FIRST SCRIMMAGE

VARSITY DEFENSE WEAK

Large Crowd Witness the First Line-up of the Season—Fast Snappy Ball Played

Yesterday, before a crowd of students which half filled the bleachers, the varsity tried its first work in defense, and it would not take any one who saw the work done, two guesses, to hit the fact that the men have had three weeks hard practice on offense but are just beginning to learn their defensive game now.

When the first team had the ball they gained at will on the scrubs, the guards opening up holes in the scrub line and Ochiltree going over it for short gains. Smashes off end seldom failed to net several yards and Durkee ran around the outside for good distances more than once. In about twenty minutes play the varsity pushed the pigskin over the opposite goal line threetimes.

But on defensive, the tale was, as was to be expected, a different one. The line men were slow to charge and the scrubs frequently got the jump on them. The first team men seemed too, to like to stand up and get well fixed to be pushed around. The scrubs were able to make short gains between end and tackle and gained their distance more than once on their opponents.

For the hard-rub boys, Mack at end and McGowan at tackle put up excellent games. McGowan, by the way seems equally at home at football or class scrapping, being good at both. Atkinson showed up well at guard on the first team and Donovan kept him pretty close company. Durkee played a good fast game at half back.

The remainder of the week to a large extent, will be devoted to improving the varsity defense, and getting ready for the Normal game Saturday, for of course the teachers from Cedar Falls would not be at all loath to carry back with them a Hawkeye scalp if the chance offered, and Doc Pell has probably told them that it will not be hard to do, besides telling them many other things about the game.

PHILO-OCTAVES

Give an Entertainment for the Freshmen

The Philomathian and Octave Thanet societies gave their annual reception to the new students last evening. A short program consisting of vocal solos by Miss Murray, and Messrs Jackson and Rodgers, and a piano solo by Miss Buffum was given.

Everybody enjoyed a trip around the world, Mr. Swaggart being the best journeyman and world trotter, was awarded the prize. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

Physical Culture

The physical culture classes met for the first time today. All the apparatus has not yet arrived so that real work cannot begin before next week. The women seem pleased over the prospects. It is what they have long desired. But two or three have thus far asked to be excused. Miss Kastman, who has charge of physical training for women comes here from Cambridge, Massachusetts. She is a graduate of Dr. Sargent's "School of Physical Culture" at Harvard. She brings to her work both training and enthusiasm.

NEW PHYSICS HALL

INTERIOR REMODELLED

Department of Physics Now Has All Three Floors in Old North Hall Now Called "Hall of Physics"

The changes and improvements in physics hall to which reference was made in last night's IOWAN consist of an almost complete remodelling of the interior of the building.

The old lecture room has been divided into three small rooms which will be used, one for the protometer room and the other two for the office and private laboratory of Professor Veblen. The second floor contains the new lecture room which will seat almost 200 persons, and a recitation room with seating capacity for thirty-five. Back of the lecture room which is fitted up for stere-optican work, is the apparatus and preparation room. In the southeast corner of this floor is a dark room for photographic work and the remainder of the space is devoted to a large laboratory for elementary experimental purposes for use by the first year students, in dimensions 30x38.

On the first floor besides the rooms already mentioned, are a library room, a reading room and educational laboratories. The basement arrangement is unchanged, the electrical apparatus, engine and machinery being located in this part of the building. Altogether the department of physics seems to have more room and to be better equipped in the way of accommodations and laboratories than any other in the university with the possible exception of that of chemistry.

Hand Book

The committee of the Y. M. C. A. is hard at work on the hand book. There is a great deal of minute detail work in getting up a hand book and the committee seldom gets credit for the labor which they expend on it. As usual their faults are much more liable to be spoken of than their virtues. If the IOWAN may be allowed a word of advice, it would be, that a multitude of other sins can be overlooked so long as the committee avoids that of procrastination and gets out the hand book early.

This hand book the new students should understand is a work of love done by the Y. M. C. A. for the good of the student body and presented to them free of charge with its compliments.

Mr. Walker Whiteside, s Revival of "Hamlet" will be presented in this city Thursday eve October 2nd on a grand scale. Fifty people will be employed in the production. Special music has been composed for the play and a wealth of costumes and scenery provided. The night of the presentation should be a gala one.

THE FIRST ASSEMBLY

The First of the Assemblies a Success The President Outlines the Object of These Meetings

The first of the university assemblies met this morning. Standing room was at a premium. It may have been due to the novelty, a freshman asked a senior the other day what it cost a lesson at the assemblies and the student hearing the bell remarked "it sounds like church," but it is not. The president outlined the object of the assembly as a common meeting ground where the students might know of and keep in touch with school doings and interests. All announcements were welcome and if handed into the president's office before nine o'clock would be read. From time to time short talks are to be given by prominent men. The aim is to make these assemblies, short, instructive, and pleasing.

Today's program was opened by the singing of the Doxology, followed by invocation and scripture reading by the president. The audience then arose and sang "A Charge to Keep I Have." The President then read the announcement to register at once and not forget the certificate for vaccination, to advise those intending to teach to select their courses, and to remember the meeting of the philosophical Club this evening at 7:30, in room 213 Liberal Arts. Then the president read a letter to the students of the assemblies in place of his announced address.

Miss Mabel Swisher will entertain the Delta Gammas at a six o'clock dinner tomorrow evening at her home on Summit street.

Bradley, L '01, has entered into partnership with J. V. Samiss, at Le Mars, Iowa.

Baconian have elected as officers for the coming year; C. E. Seashore, president and C. L. Von Ende, secretary. Unexpected opposition developed for the secretaryship, W. M. Boehn receiving one vote.

The freshmen have perfected a temporary organization with Alford Yergey as chairman. They will meet Thursday afternoon at 4:30 for the election of officers.

Professor Loos is acting as dean in the absence of Dean Currier, and is pleasantly receiving vaccination certificates.

More than seventy former editors were present at a recent dinner given by the Harvard Crimson to celebrate its 20th anniversary.

Hesperia will entertain the freshman girls at an informal reception at the home of Mrs. Cannon on Summit Street from 3 to 6 p. m., Friday afternoon.

Miss Florence Seerly, C '01, has been visiting university friends. She teaches at Livingston, Montana this year.

From the lack of students enrolled, the combined courses do not seem to be popular. This is especially noticable in the combined Collegiate-Law course. But four have thus far enrolled. The object of a combined course is to induce those students, who finish their collegiate work here, to remain and take their professional work here also. Does it do this?

Again the vaccination order stares one in the face. Next years catalogue should contain, in its information for students, a clause something like this, "students are requested to bring their vaccination certificates and church records thus avoiding delay in registration."

Women are crowding out the men on all sides. To get out of military drill seemed to be man's prerogative alone. But now the women are presenting certificates of total disability to the instructor of compulsory physical training.

The University assembly once more takes its place on the program. Rightly conducted it can be an instrument of good. Let the student body do their part, and give it a cordial support by a good attendance.

Where will the women drill. That is the question. As soon as they fully realize the lack we hope they can do what the men have not been able to do, build a gymnasium.

Forty men daily practicing on Iowa field, and that too with enthusiasm and determination to win promises to make another 1900 team.

Once more woman has invaded the sacred precincts of the college of law.

Rain, registration, vaccination, what a trio to greet the freshmen.
