OHIO SCARED MICHIGAN

Bailey's Nearly Carried Wherry and St. John of Their Feet in the Finals for the Western Tennis Championship

The University of Michigan won the western college tennis championship in doubles and singles at Kirkwood courts, Chicago, Thursday. Wherry and St. John of Michigan won the doubles from J. T. and Ed. Danforth of the Iowa club. Both the singles were won by the Michigan players off their feet. The Michigan team was slow in getting its game, and before the Iowa men woke up the Iowans had given a h 있게-seven-in-the-first match and held them to three games in the second.

A score of 0-0 in the first set won 0-4, 4-2, 4-2, 4-2, 4-2, 2-4, 5, 3, 4, 4-2, 1-0. The last game was the hardest fought of any during the whole tournament. The score went to the Iowa men in the first and fourth sets, the latter side being able to get the decision. Until the end of the St. Bailey drove one of Wherry's shoves into the net.

It had been expected that Danforth would play in the finals with Wherry, but the morning's match against Proctor had tired him and St. John took his place. The work done by the latter was marked as a "viceroy" in the western intercollegiate tournament. The match was close and interesting throughout. Wherry's quickness at the net and St. John's strength and speed in the air resulting in the best work almost being done by the steadiness and "good getting" powers of the Iowans.

The Editors of the Ames Student know a gentlemanly baseball team when they see one and have Iowa's men down on their list. After editorially approving of the appliance with which the Ames rooters greeted the good games of our men there is an added sentiment in which the Iowa heartily concurs: "We believe the best rooting is the encouragement of our own team rather than any attempt in roaming the visitors:"

The fact that this morning nearly fifty candidates took the entrance examinations in English preparatory for next fall augurs well for next year's freshman class. Iowa is growing and the graduates of the high schools, academies and seminaries are well aware that this growth is healthy and steady, not of the mushroom variety. They know that they will not fossilize in the university, and are anxious to take advantage of it.

If Morals are a QUESTION of DIET

As is urged by some who have made a study of the subject then it is evident that the grocery merchant occupies a position of no small responsibility, for you depend more on his expert judgment and conscience of your grocer for the selection of the food which you consume.

Barth, the Grocer, takes particular pride in selecting for his trade the clearest and most wholesome foods to be found anywhere at any reasonable mark.

two tents with nothing beneath him but aillow.

The main show will begin at seven o'clock instead of six as pre­ viously announced. Music, under the experienced directorship of Guy Manutt, will be furnished by a band of thirty-five pieces. Dur­ ing the performance, a concert specialty will also be given by Huffy Short, Molly Muff and Fatt­ y Felix, who will do the clog in the true histrionic style.

The program will open with a grand and glorious entry, wherein the entire circus troupe will ap­ pear in a gorgeous tournament. Following this will come the brothers O'Brien, the eight premier tumblers, head-to-head and hand-to-hand balancers, past­ masters in the art; Dodo, Ph. B., the educated elephant, absolute­ ly the biggest beast on earth, holding a collegiate degree and a special certificate in mathematics, as well as being the king of the trick elephants of the universe; the Tumbling brothers, experts on the horizontal and paral­ lel bars is stupendous stunning stunts; Mose Butler, Bud Brack­ ett, and Poor Old, three jolly clowns from whom the faculty are expecting a fineshade.

Our heads aches and we must stop to take a new hold. Short in his lumbering gives a thou­ sand dollar challenge exhibition of nerve and daring, which will fully justify the fact that he is retained at a salary of $300 per week. Then appear the living pictures by the senior girls, nat­ ural as life, only more so; happy Holligan, the all-round trouble hunter; Mon­ tague, the champion­ woman rifle-shot of the solar system; Alice Best, the artistic tight rope dancer; brothers Rouller on the double trapeze in extraordinary and amazing feats of equipoise and strength, among other things making the leap for life; a Sioux Indian war-dance by members of the tribe; Fatty Funston in an attempt at tight rope walk; Mose Butler in a stunt with the trick donkey; an automobile race; and Topayy Turveys, china springing board ex­ perts, in a terrible dive over the whole menagerie.
