AMES VERY CONFIDENT

SURE OF MANY POINTS IN TODAY'S GAME

Tener's Goal-Kicks Sure When Tried
—Ames Terrible Tandem a Gainer
—A Few Changes in Iowa's Line

"We are going to win. We are giving it to you straight. We are sure of it. We will not lose today."

This is the burden of the talk put up by two hundred husky, stout-hinged rooters who accompanied the Ames team today.

More confident than any other state team has yet been of victory over Iowa, the Agriculturists accounted for their hopes by long, strong stories of swiftness and terribleness of play developed by Coach Ristine (late of Harvard) and cooped up for especial use today. Dreshler and Scott and Schuler and Tener, the Ames backs, are said to be marvels of swiftness and trickiness. Tener's goal-kicks are said to be sure of five points whenever tried unless blocked and Ames cannot see any blocking today.

The tandem, the terrible, ripping, ploughing, tearing tandem is said to be one of the plays which will rip through Iowa's line. Specially designed at Harvard, propped up with the virtue and cockiness of success over Yale, and put into smooth working this week at Ames, there is not a one of the two hundred Agricultural college rooters would not wager his boarding house pie for a week that awful emissary will tear up Iowa's eleven for large gains.

The Iowa team is not very highly esteemed by the visitors. They regard it as something manufactured especially to lose to them today. Comparative scores have gone to the heads of the visitors and they can not see why, if Minnesota three weeks ago beat Ames 16 points and last week beat Iowa 34 points, this does not spell victory by Ames to the tune of at least 10 points.

THE REFORM SYSTEM

STRONG PLEAS FOR REFORMATORIES

A Charge From the Present System of Punishment Advocated by Advanced Thinkers

Yesterday's session of the Conference of Charities and Corrections brought forth several able papers and at least one interesting discussion.

At the morning session Rev. Cady read a paper on "The Juvenile Offender" Supt. B. J. Miles told of the reform work being carried on at the industrial school at Eldora and I. E. Sheperd of Des Moines lead a discussion on George Junior Republics. When the conference assembled after the noon recess it immediately went into business session and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: President, G. S. Robinson, Sioux City; 1st vice-president, Elmer E. Park, Keokuk; 2nd. vice-president, Dr. Anne Burnett, Mt. Pleasant; secretary, Jno. Beardsley, Des Moines; executive committee, Isaac A. Loos Iowa City, E. L. Stevens, Des Moines; E. B. Sheperd, Des Moines.

J. Percival Hugget addressed the assembly on "The Reformatory," after which Judge Emlin McClain took the floor to discuss the subject of the indeterminate sentence. Judge McClain gave a short review of the history of the criminal codes of the world, showing how they had developed, their barbarity had lessened, and the motive of punishment had turned from that of revenge to that of offording protection to society and reforming the criminal. He took the ground that though punishment is undesirable and becoming more so every year yet the great object of our criminal codes is the protection of society and this is apt to be jeopardized if the fear of punishment is removed from the mind of the criminal, and the speaker was not sure but what the indeterminate sentence law might have this effect if enacted.

Judge Robinson continuing the discussion, strongly favored the indeterminate sentence and a general system of reformatories. The indeterminate sentence as advocated by Judge Robinson will operate by separating the hardened criminals from the first offenders and releasing the latter on parol, on the recommendation of a committee of which the warden is a member. This parol could be followed by a full pardon if desirable. The penitentiary at Anamosa could be used as a reformatory and the institution at Ft. Madison as the penitentiary. To the former place would be sent all first offenders, convicted of a less crime than murder, and all convicts under 30 years of age. The system of reformatories for convicts has been in operation in New York state for a number of years with most unparalleled

NEW DEBATING LEAGUE

FOUR UNIVERSITIES MAY FORM AGREEMENT

A Proposal by University of Illinois to League Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana in Debate

A proposal has been received by the debating league of the university for the four universities of Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana to form a league for the purpose of carrying on a series of inter-state debates. The proposal coming from the debating authorities of the University of Illinois provides for a debate this year between Iowa and Wisconsin and one between Illinois and Indiana. The winners of these two debates are then to debate. Next year Iowa and Illinois are to debate and Wisconsin and Indiana. The final to be debated off as this year. The compact is to hold for an indefinite length of time in the future.

If the proposed plan is carried out which seems likely the debate this year between Illinois and the Philomathian society here will be declared off; Illinois when the debate with the Philos, was arranged, Iowa placed the clause in the compact that in case the central debate scheme could be arranged the agreement would be void. The proposal will be taken up by the debating league here very soon and from the sentiment expressed among the debaters here it will be acted on favorably.

Prof. Loos Lectures,

Prof. Loos left last night for Kansas City to deliver one of a series of lectures which he will give as one of twelve lessons on social problems by noted specialists from various university faculties. A GREAT ARTIST

ONE OF THE FEW GREAT DRAMATIC ARTISTS

Bertha Kunz Baker at the Opera House Tuesday Night—Election Returns Received Between Reading

The first of the very high class dramatic presentations, which are arranged for in the lecture and reading course will be presented at the opera house next Tuesday evening, November 4. It will be followed on Wednesday evening by the second number.

The whole course is of a very high rank and the first one by Mrs. Baker promises to be one of the very best in her line, she stands at the top among dramatic artists; such being the decision of the greatest critics. Her work is not that of the nerve elocutionist who often lack the brains and the knowledge to interpret literature but is that of the true student of literature combined with the highest powers of expression. Hers is the intellectual rendition wherein the feelings, passions and thoughts of the author are magnificently portrayed. She throws a great genius, a wonderful voice and a magnificent personality into her work in a manner which delight her hearers.

The reading Tuesday evening will be a presentation of the great work "Nance Oldfield" in the presentation of which Mrs. Baker appears at her best.

A feature of the evening's entertainment will be the fact that the election returns will be received and given out between reading thus affording perhaps the best place in the city to get the earliest returns from the states and congressional districts.

Anyone missing Mrs. Baker will certainly lose a rare treat and a chance to hear one of the very few great artists in dramatic work in the country.

"I see Hunter has stopped college." "Yes, he made the football-team, and that was his undoing. He was half-back in math., full-back in chemistry, and about a quarter-back in everything else on his card. Besides he refused to tackle back work, so there was nothing for the faculty to do but to send him to the side lines.—Ex.

H. E. French, '06, P. J. Kruse, '05, and B. J. Wright, '06, have been elected members of the Philomathian society.

Dr. Gordon F. Harkness, '02, interne at Mercy Hospital, Dav- enport, is in town shaking hands with old friends.

Helping Coach Knipe

A number of football stars of former years, impelled by their love of the varsity have been back this fall and helped in the coaching of the squad. Their work is of the greatest value and it is not unnoticed by the students. There are too many men on a football team for one or two men to be able to coach each player in the work of his position. The head coach is compelled to confine his work to the general work of the team, the formations and the team play. In the coaching of the individual players in the special work of their positions, our alumni have been of invaluable service this fall. The men who have earned a debt of gratitude by doing this service are Moray Eby, Capt. '99, Clyde Williams, Capt. '01, and Jim Brockway, guard '98, '99, and '00.

Such learned and scholarly gatherings as the Iowa State Conference of Charities and Corrections are fitting supplements to college work in special lines. For a sociologist this meeting was most instructive and broadening. The more men of prominence, men of action and achievement that a student can meet and hear the better will he be prepared for his task when he comes to take up his real work.

The football team have been working their hardest this week and though several of the varsity are on the hospital list, we can trust the honor of Iowa in the hands of those who are representing us today on the gridiron without a misgiving. They will be true to the old gold, win or lose and will fight it out to a finish.

The freshmen owe their slump in the run yesterday to the fact that many of their men went on the excursion to Davenport instead of staying here and running for their class. These men certainly showed a deplorable lack of class spirit to let a political junket interfere with their work in class contest as close as this one.

If things are a trifle awry today remember that it is All Saints day and last night was Halloween. It might not be amiss to dub the night before All Saint's Day, "All Boys' Night."

The registration does not show a great increase this year, but you can't keep a good thing down.

Iowa can't lose today. It's all in the family.

success. Out of 12,000 criminals who have been sent to the New York reformatory, and released therefrom, 10,000, have lived as honest and honorable citizens since their release, a percentage of reclaimed criminals which is unheard of under the present system of mingling the good and bad, the merely weak and the most hardened transgressor, the moral degenerate with him who merely yielded to a moment's temptation.

Senator Emmerts of Atlantic in the few minutes that were allowed him, told of a bill for establishing the reform system and the indeterminate sentence, which he had introduced in the 28th and 29th general assemblies. This bill passed both houses of the legislature at the last session, but being brought up on a motion to reconsider in the house, the enemies of the indeterminate sentence clause of it, centered their fight on that provision and gained enough strength to defeat the whole bill.

A dramatic event of local interest is the coming engagement of "Pudd'nhead Wilson".
