ONE-FIFTH MILL BUILDING TAX BILL PASSES HOUSE

Des Moines, April 4, Special.
The University bill providing for the one-fifth mill building tax for the university passed the house this morning by a vote of 66 to 0. This bill passed repeals the one-tenth of a mill tax levied by the Twenty-Eighth General Assembly of the state. The bill provides for the erection, repair and improvement of such necessary buildings as shall be determined by the board of regents there shall be levied annually for five years a special tax of one-fifth mill. The bill requires now but the signature of the governor and publication in the Register and Leader to become a law.

A bill for a one-fifth mill building tax for Ames and one providing for a one-tenth mill tax for the Normal school received also the sanction of the house this morning.

TRAINING THE ATHLETES

Track and Baseball Men Getting Busy at the Baseball Park—Cultural College

Dr. Knipe has taken up the work of training the varsity candidates in a way that means business and the players are delighted. It means winning teams this spring. The coach is in good health and prepared for the hard work before him during the coming season. Much attention is devoted to the track team, which means that if crippled or physically incapacitated the team they will have the benefit of the best training possible.

More candidates are needed now for the track team. Every student must turn out and do something. Iowa must win the state meet—every student must get that idea firmly in his mind and do all he can to win in that meet. There should be hundred and fifty men in the track team for the meet that is to be held every hour of the afternoon instead of tens and twenties. Every man must have a try for the university and do all he can to give the best athletes. There is not a special class of students by themselves that do not inherit their gifts or responsibilities. Everyone is doing his part and everyone is doing his share. There is the making of an athlete in every man in the university for all comers. Practice will mean a track team that will break all records, as well as the present champions. This has been demonstrated countless times—what every Iowa student wants to do is to demonstrate it himself.

The season ticket canvassers for the baseball team haven’t already appeared for practice should do so tomorrow afternoon. Saturday is a good time to begin. Form the resolution to try for the team, put in practice and stick to it. You won’t be sorry and the university will be very glad. That sort of thing from every able-bodied man in the university will mean a track team that will break all records, as well as the present champions. The season ticket canvassers will meet coach Knipe at his office in Liberal Arts Hall at 7 o’clock sharp this evening. The baseball situation will be gone over and a report to the board of control prepared. Dr. Knipe will speak briefly.

The baseball candidates have turned out nicely. A few more are needed for the needs of the team. The baseball room is open to all comers. Practice begins after 7 o’clock.

No More "La"

The postoffice department has issued a bulletin asking that the name of the state of Iowa shall never be abbreviated in addressing letters, as it has so often led to mistakes in the distribution of mail. It is explained that the abbreviation "Ia." might be mistaken for Indians, while the abbreviation "Io." might be mistaken for Idaho, those abbreviations being used in those states as much as they are in Iowa. No one ever gained anything by the use of abbreviations. The suggestion is one well worth heeding and practicing.

One of the neatest window displays in the city, and one of the most timely just now, is that of Harry E. Clapp's "smokehouse". It consists of a large group of photographs of Iowa celebrities—winning teams and others—of the past several years.
