DOCTOR CALVIN SPEAKS AT NEBRASKA

The Nebraska State Journal prints the following Synopsis of Prof. Calvin's Lecture Recently Delivered at Nebraska.

The Nebraska State Journal prints a full synopsis of Prof. Calvin's lecture recently delivered at the University of Nebraska, the charter day exercises of the university this year was the illustrated lecture before the Sigma Xi society by Prof. Samuel Calvin of the Iowa state university. The lecture was a little late to begin, due to the banquet at the Linnelet. As soon as the members of the society arrived President Sweazy introduced the lecturer who with his interesting subject soon dispelled all signs of fatigue that were manifested by some before the arrival of the honored guest. Prof. Calvin's lecture proved to be a very interesting one to most of his large audience. A brief discussion was given on the general geography and probable origin of the great ice sheet which now covers the state. He then went on to account for the origin of the great deltaic deposits of Nebraska State. At present the state is covered with ice sheets and ice bergs and is covered with ice sheeting the northern part of the state. The result is that there is an abundance of good material greater than ever before in the university. The plan of financial salvation when was first adopted was the sale of season tickets to the fourteen home games at a price of $10 per carload. They may be within the means of the majority of the students. According to the estimates prepared it will take upwards of $400 to pay all expenses and guarantees of the spring games. It was determined then that at least 750 season tickets must be sold in advance and it was upon this understanding that the board undertook to guarantee the football team a full schedule submitted. Of the 750 tickets about 1500 sold to be able to guarantee 750, and the commercial club will probably sell more. It is thought that 75 more can be sold to faculty members and instructors, leaving 200 yet to be sold to students.

Entered at the post-office at Iowa City, Iowa, as second class mail matter, Oct. 11, 1901.

Those who are interested in the game of basketball will learn with regret that the lack of substantial support has made it necessary to cancel the Augustana game. The university has today the best team that has ever been trained here and it is exceedingly fortunate that the interest in the game is not general enough among the students to warrant the scheduling of games on the local floor.

Honorable Sidney Foster's plan to have the American athletes compete by states at the Olymp-ian Games would result in some very pretty contests and we doubt not but that the older colleges of the east would be hard pressed to defend their laurels. Many of the finest of the eastern athletes are western bred men.

After having been used to drag-gging their feet out of the shifting sands of the Minnesota track, the "gophers" will doubtless be able to put foot to cinder at a pretty pace on the Iowa track next spring.

Judge Cheever of Michigan does come to the conclusion that there is a tendency toward overwork in the modern professional colleges. We admit that there may be an occasional offender but the majority are not so inclined.

In view of the disastrous "developments" the day of and even two days after the first release of the inmates of the Bowman house, it is fair to presume that the few now in custody will enjoy the full limit of the law as regards time before they again are given freedom.

And such a poor state, too. The question presents itself, is she really able to buy a thing so very old and so terribly out of keeping with modern notions as the books tell us is the same ichthyosaur.

With the party bosses making daily examinations of the class records these must be trying times, indeed, for those third year men who fail to rank as juniors in the registrar's book.

Speaking of odes, recalls a certain composition in some circles dubbed the "university song." Many last one have a longer life and a less tragic end.

And now is the pleasant babbling of the (B)rooks heard no more hereabouts.

If your good will must be physically expressed put it on the other arm.

How About Your Feet

HOPP they are not worrying you. No man can develop the better part of his nature while his feet ache. Aside from making himself disagreeable to others he loses considerable of life’s sunshine. It gets right by him—he is busy thinking about those feet. Its good business to buy shoes intelligently. The Walk-Over Shoe is the smartest shoe for men on the market. They wear longest and look best and they feel broken in from the start. They cost $3.50 and $4.00 and are for sale here—can’t get them anywhere else in town—come and see them.
