IOWA MEETS DEFEAT

Debaters Lose Decision in a Hard and Close Contest in Enemy's Territory

The Iowa debaters met defeat at the hands of Minnesota's champions at Minneapolis last night. The decision of the three judges was two to one in favor of the Gophers. The Minneapolis dailies refer to the debate as the best ever held at Minnesota University. The audience numbered nearly one thousand and the enthusiasm manifested was of the most earnest sort. One who heard the debate says, "The Minnesota men all far excelled any of their previous records and the closeness of the debate may be arrived at when it is known that Dr. Francis E. McVey, a Minnesota professor and the residing official, was the first judge for the degree congratulated the Iowa team on having won the debate." The best of treatment was accorded our men and while the large audience was running over with enthusiasm for its own team yet the Iowa speakers filled forth their discourse as they with force of argument put to naught some point of the opposing team.

If Morals are a QUESTION OF DIET

As is urged by some who have made a study of the subject it is evident that the grocery merchant occupies a position of so small responsibility, for you depend more or less upon the judgment and conscience of your grocer for the selection of the food which you consume.

Barth, the Grocer, takes particular pride in selecting for his trade the cleanest and most wholesome foods to be found anywhere upon the market.

Amusements
The stage of the Opera House will swarm the night of Monday, April 7th, with Russian military men, ladies of title, and all the myriad of people that enter into the cast of Russo-Si-erian play. The offering will be a new and act melodrama.
For Her Sake, a dramatic tale of love, intrigue and treachery—a play which according to things told of it in other cities where it has been seen, contains about as many thrills to the minute as any piece on the road. It is said to be enriched with some lively and original comedy effects.
Bussy Brou's grand revival of Ten Nights in a Bar Room makes one of the grandest events of this season's theatricals. A play clothed with many new features, new ideas and new effects makes it the generation of today a new and most entertaining production. At opera house tomorrow night.
