RESULT OF FIRST HALF

IOWA 29, NORMAL 5.

With re-packed bags and new hopes of glory to be won on Iowa field, the State Normal team arrived in the city this morning.

No large crowd of rooters accompanied them but their hearts were just as big and strong as when they were backed up last spring to play the plays they do of schoolsman.

"I doubt we have a better chance today because it is dry," said Coach Pell this afternoon, "and I believe we will do better than 155 pounds stripped, having been strengthened by kilos at least. I hope the old man will play at quarter instead of last year."

The lineup this afternoon on Iowa field was:

"The heavens shall be moved, the earth dislocated, every object shall be made to tremble, and every voice cry, when she was solely a book heroine did. "From her first entrance."

The Sophomore admits that it was a very creditable game she He willingly obeyed and continued to work, but was not sufficient to drive the dark veil which was stiffness on the football field this year for the first time since 1899. The discovery was made at Chicago on November 1st.

The indigent student reluctantly turned homeward, sorrowfully admitting to himself that he had fallen in love. Also, for a week. He contemplated proceeding immediately to the City Hall but on second thought decided to first consult his roommate, a senior of some years.

Scarce had he finished the short and nervous relation of the exciting episode to his friend when a knock was heard on the door and two of his friends, blackened up and disguised in old clothes, entered. One bore a dilapidated old revolver while the other carried the spolia of the night's work.

The rooters admit that it is "on him."

The Drake Game
The Drake game on Saturday next will undoubtedly be a hard and close game. Drake has already defeated, our old time rival and close competitor, Grinell, and that with a margin of two touchdowns.
Those of the older students will remember the stinging defeat of 1889 and nearly all have a horrible recollection of the close game of last year. Drake was always game. She invariably has a good team.
Let every student turn out at that game and see to it that whatever can be done by systemtic rooting can be done. We may be certain that the men from Des Moines will be on hand in a band of several hundred with her time worn but vigorous yell,
"Blue and White. It behoves us all to do our part, by rooting if not by playing, to win the game for Iowa and Old Gold.
The pupils of the Second Ward are rapidly advancing in the ways of liberal education.
Yesterday two of the classes engaged in a miniature class scrap.
A rag doll was hung, the wire climbing feats were performed, and every thing went off as nearly like the recent university scrap as possible. However the youngsters became too stragglers and the Marshal was called in to separate them. If the interclass scrap of the University lead the small boys of the city to risk life and limb similarly, without doubt they should be discontinued.

Today on the football field the varsity is trying conclusions with the State Normal boys. Before another sun goes down we shall all know whether Iowa's 1993 team is of the championship class of 99. But whatever the score the Iowans pledges its hearty support as long as it continues to be our team.

Anyone in the least interested in athletics of any character should be present at the meeting in room 105, Hall of Liberal Arts, 7:30 o'clock tonight to organize a Claus Country Club. This movement is one which should be heartily encouraged.

strength by crossing Lake Fort's goal.
Cornell College will have the best wishes of many rooters follow her her tomorrow afternoon when she lines up against Chicago. Just at the present moment, no easier proposition were to carve a reputation could be found than Chicago, which has put out credible teams in the past and is understood is much better coached this year than ever.

CROWDS COMING SATURDAY

Down at Des Moines, Drake showed some strength in defeating Grinnell, 11 to 0. Reports that the team is to be strengthened considerably this week for Saturday's game on Iowa field are wafted down from the Capital City. A $4.00 rate from Des Moines will be secured and 2,000 people are expected from Des Moines for the game.

Whatever the outcome of today's game, the Iowa field is interesting to observe that the Normal authorities were both to go home Saturday because they thought they had a chance to win. That is the reason of their conferences among themselves over the going-home proposition and it was only a short time before train time that they decided to go.

Lost—An army discharge, found and returned to James W. Howell, 117 N. Capital St. tf Park terraces, palace interiors, in rooms and courtyards of England and France in the sixteenth century, when the Houses of Tudor and Valois were at the height of their glory, afford the background for Effie Ellder's new drama, "When Knighthood was in Flower". This gives an opportunity for mounting the play in picturesque style, while incidental of investiture as tapersies, illuminated windows, heraldic devices and furniture were worked out by theatrical artists and cabinet makers newly established in England. The costumes, too, were given but one instruction as regards their work. Such was the idea, not to count the cost in any particular but to make the dressing of the play reflect the splendid fashions of England and France in the opening days of the sixteenth century. At the Opera House, Tuesday, Oct. 7th.
