Varsity Defense Better

Second Team Gains Little Ground

Improved Work On Iowa Field in Both Offense and Defense—Reserves Score on a Fake Smash

The improvement in the varsity defense seen in the practice on Iowa field last night was most encouraging. The reserves were given first six downs and then more downs to make their distance but failed to gain except on a fake fullback smash. Moffatt of the reserves scored on this after it had been tried a half a dozen times successfully on the varsity. Ross who took Siberts' place at left end, was fooled on the play repeatedly. After the touchdown Coach Knipe took the ball down on the varsity fifteen yard line and told Captain Melzner to try the play until the varsity stopped it. Moffatt gained five yards once and then the play failed.

Donovan, at left guard, was as usual, the rock of the varsity line, but Captain Hollenbeck at right guard and Berry at right tackle charged fast and spoiled many plays. Right tackle, filled by McGowan, was the weakest spot in the varsity line but McGowan showed improvement and an ability to learn. Briggs at center did some very nice work in charging and leaping over the scrubs' line. Some handling which he received from the reserves roused his temper toward the last of the practice and the cry went up "Charley Briggs is mad!"

"I'm glad to hear it," shouted Knipe. "I wish you'd all get mad and do some mad fighting."

The varsity's right was strengthened by the presence of Coulthard, the regular end. Fred Buckley played right half back and White, Howell and Durkee at left halfback. Faulk played part of the time at left tackle. His bulk was of advantage to him in resisting the assaults of the reserves but but he found difficulty in getting down as low as Coach Knipe desired.

The varsity offense was good. Holes were made for the runner and several men got into the play. Six touchdowns were scored by the varsity in the game. Ochiltree kicked four goals.

The senior medics, held the first of the series of thesis readings last night, Mr. Jas. Young read a paper on "Alcoholism" which was discussed by Roy Moon, and Ray Brice. This was followed by a paper on "Fever" by Dr. V. S. Hooker, which was discussed by F. A. Washburn, and C. I. Lambert. Dr. Chase then concluded the evening's program by a few helpful remarks.

Dr. Emmert of Atlantic is in the city visiting his son, Max Emmert '05.

Delta Tau Delta will entertain with dancing at their chapter house this evening.

Holding Its Own

Total Registration Will Exceed 1500

Registration to Date Given by Classes And Compared With Last Year—Present Number 1423

The total registration in the university is now just five less than it was on this date last year and eighty-nine less than at the close of last year. Computing on the basis of last year's figures the enrollment this year will reach 1507. It should be borne in mind however that registration this fall began a week later than last and that for purposes of comparing the figures, November 6 of this semester corresponds with October 30 last year.

It will be noticed that the only places where the present registration shows an increase over that of 1901, is in the summer session which was 25 per cent larger, and in the college of law where a gain of twelve is chronicled. Every other college shows a falling off in the enrollment. In the professional colleges this decrease can, to some extent, be accounted for by the higher requirements for admission which went into effect this year and were strictly enforced, but in the college of liberal arts there seemed no reason to anticipate a decreased enrollment and the authorities have so far been unable to account for it.

Below are the totals by colleges and classes together with the figures of October 30, 1901.

The regular meeting of the Iowan Board will be held in the northwest room of the old capital at 10 a. m. Saturday.

Assembly Crowded

Leslie M. Shaw Talks On Success

Hon. G. S. Robinson Gives the Principal Address and Opens the Charities Conference

Judge Robinson, a former member of the university faculty, spoke this morning before the assembly on the work of the Iowa State Conference of Charities and Corrections, paying special attention to the condition of the penal institutions and their much needed reforms.

Secretary Shaw was introduced by Dr. MacLean.

"There is no picture in the world more charming than a body of students," said Secretary Shaw in opening his remarks. "I suppose," he continued, "that a majority of the young men present are studying law. If one were to go into any town or city in the country and ask if it has enough lawyers, he will invariably receive the reply that there are too many and the wonder is how they can all make a living. But I firmly believe that there is not a town of 1200 inhabitants in the United States which will not give a good living to a young lawyer who will serve his clients instead of himself. And so it is in every walk of life. It is not the brilliant man who succeeds; but rather the man who is willing to apply himself to hard constant work.

"Another element of success is morality. A man must lead a clean life in order to succeed. In the race for success, there is so much competition that, at best, it can be won only by a close margin. The business world of today has need of more ability than it gets; money for business is cheap but men to handle it are scarce."

Sociologists Meet

State Conference Listening to Strong Program--Prof. Loos Presiding

The fifth conference of the Iowa State Society of Charities and Correction is being held in the liberal arts auditorium today. Prof. Loos who is the president, made the annual president's address this morning, followed by "A General Survey of Associated Charities in Iowa" from Supt. S. K. Stevenson, L'04. Among the papers this afternoon, a "Report in behalf of the Board of Control on the State Penal and Charitable Institutions" by "Honest" John Cownie was listened to with interest.

On the program tomorrow appear the names of George L. Cady who reads a paper on the "Juvenile Offender," B. J. Miles, superintendent of the school at Eldora, B. E. Shepperd, professor of sociology in Drake University, and J. Percival Huggett, instructor in the State University of Iowa. Judges Gifford S. Robinson and Emlin McClain will discuss the topic of the Indeterminate Sentence.

University Extension

Great Demand For The Lectures

Courses Given in Many Iowa Towns—List and Dates of Lectures Arranged for

Professor Macbride who has charge of the extension work of the university says that the courses offered are in great demand this year and that applications are coming in daily for them. Many courses have already been arranged for and the dates of the lectures set, others have been partially decided upon, but the lecturers and dates are not yet fixed, while extension circles in several other places have signified their desire to obtain a course of lectures.

The university extension idea originated in England where the advantages of a university course are out of reach of a large percentage of the population. It was soon taken up in this country and was made a department of the university of Chicago. Iowa offered university extension lectures to the people of the state for the first time in 1898 and '99 and since then the demand for courses has increased steadily each year.

Courses have already been arranged as follows:

CHARLES CITY.

Oct. 31, Prof. Seashore; Nov. 4, 28, Prof. Wilcox; Dec. 5, Dr. Gilchrist; Jan. 23, Prof. Shimek, Feb. 6, Prof. Fairbanks; Feb. 20, Prof. Weld.

MASON CITY

Prof. Macbride has arranged to deliver six lectures at Mason City on Oct. 17, Oct. 25, Nov. 1, Nov. 15, Nov. 29, Dec. 13.

MUSCATINE

Oct. 7, Dr. MacLean; Nov. 4, Prof. Macbride; Dec. 2, Prof. Nutting; Dec. 30, Prof. Nutting; Jan. 27, Macbride.

CEDAR RAPIDS

Prof. T. H. Macbride will deliver a course of six lectures at Cedar Rapids from Jan. 9 to Feb. 13.

Among other cities which will have the university extension lectures this year are Des Moines, Algona, Britt, Garner and Forest City.

Scientific Soiree

Sigma Xi Holds Session for Reports Of Original Research

Last night in room 116, arts hall, Sigma Xi met for the purpose of receiving reports on the original scientific work of its members. The meeting was strictly confined to the members of the society and resembled in its object the meetings of the German Scientific vereins. It is the purpose of the society to hold one or more of these scientific soirees each year, and one was held last May at which but one half of the members found time to report; the remainder told of their original investigations at

Motes and Beams

"Iowa City certainly possesses the largest assortment of rowdies and hoodlums ever found in a town of only 7,000 inhabitants. Some of the football team were rotten egged on the way down to the train, seventeen of the band lost their hats, and the crowd virtually fought their way from the hotel to the depot. After it began to get dark fights between the Minnesota people and the Iowa rabble on the streets occurred with great regularity.

The visitors do not think that many of the students were concerned in the disturbances and lay their trouble to the town element.

One thing is certain however, if Iowa City expects Minnesota crowds to visit her in the future she will have to learn to suppress her bowery element."—Minnesota Daily.

First a few facts. After the game, many Minnesotans flushed with victory, so forgot themselves in their exultation as to become insulting to any Iowans they met. Not content with this, some of the visitors wishing to secure souvenirs of their triumph, tore down Iowa pennants which were hanging in front of the stores for decorations, and going farther attempted to snatch the colors off the coats of several students. We are glad that those who offered indignity to the Minnesotans were towns people, for it is the Christian spirit when one smites thee on the one cheek to turn the other to him, but even a student could not have been blamed too severely if, under the circumstances, he had lost his temper and proceeded to draw and smite his assaulters on the ear in true apostolic fashion. When you start a fight it comes with poor grace to complain if the other man hits you.

As showing the way in which Iowans wished to treat Minnesota and that our intentions in this case as they always are, were to show only courtesy to our guests we reproduce a letter received by President MacLean from Prof. Jones:

* * * "Your boys are certainly sportsmen and gentlemen. During my visit I did not hear an unkind word from any one and I am presumably persona non grata to Iowa students.

The slight disorder at the depot was due to the behavior of some town rowdies and I satisfied myself that your students were not engaged in it." * * * * *

Let every Iowan be out wearing his colors and with his rooting clothes on Saturday.

There's no reason why you should not be dressed in new ideas. Come here for your shirts, ties, gloves, hosiery, etc.

Coast & Son.

College Presidents.

It is a noticeable fact that divines are being succeeded by specialists along certain lines of knowledge as presidents of American universities, and that the general tendency is for colleges to be non-sectarian. Following is a partial list of college presidents and their specialties: Hadley of Yale, James of Northwestern and Wilson of Princeton, political economists; Eliot of Harvard, and Remsen of Johns Hopkins, chemists; Schurman of Cornell and Butler of Columbia, philosophers; Jordan of Stanford, zoologist; Angell of Michigan, a literateur; and Wheeler of California, a philologist. Of clerical college presidents there are MacLean of Iowa, Faunce of Brown, Harper of Chicago, Tucker of Dartmouth, Hyde of Bowdoin, Andrews of Nebraska, Harris of Amherst, Thwing of Western Reserve, the late John Henry Barrows of Oberlin, Bashford of Ohio Wesleyan and Day of Syracuse.
