"GIVE THE VARIETY ALL SHE ASKS"

SO SAY THE DENOMINATIONAL COLLEGES

All Are Interested in Making Iowa University the Best in the Land. Say the Faculty.

Liberal treatment of the university by the 29th General Assembly is the statement of the faculty representatives of the university by the denominational colleges of the state who are in Iowa City today attending a committee meeting of the college section of the State Teachers Association.

Dr. MacLean at Iowa. His influence has always been felt for better and kindlier relations, and he has this year worked much good for education in general in the state.

The meeting of the committee on Secondary School relations of the College section of the State Teachers’ Association began this morning in the rooms of the university department of education. Pres. J. H. May of Grinnell called the meeting to order. Others present were Prof. Thos. Nicholson of Cornell, the secretary of the committee, Dean Hill April 21 - Notre Dame at Purdue.

Grave Stone Inscription

One day this week, while wandering through the old cemetery just opposite McKeen field, I was attracted by a bright light: tombstone, which seemed strangely out of place beside the old tomstones. Approaching it I read the following inscription:

Here lies the body of William H. Harris. Speaker of the state. Died at Joliet, Ill., 1827, in the 68th year of his age.

In the game of life he always played it to the best of his ability. He played a clean game. Time was called with the ball in the enemy’s territory. Ex-

GRINNEILL WILL PUT UP A HARD FIGHT

COLLEGE ATHLETES OF STATE ARE WORKING HARD

Cornell Has Directors of Physical Training and Uses Chapel as Additional Gymnasium

The college conferences of the State Teachers Association came to Iowa City today fully as conversant with the state of athletics at their colleges and the hopes and fears of their track, football and basketball teams as they were with the subjects of the curriculum on which their various college catalogues say they are authorities. The doings of the committee thereof, Grinnell will put up a good hard fight for the team this spring. We will do our very best.

"For the first time in years," said Prof. J. H. May of Cornell College, "we have a director of physical training, Prof. A. W. Sanders. We also have a director of women’s physical training. All senior academy, junior and sophomore students are now required to take at least three hours of gymnastic work per week. We have two gymnasia and are using the chapel as a third gymnasmia. The funds for the employment of an eastern foot ball coach are raised now, and everything athletic about the college looks hopeful. We are in a better way than we have been for several years."

The Drake students are training and hope to put on a stronger team this year," said Dean H. M. Bell of Drake. "Captain Pohl at the head of the track team and Monell are training the men for the track. The formation of a base ball team has about been abandoned."

"Our College will have a team this spring that should show up quite well," said Prof. J. P. Huggett of Coe. "The Coe team will have many hones and their late meet in Cedar Rapids last May and this year’s team will endeavor to do even better."

The Phi Psi enjoyed a spread by Dorothy Wickersham last evening.

RUDYARD KIPLING

Professor Gordon and Miss Evers’ Present a Very Pleasing Program as a Modern Author

The lecture recital given by Prof. H. E. Gordon and Miss Mary Sligh Evers last evening furnished an hour of refresh-ant entertainment for a fair sized audience.

Professor Gordon lectured upon the man and the nature of his writings while Miss Evers in a most pleasing manner recited a few of the products of his labors. Through this forceful straightforward verse, as a medium, without missing meanings, putting the homesly and unpleasant along with the sweet, does Rudyard Kipling present himself to the whole world; and "The Bell Hymn," "The Gift of the Sea," "Kim" and "The Gypsi Trial" are but instances of his sermons.

Professor Gordon admits that like all other young authors, Mr. Kipling has written trash which is not up to his best parts of his work, some of his better sermons will endure test of time.

In the Forensic Field

The programs to be rendered at the several forensic balls this evening are as follows below.

A woman is considered eccentric if she does not talk when she has nothing to say.

"The Gay Mr. Goldstein," which Henry Greenwall presents at the opera house next Monday with his two stars, Thos. J. Keogh and Mary Hampton, is one of the most talked of attractions that is announced for the season, and will no doubt be greeted by a large audience; as it is not only a novelty in comedy, being a play depicting the refined Hebrew but the vulgar type that has been characterized so much. The characters have been built to fit the individual characteristics of the stars, and the supporting company has been most carefully selected. A pleasing feature of the performance is the introduction of a series of refined specialties by various members of the splendid company.

The Lyman Twin Brothers
At the opera house on Feb. 14. These fun-loving comedians in their 20th century production, "A Merry Chase," will appear and make things decidedly lively with the aid of their large and talented supporting company. Besides the play, which is everywhere recognized as one of the leading and meritorious successes of the age, a cast of coterie of strictly first-class specialists from the Vaudevilles—good singers and clever dancers—have been specially engaged for this season, and after you have witnessed the entire performance, the average audience is said to go home in a merry mood praying for a return visit of these, royal entertainers at an early day. Believing that a crowded house at popular prices is always preferable to a "beggarly account of empty boxes" at high rates, the management has concluded, wisely we think, to offer the following "Bargain Counter" tariff, 35 and 50c. No higher.

ROAD: they are not worrying you. No man can develop the better part of his nature while his feet ache. Aside from making himself disagreeable to others he loses considerable of life's sunshine.
