THE DAILY IOWAN

VOL. 2
IOWA CITY, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1895.

Lecture Course

Famous Men Coming

Burt Cochran and William Jennings Bryan among the Number—Statement by the Management—No Lecture Course

No lecture course ever offered in Iowa City promises to be so popular, to furnish such uniform pleasure and to maintain such a high order of excellence as the State University lecture and Reading Course for the coming season. We shall hear comedies never before given here such as "Nanoe Oldfield," by Chas. Reade; "My Lady's Ring," by Alice Brown, written especially for Miss Events and as yet unpublished; and Lord Chumley by Belasco and DeMille with its ten characters and uninterrupted flow of wit. Tragedy will be represented by the new French play "L'Aiglon" and by "Hamlet." Monsieur Beaucaille by Booth Tarkington is a story which Richard Mansfield has made famous and that noble poem "The Spanish Gypsy," the list of entertaining performances needed.

New Lecture Course is announced for the coming season. Samuel Arthur King will lecture on the ten characters and interrupted flow of wit. Tragedy will be represented by the new French play "L'Aiglon" and by "Hamlet." Monsieur Beaucaille by Booth Tarkington is a story which Richard Mansfield has made famous and that noble poem "The Spanish Gypsy," the list of entertaining performances needed.

To Be Kappa Sigs

The Iowan has it on the best authority that the Kappa Sigma Colony at the University of Iowa will become Kappa Sigma Sigma and that the installation will take place Saturday. It has been announced that future Kappa Sigs have moved into the Porter property on Bluff Street, which has been completely remodelled and overhauled for them and will make them a delightful fraternity home in every way.

Dean Jepson

New Dean Inaugurated

Pres. McLean asks Medics to Help Jolly up the Convocation this Afternoon—Mike's Advice to Future Physicians

The faculty and students of the college of medicine assembled this morning at eight o'clock in the amphitheater of the medical building. The rising students assembled first and proceeded to initiate the verdant "fresh" by passing them down, after which the faculty came in for their part. President McLean opened the meeting by reminding his hearers that this was the beginning of the 46th year of the college of medicine, a college with a grand past, great present, and a greater future.

He introduced Dean Guthrie who said in part:

"The student will welcome; all welcome to a season of earnest, uniting, devoted work; to a season of study, of development, of evolution. There is no room for the idle. He that doth progress of the high side of advancement must be up and doing with all earnestness. The evolution that has taken place in the last 15 years along the line of medical education is more marked than that of any other branch of education. "By means of higher entrance requirements and longer undergraduate courses, the overcrowding which is complained of in the medical profession will be cured. Adaptability to a profession is one of the greatest requirements to success in that line. Civility, unconsciously economy of time, duty, devotion and ambition, with a life devoted to truth, will lead the student to the heights of his profession."

Introduced by Dean Guthrie Mr. J. J. McCollintock elected lecturer on physiology, devoted a few moments to the eulogy of his department. Dean Guthrie then introduced a newly elected professor of surgery, Dr. William Jepson, of Chicago, who was forced to read his address owing to the shortness of the notification given.

New Professors

Members of the Faculties

Promotions and Appointments Made Forty-nine Changes in the Faculty—All But Ten New Names

To add to the excitement of the coming season tickets, Mr. Cochran, M. A., making an appeal for list of entertaining performances needed.

By Appointment

James Renwick Guthrie, B. S. M. A., Lenox; B. S., M. D.; Iowa; Dean of College of Medicine.

William Jepson, B. S., M. D., L. R. C. S., Prof. of Surgery in the College of Medicine.

Frederick J. Becker, M. D., '88, Acting Professor of Theory and Practice, in the College of Homoeopathic Medicine.

B. R. Johnson, M. D., Acting Professor of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women, in the George V. I. Brown, A. M.; M. D.; C. M. D. S., Special Lecturer in Dental Pathology and Oral Surgery.

W. D. Peirce, Ph. B., Cornell; Ph. D., Yales, 1907; Instructor in History.

Margaret A. Schaffner, M. A. Ph. D., Wisconsin; Instructor in Sociology and Economics.

Frank E. Horak B. Ph. Ph., M. A. Iowa; Ph. D., Penn., Instructor in Political Science.

J. Percival Hugheft, M. D., Instructor in Education, and Acting University Examiner.

L. D. Niles, B.S., M.D., Michigan; Instructor in Chemistry, College of Medicine.

Benton A. Small, D.D.S., Demonstrator in the College of Dentistry.

Harriette G. Holt, B. Ph. '97, Iowa, Assistant Instructor in English.

Bryoum Jembert, B. Ph. B. S. in C. '91, Iowa, Instructor in Civil Engineering.

Mary G. Chawner, B. A., Petaluma, California.

Theodore J. Saan, B. A. Lenox; Fellow in History.

Pletcher Briggs, B. Ph., Iowa; Fellow in German.

Arthur H. Vandal, Ph. C., Michigan; Fellow in Chemistry in College of Medicine.

To Future Students

Admission to School

The facilities and students of the college of medicine assembled this morning at eight o'clock in the amphitheater of the medical building. The rising students assembled first and proceeded to initiate the verdant "fresh" by passing them down, after which the faculty came in for their part. President McLean opened the meeting by reminding his hearers that this was the beginning of the 46th year of the college of medicine, a college with a grand past, great present, and a greater future.

He introduced Dean Guthrie who said in part:

"The student will welcome; all welcome to a season of earnest, uniting, devoted work; to a season of study, of development, of evolution. There is no room for the idle. He that doth progress of the high side of advancement must be up and doing with all earnestness. The evolution that has taken place in the last 15 years along the line of medical education is more marked than that of any other branch of education. "By means of higher entrance requirements and longer undergraduate courses, the overcrowding which is complained of in the medical profession will be cured. Adaptability to a profession is one of the greatest requirements to success in that line. Civility, unconsciously economy of time, duty, devotion and ambition, with a life devoted to truth, will lead the student to the heights of his profession."

Introduced by Dean Guthrie Mr. J. J. McCollintock elected lecturer on physiology, devoted a few moments to the eulogy of his department. Dean Guthrie then introduced a newly elected professor of surgery, Dr. William Jepson, of Chicago, who was forced to read his address owing to the shortness of the notification given.

New Dean Inaugurated

Prof. Jepson Speaks

Pres. McLean asks Medics to Help Jolly up the Convocation this Afternoon—Mike's Advice to Future Physicians

The faculty and students of the college of medicine assembled this morning at eight o'clock in the amphitheater of the medical building. The rising students assembled first and proceeded to initiate the verdant "fresh" by passing them down, after which the faculty came in for their part. President McLean opened the meeting by reminding his hearers that this was the beginning of the 46th year of the college of medicine, a college with a grand past, great present, and a greater future.

He introduced Dean Guthrie who said in part:

"The student will welcome; all welcome to a season of earnest, uniting, devoted work; to a season of study, of development, of evolution. There is no room for the idle. He that doth progress of the high side of advancement must be up and doing with all earnestness. The evolution that has taken place in the last 15 years along the line of medical education is more marked than that of any other branch of education. "By means of higher entrance requirements and longer undergraduate courses, the overcrowding which is complained of in the medical profession will be cured. Adaptability to a profession is one of the greatest requirements to success in that line. Civility, unconsciously economy of time, duty, devotion and ambition, with a life devoted to truth, will lead the student to the heights of his profession."

Introduced by Dean Guthrie Mr. J. J. McCollintock elected lecturer on physiology, devoted a few moments to the eulogy of his department. Dean Guthrie then introduced a newly elected professor of surgery, Dr. William Jepson, of Chicago, who was forced to read his address owing to the shortness of the notification given.
We left off. Part have

A university unused to any

"My advice to all students and es-

'"My advice to all students and es-

THE DEAN’S ADVICE

"My advice to all students and es-

Greeting

After three months we gather

To new and old, THE IOWAN

gives greeting. May the year

May the year bring you pleasure and knowl-

e edge and all the good things you expect of it! THE IOWAN—while working under a different editor-in-chief retains its purpose and object unchanged. We quote from Vol. 1, No. 1 of Sept. 29, 1892.

"It shall be the aim of THE IOWAN to publish unbiased the news of the University; to represent each and every college;

and to further the interest of the whole by every honest and launderable means."

All of the above applies as well this year as last.

The editorial board were proud of the success of last year’s.

IOWAN. Starting out a new daily
Walter H. Wilson, a banker of Chicago, has presented the University of Chicago, with a library of 1200 volumes of literature on athletics to be placed in their new gymnasium. Most of the books are in German and formerly were the property of Dr. Carl Euler of Berlin.

President Charles Kendall Adams, of the University of Wisconsin, passed away on July 26. The remains were interred at Redlands, California, where President Adams had a residence. By his will, his property after the death of his wife, goes to the university which he served so long, to be maintained as a separate fund, known as the President Adams fellowship fund. The estate was valued at $150,000.

Professor Harry S. Richards read a paper before the section on taxation of Iowa State Bar Association which met at Dubuque on July 10. Prof. Richards treated the subject “Ought we to have a change in the law exempting from taxation monies and credits and other property which can be easily concealed.”

Oratorio Society

The Oratorio Society will hold its first meeting for the year on Tuesday evening, at 7:00 o’clock in the general lecture room of the college of liberal arts. All students interested in oratorio music and chorus singing are invited to attend.

BERTHA G. RIDGWAY, Vice Pres.

Special Notices

Our Suit prices will save you money. Come and see.

Coast & Son

We are sole agents for the Ultra Ladies Fine Shoes.

The Boston Shoe Store 35-wk.

Is your or doubt buy your winter suit and overcoat here. Coast & Son

White and Fancy Vests to please every fancy. Coast & Son

The new fall hats are ready— see you at $1 to $3. Coast & Son.

You can’t beat our $1 Shirts. Coast & Son.

There’s no reason why you should not be dressed in new ideas. Come here for your shirts, ties, gloves, hosery, etc.

Coast & Son

Buy your Walk Over Shoe.

The Boston Shoe Store 35-wk.

Stewart & Son are showing the greatest line of good shoes we have ever seen here.

3-31

Long Kee

Chinese Laundry

First class work guaranteed

Stiff bowers shirts 50c Soft Shirts 8c Colors 8c Chins 40c

The Educational Exchange

Helps college students secure positions as teachers in Iowa and the Northwestern States. For particulars address

Henry, SARIN, Des Moines, Iowa, Manhattan Blvd. 112

The Annual Lecture and Reading Course

Orators and Artists of the First Rank

ARTISTS

LILLIAN T. POWERS

KATHERINE JEWELL HERBET

BERTHA KURE BAKER

SARAH ANDREW JENSEN

E. BURKE CHOCMAN

W.R. JENKINS BROWN

Each artist gives two readings

Ten Splendid Entertainments

(Nine Guaranteed)

Course Tickets 85c at Winsch’s.

To the first three hundred students purchasing tickets for the course, two extra tickets will be given enabling them to attend free of charge two lectures by Samuel Arthur King. These lectures are not included in the course.

THE LELAND CAFE

The New Book and Stationery Store

THE IOWA is the only Book Store not in Combination with the old stores

THE IOWA will and does give the Students the best values and makes the lowest prices on all kinds of Merchandise that the Student use in their school work.

Remember—By patronizing THE IOWA you will foster Low Prices.

Text Books For the College of Liberal Arts, Medicine, Dentistry and Pharmacy.

You are Invited to Call and Examine the New Stock and Low Prices

John T. Ries, Pro.
New Dean Inaugurated

him that he would be expected to deliver one. Prof. Jepson’s words conveyed the deepest and most beautiful thoughts and were illustrated with several magnificent figures. His delivery was unfortunately not so charming. A few of his thoughts were:

“There are some traits that might be called the foundation stones of professional success. These are: do all things in the best possible manner, inexactness in any business bards the same habits in greater ones. Economize your time, have a sacred reverence for your obligations; observe sobriety; be a gentleman in every sense. It is becoming more than a hope that many of the diseases which are now incurable will yield to our efforts. In every department of medicine advancements are being made at a phenomenal pace. We all of us have ideals, and to those of you who have known Prof. Middleton permit me to say that you cannot do better than emulate his great character.”

Best fountain drinks—home made candies and finest line of fancy pastry in the city.

Mabel R. Morgan will conduct a dancing school and assembly on Saturday evening, Oct. 4th. Inspection 7:30 to 9:00 assembly 9:12.

Don’t forget the number—16 S Clinton street. It’s for you.

Prof. Richard’s family now consists of three. A new Richards arrived during the summer, who is the most important member of the trio.

Brandy cordials, creme de menthe, Brazil, Pecan and walnut creams and all kinds of home made candies at University Place.

Have you seen those Patent Leathers that Stewart & Son warrant to wear well? They are a good proposition.

We want you to come and see our line of Gym shoes.

Stewart & Son

See the new Fall Oxfords at Stewart & Son.

Eat Jayne’s home made candies, why not? University Place.

Iowa Vocal Institute

C. JAY SMITH, Director

College and Dubuque Streets, Iowa City

This school offers the finest vocal lessons in the state and instrumental lessons much superior to the average conservatory.

Iowa City Maennerchor

C. J. SMITH, Director

This club solicits men with good voices, students or residents, the director has an experience of nineteen years as a special teacher of singing including six years in Chicago and seven years in Iowa City.

Ladies Dining Parlor

The new up-to-date Cafe of the town is now open and extends a cordial welcome to all students—ladies and gentlemen. The waiters there, are accommodating and polite, and nothing is left undone which would add to the comfort of the patrons. An excellent place to lunch after the theatre or parties.

BON TON CAFE

University of Iowa--Official Timekeepers

HANDS & THORNBERRY 185 College St.