BEST PRACTICE IN YEARS

The varsity practice on last night was the best that has been seen up on Iowa field for many a long and wintry day. At its close the few varsity rotiers who turned out to watch the practice, ran back in their memories for two years to find a practice that equalled it. The team played normal football and found that it was much more fun than the listless imitation that has been seen on the Iowa field.

For the first time this year, there was a definite response to Coach Knipe's directions. The playing of the whole team gave an impression of power like the work of the 1900 team used to do.

The team showed a res- lapse to the old form and there is all that could be asked of a team that clock-like scoring machine of a team that clock-like scoring machine of Hands who can play a very good game and hands who can play a very good game and hands who can play a very good game.

The team was as usual.

Yale over Washington. He has been tremendously impressed with the great material provided.

Coach Knipe has done all that was possible for him to do but he could not make men dodge like Maddock and he could not make them run like Sweeney. He did give them an offense that was as good as Michigan's but he could not make them play it as well as that clock-like scoring machine of Michigan. The only offense on its offense, Coach Knipe gave the Iowa players a better physical condition than any team they have played against this year but he could not make demi-gods out of men who would not wake up.

Dr. Knipe is all that could be asked of a team that clock-like scoring machine of Michigan. The individual prizes will go to...

Mistaken Identity

"Iowa has a singular idea of sportsmanship. It is said that the Iowa contingent at the Michigan-Iowa game began to yell derisive cries about Minnesota when Michigan had made her 35 points. They seemed to get some satisfaction out of the fact that Michigan could lick them worse than Minnesota. The view is indeed a very singular one to take, and one thing is certain, we, at Minnesota do not grudge Iowa's being beaten 100 times as badly as we beat her.

The Minnesota Daily has been misinformed. There was no Iowa contingent at the Michigan game owing to the length of the trip. The Iowa's athletic editor who was present says that such yells were given by the crowd but they in no way came from Iowa. The Daily should sift its information more carefully.

Few Freshmen

The participation of freshmen in the competition for places on the Iowa board has not been entirely encouraging. Up to date only one man has submitted work of sufficient amount and quality to warrant the examiners in recommending him to the board for election. There is another place to be awarded which can still be gained by energetic work during the remaining week of the competition which closes on November 23.

The International Guild of Paris has affiliated with Chicago University giving that institution a French branch. Secretary Knox will be looking up the anti-trust laws in relation to Chicago University soon.
