REGENTS MEET

NO LAND PURCHASED FOR MEDICAL BUILDING

Plans for Building to be Drawn by Proudfoot & Bird—Professor Richards Retained—Several Scholarships Granted

Pursuant to the call of the executive committee the board of regents met in special session yesterday for the consideration of special business. With the exception of regent Carroll Wright the members were all in attendance.

The board voted to meet the proposition of the Northwestern Law School and retain the services of Professor H. S. Richards of the college of law.

Realizing the need for haste the board authorized Proudfoot & Bird to draw up plans and specifications for a group of three buildings for the college of medicine. This plan of separating the laboratories in a group of buildings is the one in vogue at the University of Breslau and Johns Hopkins school of medicine and is most favored by the most modern schools of medicine. These three buildings are to be of the most modern type and fireproof throughout.

The options which the president had been requested to get on lands were reviewed but they were of such a character as to render impossible the location of the medical building at this time. No land was purchased and the board authorized further investigations hoping to get suitable land at reasonable prices. The board are determined to get good land at reasonable prices and if this is impossible the buildings will probably be located on land already owned by the institution.

A list of fellows and scholars were appointed upon the recommendation of the graduate council while a number were held over until the June meeting of the board.

Dr. Patrick was given a year's leave of absence for work of investigation in this country and Europe on behalf of the university. He will however retain charge of his department and supervise the work.

Dr. Samuel Calvin was put in charge of instruction in mining engineering.

A final settlement with the Warren Roberts Co. and their creditors was effected at this meeting. The creditors claim which amounted to $22,000 was compromised and a settlement effected whereby the university pays 60 per cent of the claims filed by the creditors. The detailed business was all deferred until the June meeting of the board.

As soon as plans for the new medical buildings are completed, which will be about May 20, a special meeting of the regents will be called to adopt the plans and determine upon the location of the building.

GERMAN EDUCATION

AS A FACTOR IN COMMERCE IS HIGHLY DEVELOPED

Professor Monaghan Says Increase of German-American Trade is Due Commercial Education

Professor Monaghan delivered the last of his series of lectures to a large and appreciative audience in the auditorium last evening. His subject was the "German Commercial, Art and Industrial Education."

All children in Germany are compelled to attend school until fourteen years of age unless excused by the mayor's council, when the child is needed to help the parents. The schools are divided into four kinds, the industrial, art, technical schools and further developing schools. In all of these schools the history of whatever the child is studying is an essential.

The child learns the theoretical part of an industry in the industrial school and then is put in the shop to learn the practical side.

At Dresden within a stone's throw of the royal palace is a school of blacksmithing. If a boy in the industrial school shows special aptitude for art he is immediately placed in the industrial art school and if his talent becomes marked he is sent to Paris to complete his education for the Germans admit that the French lead in art. After he finishes at Paris he comes back to Germany to repay his own people by his work.

The boys work at tables which are the shape of a horseshoe. Six or seven work at one table and at least one skilled workman is at each table to instruct the boys.

The girls are sent to cooking schools. If a farmer's daughter, she is sent to what is called farmers' kitchen and there she learns the art of cooking and economy.

In 1830 two-thirds of the people of Germany lived on the farm and one-third were engaged in commerce and manufacture but today the reverse is true. Germany has become a commercial nation.

Their boys were sent to England to study ship-building. They lived at the yards and mastered every detail of the art and today we have the Deutschland, the fastest ocean liner afloat.

Formerly the Americans went to England to buy goods, but soon discovered that many of the goods bore the label "made in Germany" and as England had placed a tax on all such goods they went to the place of original manufacture and the result is our large trade with Germany.

"Iowa and Wisconsin are bound to become commercial. It is the nature of the people. We will always remain largely agricultural but commercialism is bound to come."

Professor Monaghan in making a correction, desired it understood that though we have the best consular service yet we have not the best consular system. All the continental systems are better than our own.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY

GIVEN BY ALPHA CHI RHO

Local Chapter of Alpha Chi Rho Gives a Beautiful Ball at Smith's Armory—Out of Town Guests Present

The Psi Upsilon of Alpha Chi Rho entertained last evening at Smith's armory with one of the prettiest balls of the season.

The ceiling and stage of the armory were arranged so as to represent a sunburst and the effect was beautiful in the extreme. The effect was obtained by placing incandescent lights in form of a semi-circle on the stage and arranging the ceiling of fire rays back to the north end of the hall. The color scheme used throughout was garnet and white and the entire roof, rafters and walls of the interior were covered with bunting so as to be entirely obscured from view. From the outer edge of the gallery a width of flowered silk was draped in long graceful loops adding much to the general effect produced. Underneath the gallery the walls were hidden with alternate rows of tightly stretched bunting. Easy chairs, cushions, pillows, draperies, cozy corners and all the infinite little things that could help to make the armory a thing of beauty and a place of comfort were there, supplied by the assiduous care of the hosts for the comfort and pleasure of the guests.

The receiving line consisted of the patronesses: Mesdames Hoshford, Bierring, Shambaugh, Burnett and Miss Gregory and the members of the fraternity, Messrs. W. L. Du Boise, G. R. Hayler, Francis Nugent, Harvey L. Dye, Carlisle Swigert, F. H. Luhman, Edmond Monhard, T. C. Doran, J. A. McKenzie, Ed. C. Arthur, Tom C. Smith, Harold B. Strong and John P. Redmond.

The music was furnished by the Beloit Orchestra, of Waterloo, whose rendition of waltz and two-step strains became more and more beautiful as the evening wore on.

The out of town guests present were: Misses Hamilton, Cedar Rapids; Mahanna, Chicago; Ashcraft, Muscatine; Du Bois and Mrs. Du Bois, Rockwell City; Messrs. Thomas A. Kingland, Forest City; Charles P. Hanley, Muscatine; Ed. S. Murphy, Vinton; Guy S. Mannatt, Grinnell; Professor Monaghan, Madison, Wisconsin.

Mr. J. M. Bolinger, ofavenport, an alumnus of the law department, was in the city yesterday.

Professor Samuel Hayes, of the department, did not meet his classes yesterday on account of illness.

The Whitney Society will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. Mr. C. A. Williams will read a paper on the subject "Lessing's Attitude Towards Matters of Theology and Religion."

LAW DEBATING LEAGUE

CONSTITUTION ADOPTED BY BOTH SOCIETIES

Hammond Law Senate and Forum Join Forces in the Forensic Field—Nominations for League Officers Made

Last evening the report of the joint committee on constitution, consisting of Messrs. H. Negus, E. J. VanNess and G. Claussen of the Forum and E. C. Arthur, G. H. Murray and J. A. McKenzie of the Senate was adopted by both societies. This action adopts the constitution of committee together with a later amendment concerning the distribution of debaters for the final debate.

Iowa's law department has long needed such a representative as a debating league and the members of the Forum and Senate are to be complimented upon the loyal aims and excellent success of their movement. The law students of other universities have long since been contesting in inter-collegiate debates, and it is no more than just to expect to see Iowa's Blackstones in the race for forensic honors. The student body now look forward to the time when our Clays, Lincolns and Websters shall win new laurels for their college and university.

Nominations for officers of the league to hold office till November were also made, the constitution providing that the officers shall be elected annually in alternation, two from each society. From the Senate, J. A. McKenzie was nominated as president and G. P. Linville, secretary; from the Forum, C. I. Kelso, treasurer, and E. J. Van Ness, corresponding secretary.

As the inter-society freshman debate is to be held about May 8, the selection of debaters for the preliminary will probably be deferred until after that time.

Professor Richards to Remain

The students of the college of law will be pleased to learn that Professor Harry Sanger Richards will remain at his present position in the University of Iowa. The Northwestern Law School which has recently been reorganized recognized in Professor Richards a very able and desirable man and to induce him to leave Iowa, his alma mater, they offered him a tempting position on their faculty with a considerable advance in salary.

While the proposition was being taken under consideration by Professor Richards, and the law students were becoming anxious lest he might decide to leave, the board regents came to the rescue, met the proposition of the Chicago school and the Professor will continue to work at Iowa.

Through thorough and efficient service Professor Richards has become deservedly popular at Iowa, and it will be with pleasure that his students learn that the board has been able to induce him to continue his work here.

Entered at the post-office at Iowa City, Iowa, as second class mail matter, Oct. 11, 1901.

The freshmen have made their debut in field athletics this afternoon and the abilities of the new squad have been shown up. Now that they have once been introduced into athletic society, it behooves them to show themselves more than worthy of their first effort and go into the work with zest from now on. The home meets are not far distant and Iowa must show there some material which will send the other teams scurrying to their holes.

Since Professor Monaghan has given it as his opinion that college graduates with newspaper training are and of a right ought to be eligible for and worthy of any position in the diplomatic service, there will undoubtedly be a large accession to the editorial staff of more than one college paper in this and adjoining states.

From her actions in the ball park last evening, even poor deluded Nature is beginning to believe that Iowa men are so loyal to their athletics that a high board fence is entirely unnecessary to keep them from seeing exhibitions of university athletics for which they do not pay.

The Daily Cardinal says, "Twenty men are out at Iowa for spring foot-ball practice." Yes, Cardinal, and if Iowa don't give Wisconsin an excellent exhibit in drawing victory out of defeat, we'll fire our soothsayer, go back on astrology, and throw our dream book into the furnace.

Stuart Robson, the famous actor, lectured to the students of Wisconsin, Wednesday evening.

Professors Mechem and Wilgus two of Michigan's law faculty are considering offers for similar positions in Chicago university.

Minnesota's freshmen wear caps and sunbonnets for the remainder of the year. The sunbonnets proposed are of an orange and black combination.—Ex. We should think a brighter shade of green more appropriate.

Some Oddities on Canvas

Mr. W. J. Teeters, of the pharmacy department, while reading a paper before the Baconian last evening, showed by the aid of a stereoptican some peculiar specimens of prescriptions, one, the oldest at present in existence, being written about 550 B. C. in Egyptian hieratic script. The prescriptions of literature, as pictured by the poet and novelist, are vague and mysterious, handy in hiding the density of their ignorance and killing off characters. Latin, now universally used in prescription writing, admits of no ambiguity. Eternal vigilance is the price of accuracy, safety and life itself in this work. The ownership of the prescription should, and often does pass directly from the physician to the pharmacist.

Our only requirement is satisfactory references as to the applicant's integrity.

$30 A WEEK is a fair sum for an energetic man or woman to make. We will send full particulars to all interested if when applying this paper is mentioned. There is no limit to the number of men and women we can employ; as we cover the whole country—particularly in cities of from 10,000 to 50,000. There is a further chance of future permanent salaried position to those who show special merit in this line of work.
