their doors will be inclined to think two or three times before they accept Dr. Eliot's views as to the effect of athletic victories on general attendance. But let them not be entirely disheartened. If they read in this report, a rupture of cherished notions, possibly a reflection upon the amount of free advertising they have obtained through the sporting columns of the press will serve to lessen in a measure the keenness of their disappointment.

The republican members of the legislature from the tenth district have nominated J. H. Allen to succeed Harvey Ingham as a member of the board of regents. Mr. Allen was a member of the class of '95 and is well known in university circles as an able and conscientious worker. His service for the university in this new capacity will doubtless result in honor to himself and great benefit to her.

From the present general trend of sentiment at Michigan, faculty-alumni control of athletics does not seem to be enjoying the best of favor. The Wolverines have an eye for other things besides shekels in the university treasury.

Dr. Eliot's report is apparently not intended to create any great advance in the price of eastern athletes.

Of the 7,969 persons mentioned in "Who's Who in America," 5,486 were graduates of colleges or similar institutions.

Amusements

Lovers of the highest form of stage art are agreed that James A. Herne's beautiful comedy-drama of New England coast life, "Shore Acres," is by far the best play of its class ever presented on the English-speaking stage. In it there is absolute truth to nature and the characters are drawn with a skill that has rarely been surpassed. They come and go as people do in real life and there is little or no exaggeration. Mr. Herne's stage pictures are always commendable and in "Shore Acres," which comes to the Opera House, on Thursday, Jan. 30th, there are many deeply impressive scenes. The last act in the piece is possibly the most effective and no one who has ever witnessed the closing picture will ever forget it. An excellent dramatic company headed by Miss Marion Cullen and Mr. James T. Galloway will appear here and nothing will be left undone to make the engagement memorable.

Neil Snow is mentioned as a probable football coach for Ohio State University.
