FORTUNATE MEDICS

Students of the College of Medicine Are Royally Entertained at the Berkeley Imperial

The faculty of the medical department last night at the Berkeley Imperial gave its annual reception to the students of the department and their ladies. The professors and their wives welcomed their guests, about five hundred in number, in the gallery of the hotel. The patrons and patrons were the following:

- Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Middle
- Mrs. G. E. MacLean, Dr. Rockwood, Dr. and Mrs. Guthrie,
- Dr. and Mrs. L. W. Littig, Mrs. Littig, Davenport,
- Dr. and Mrs. Biering, Dr. Har-,
- Dr. and Mrs. Breen, Dr. and Mrs. Kessler, Dr. and Mrs.
- Dr. Dean, Dr. Burga, Judge Wade, Dr. Kemmerer. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, Prof. and
- Teeters.

The handsome new dining hall was decorated with various class and department banners and colors and several of the students, a total of $150,000 ensigns which attracted so much attention during the visit of the state legislature. Refreshments were served all through the evening in the dining booths. Later the band and cabaret were opened and the orchestra, which had furnished sweet music in the dinning rooms, was given over to the lovers of the dance who held the monopoly until a late hour.

Wisconsin Faculty Makes New Rules to Curb Society Doings During Prom Week

Society folk at Wisconsin university are apparently to find themselves within the toils of the faculty during the week of their next important social affair. The faculty at that institution arrived at the conclusion that too much time is spent in the pursuit of things frivolous and invidious and against this they have legislated. The junior promenade, lastly popular, has come to be a very prominent social event and the faculty announce that during the time of this event, the work of the university is practically ignored by one-third of the student body. Hence it is to be expected that their rules are first directed and the following rules laid down:

- All of town girls must leave Madison not later than midnight the previous night, following the promenade.

- No dancing must cease promptly at 2:30 in the morning, and the faculty of the hall will be required to turn out the lights as soon as possible after that time as the dancers have not sufficient time to leave.

- "No dawn teas, breakfasts, rides or other functions are to be held by any of the fraternities, sororities or other societies.

The students claim that the dance program arranged for the evening will not be completed at the hour designated in the faculty edict and they intend further that the jurisdiction of the faculty does not extend to any such limits as will warrant the rule making by the faculty.

- It is now an established custom for town girls and women to have a breakfast in their fraternities' house on the morning of the promenade, and faculty legislation against this custom which has grown to enjoy such general favor is contemplated by the professor addresses the Italian scholars and in a paper showing a thorough knowledge of spelling reforms attempted, not only by Legislator Matthews and other modern languages as well.

After reviewing the results of the program and recognizing the effects of the

IOWA DEFEATS KANSAS

FINAL SCORE 13 IOWA 40, KANSAS 7

Though slow on the start the Iowa's Excited the Kansas and Won From Them Handily.

Before the first half was even small but none the less appreciative, the old adage of "Try not to beat a man at his own game" was fully ignored, set aside and over turned last evening, when Iowa defeated the Kansas University men by a score of 40 to 27, and at the game of basketball.

With a dwindling lack of energy that seemed to possess the whole team and proclaim victory for the Jayhawkers, the Iowa men started the game and not un til some ten or more minutes had been added to the adverse record did they seem to throw off their apparent lethary. Slowly, as with reluctance, was the play quickened and the game worked into, but when once warmed up to the game it became apparent that Iowa was the winner of the game.

The Rev. Dixon is a clever talker, has a beautiful flow of language and possesses the rare ability to make historical facts eloquent. He believes that that is the only way to make history available to the public.

Though born and raised a Car- olina democrat, Rev. Dixon cares more for the language of the people than for the language by which recent enthusing applause of the gallery, Farrell and Brock and doused Iowa, the score 13 to 7.

Between the halves the audi ence was entertained by an exhibi tion of the early history of the faculty members of Miss Morgan's class in physical culture.

Sophomore Debate

There has been an unusual de lay in obtaining a question for the sophomore debate this year which has added to the interest of the question itself. The faculty has given the question to the debate on programming.

Ivy will be represented by

- E. R. Johnson, F. B. Breckin and R. M. Fagan; Zetagoon
- Robert Beattie and H. L. Hysom. The Ivy team will have until tomorrow to choose their side. The debate will take place in the first part of the spring term.

The result of the competitive examination open to the junior homoeopathic students, for the selection of the senior who shall attend the medical school was announced today. Mr. Oscar Wilde, of Toledo, la., was declared the winner and will enter upon his duties this month.

The current number of The Bookman, after quoting a college president to the effect that "people whose training has been chiefly or exclusively in books, whether literary, metaphysical, or even theological, can hardly help being liars if they try," indulges in this bit of apt criticism.

"Literary, metaphysical and theological people are not more wicked than many others. The worst you can say is that they are sometimes a little more at the mercy of their wish to believe. The college student of light literary tendencies is a particularly desperate case. He is seduced by the things that sound well away from the things that are. He is haunted by a sense of the effective, and snubs all homely details. From him come the people that read beautifully but have no bearing, and miss all points. But it is not lying. It is the merest truancy, a chase after plums, the result of dealing with unforgivable things like poems and plots and world-philosophies. Accuracy is ungraceful, and a facile writer for the "Li" will think twice before he apostilizes a phrase for the sake of it. Into the light literature of the day lead many paths beside those of truthfulness. In fact, truth is perilous to certain little gifts. If people saw things precisely as they are, there might be fewer purple Christmas cards. Is it trying to specialize in pretty words? Shall we fall in fury upon a woman's hat because we cannot batonize it?"

The attendance at the game yesterday was by no means what the directors of the Allen basketball team had anticipated, due to the local contests being better patronized.

The Irving will give their annual freshman program tomorrow evening. The showing made at this time will determine who is to represent the society at the annual inter-society contest.

The Scarlet and Black of Grinnell, devotes their issue of February 1st, to a special edition of Board of Control. An interesting history of the Athletics of Iowa college is given, also a resume of their athletics of the past year.

M. E. Weldy, C 99, now occupying the chair of Greek and German in Highland Park college will address a young men's meeting preparatory to the day of prayer for colleges on Saturday evening, at 6:30 in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Mr. Weldy will also speak on the following day of prayer, Sunday, Feb. 8, at 4 p. m. in the Y. M. C. A.

Amusements

The famous comedy, "David Harroon" will be produced by Charles Frohman here on Thursday, Feb. 6, at the opera house, with all special scenery and efects as near as possible identical with Mr. Frohman's original production at the Garden, New York, last year, where it ran the entire season. In trans-planting the story from the book to the stage three acts have been made and all its scenes are laid at Harum's country home. It is said few, if any, liberties are taken with the original story, with the exception that the comedy is far more dramatic than the novel.

The only novelty booked for an early presentation here— if a rewritten version of an ever welcome offering may be so designated—is "Next Door," that famously funny conception built to exploit the marvelous undertakings of the world's greatest acrobats, the Bros. Royer. This merry melange will be seen at the opera house, on Saturday, Feb. 8, not only in a new dress from a line and incident standpoint, but with many new vaudville innovations, new ideas in costuming, extravagant scenery and an augmented cast, including among others the original and only Bros.
Royer.

Eastern College Man Is Not After His Likin'—Too Many Fates

Dr. D. K. Pearson, the philanthropist who has given so liberally to educational enterprises in the east during the past few years, charges that the eastern boys are effeminate, and being raised in too much luxury, they have not that sternness characteristic of the western boys. For this reason Mr. Pearson announces his intention of bestowing his gifts hereafter on the western lad. He is a man of strange notions and prejudices and football is one of the college inventions that meets with his hearty disapproval. A reliable memory assures the doctor that his own right arm was developed over the saw buck, and he suggests this as one way for the student to harden up the biceps.

Bed-ridden schools are another favorite recollection of the phil anthropist, and he regards with disgust the theory that it is necessary to pay three or four dollars per week for table board. "There is no use paying more than $1 a week for board, and $30 should carry any young man through college for a year," said he. "Suffice it to say the doctor is 84 years of age and probably 'things were different when he was a boy.'"
