The annual junior class debate between Irving Literary and Zeta gathan society was held in the hall of liberal arts last evening and resulted in a unanimous victory for Irving. The question was stated: Resolved, that reciprocity is a better means of modiyfing our national protective pol-cy than a reduction in the tariff.
The question was affirmed for Irving by Messrs. L. I. Reed, W. C.
Harley, and G. G. Riniker, and Edmundson and E. J. Shanahan.
Mr. Reed in opening the debate for Irving argued that our positioned after war control power had become such as to make it necessary to combat the shorter export and hence a decrease in the them. The United States will be able to compete for certain clean and open foreign markets by a term of reciprocity.
Mr. Henry argued and asked that reciprocity as tried with many nations has not increased our exports but has rather decreased them. Such a policy is uneconomic and would result in the extinguishment of our surplus foreign commerce.
Mr. Edmundson in continuing for the negative argued that in the case of some nations the wasted reciprocity, reciprocity would avail us nothing, as the bulk of our exports to such countries are already on free list. The decrease of our exports to France in 1901 was in products which are already on free or minimum tax list, hence affirmative's policy would not extend our exports.
Mr. Hill in the most effective speech of the evening showed that while defendant had argued against reciprocity they had not shown how a reduction of tariff would produce better results.
Hard times and panics have followed after every raise in the tax. One noted example of the adverse effect of the liquor industries by such a reduction is the immense decline in the sheep business in Canada from the levies bill. The Dillingey bill re-established the tariff and the business went up.
Reciprocity is better than simply a reduction of tariff, because for some nations it is a new get something in return; we choose the nation with which we trade because it is the more just system of competition and because reciprocity having secured a market abroad, guards and protects it again.
New foreign discrimination by prohibiting the foreigner from raising his tariff.
Mr. Shanahan for the negative declared that reciprocity did not secure the consumer but it cattered only to the trust while a decrease in tariff lessens price to the consumer and forces trusts to compete in open markets.
Messrs. Edmundson and Henry disclosed the argument for their respective sides and the work of the team of the affirmative.
He forcibly reiterated the points made by the affirmative and then called to the attention the weak points of the defense.
The judges were Dr. Samuel Calvin, and Professors F. H.
Macbride and I. A. Loos and their verdict was three for the affirmative.

CANDIDATES NEEDED

Track Team Must Have More Candidates—Juniors and Sophomores Must Turn Out Regularly

The track team needs more candidates than those trying out good for their team. Each man only can be fitted for his place in the state meet this year.
He has to do his duty and turn out every day.

The home meet will be in four weeks. In that time every man who turns out regularly will have ample opportunity to develop his self. Dr. Knipe must have many men who can be selected on the test of their ability in the home meet and afterwards.

Messrs. Edmundson and Fraternity will be of our men.

ATHLETIC MEETING

The Postponed Athletic Meeting will be Held Thursday evening.

The athletic meeting which was postponed from Monday evening out of respect to Dean Middletone, will be held Thursday evening, April 9th at 7:00 o'clock sharp. This early hour will be of great advantage to finish the Wisconsin-Iowa debate, and may be of interest to all who are interested should stay away. Dr. Knipe has some important things which he wishes to say to all candidates for the track team and any man who expects to engage in any sort of athletic contest this spring can certainly learn something that will be of benefit to him. Prof. A. G. Smith will also give a talk. Remember the date and hour and don't fail to be there.
