Ringling Menagerie

The Seniors' Consolidated Threering Circus Given Last Night—
Will Probably Go to Canada

Last evening in the gymnasium at Close Hall occurred the Grand Show on Earth; the Seniors' Consolidated Three Ring-Circus. The event was a delightful one to all present. Quite early in the evening Uncle Sfax Uprising and Aunt Sem with their three children arrived and took in the whole show, while Uncle Si stole shy of the confidence man with the shell game. Amos Hardacre and his family were there and enjoyed the spectacle immensely.

The side shows were the first of the big circus to be extended to the public. Here. Casaday, the wild boy, appeared in all his glory and was one of the greatest stars of the evening. "Trybly" the "horse of ages" proved a veritable ghost piece in another side show. The Siamese twins, the small dress, and "Joe the Dog-Faced Boy" kept the crowd in constant laughter. Their "Useful Mobile" was a special feature. The clowns assisted to amuse, and the animal stunts were performed in a barrel, performed feats in amusing that would have done credit to Ringlings. Kimson the Fat Man also bumbled.

Red lemonade, sandwiches, chewing gum, peanuts, etc., were sold on the grounds. Nearly all the seniors were present. Two very young ladies who belong to other classes, being desirous of seeing the performance, were admitted. Before the main performance began, a committee of seniors removed their coats and were allowed to see the show, after which, it is needless to say, they withdrew without further ceremony.

The whole affair was so successful that there is much talk among the seniors of presenting the circus before the public in a greatly enlarged scale at some future date.

The fact that the class cannot this year give their annual Senior play adds might to the probability of the show being further developed and opened to the public some time at the last of the term. It may be given spr. commencement week in the largest tent that will be used for the graduation exercises.

The museum force of the University of Michigan are engaged at this classifying and cataloguing of the year's collection of insects, which is exhibiting the different species and some of the development. An attempt will be made, this year, to obtain definite information as to all insects native to that locality.

William H. Maxwell Died

William H. Maxwell, who reaches the university this morning, has been Win. H. Maxwell, who about three weeks ago left his Detroit home, where he was in his office, was shot in the leg by a railroad agent, and was taken to the hospital, where he died yesterday at his home in Avoca. Win. H. Maxwell graduated from the high school last spring and entered the university last fall, entering as a freshman in the Phi. B. course.

Regents Meeting

The board of regents will hold a called meeting Friday for the purpose of purchasing new land for the university and also to locate and formulate plans for the new medical building.

The university building committee will meet tomorrow.

The freshmen collegians and the freshman dean have also organized baseball teams.

Irvine will meet the Zetas on the baseball diamond sometime in the near future.

Cornell is trying to raise $40,000 by subscriptions, for a cam- paign.

The seniors of the college of liberal arts have organized a baseball nine and will challenge the team of the factious.

The Wisconsin senior law class has adopted linen, dusters and straw hats instead of the time-honored cap and gown.

The last daily bulletin received at the President's office stated that President Draper of Illinois is slowly recovering from his very severe illness.

Dartmouth, Brown and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology will hold a triangular athletic meet on Soldier's Field.

John D. Rockefeller has given a quarter of a million dollars to Harvard College, upon condition that an additional quarter million be otherwise subscribed.

The deans of the colleges held a meeting this afternoon at 3:30. Directly afterward there occurred a meeting of the University Senate.

Prof. J. R. S. Sterrett, of Cornell, receives the honorary degree LL. D. at the University of Aberdeen, April sixth. The Sen- ate of the University of Edinburgh will confer the honorary degree of LL. D. upon President Schurrman, April tenth.

The distribution of fourteen silver cups, presented by Com- modore Banks, for competition in indoor track and field events, was called forth renewed interest in athletics at the University. The athletic managers have arranged a new business arrangement for the purpose of selling admission, and of entrants to all of the "events" and exhibitions on the home grounds, upon which the admission will be two dollars for the entire season.
