the word with emphasis, and then special emphasis on "Rock the line, tear 'em up! Rub it in! Touch down! Touch down! Spin it in!"

The University Calendar

The young women of the university, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., will this year issue a university calendar consisting of thirteen pages, six being by eleven, of pale grey paper. Each page is designed by a student and represents something suggestive of the month in college life. There will be a half-tone engraving of one of the university buildings on each page. Every department is represented and every effort has been made to have this calendar a genuine calendar, as many such as are found in other schools. They will be placed on sale on the tenth of next month.

THE MUSICAL TREAT

Great Bass, Eugene Cowlia at the Presbyterian Church

Eugene Cowlia, the basso, who is to give a solo concert at the church on November 15, at the Presbyterian church has been for years a favorite in church and concert halls. In what is no doubt a favorite of his, the stage and the field were after much urging from his friends and from concert managers the Americas. He is an embalm of the state and territories and preliminary arrangements have been made for a tour of England, Austria, and South America.

Mr. Cowlia is probably best known as the composer of "For the soldiers battling on the run" and both of which will be among the numbers given by him Tuesday evening. The concert will be sold at the church and at the hotel where the concert will be given.

Mr. Cowlia has probably been the most successful conductor of music in the United States and he has made many tours in Europe and America. In his concerts he has been heard through the length and breadth of the land and has been greeted with enthusiasm by audiences everywhere.

Non-graduate W. E. Jensen, "A. 86," has spent some time at the university in connection with the professors of geology and chemistry in matters connected with his work. He is in the employment of the department of the interior as inspector of mining and forestry with headquarters at Cheyenne, Wyoming. He also looks after treaties with the government timber and forest lands.

The regular practice run was not held this morning, most of the men being somewhat late due to their severe run of last night. The practice run of the men, however, took a short jog instead of a run. The practice run will probably come off Saturday afternoon and the cup run Saturday morning.
equal to the occasion? There can be but one answer in a matter so vital to the university.

The university student should try to act as if he were grown up even if he isn’t. Holding up hands in recreation, offering answers uncalled for when another hesitates, trying to impress the teacher that you know your lesson whether you do or not, may be good form in the grammar school but such childishness should be put away by the university students.

The cross country runs have given the long distance men good practice. Now if we had a gymnasium, they could keep doing a little athletic work all winter and be in better shape to start to work in the spring.

The cross country runs have come to stay and will be a permanent feature of Iowa Athletics.

Calendar for the Week

Nov. 18: Eugene Cowles, 8:15 p.m.

Nov. 20: Assembly 9:15 a.m.

Nov. 20: Football, Varsity vs. Missouri.

A Great Opportunity

Iowa has now a great opportunity. With Missouri to play in five days and Illinois a week later there are the best chances for the team to round into form and win both contests; Illinois has a hard working, consistent team. They played great ball on Iowa field last year and most of the players of that team are still in their line-up yet we can beat them and we must do it. It will require however, the greatest burst of enthusiasm from the whole student body, the hardest practice on the part of the men, and the fairest game of their lives from the weaslers of the old gold on Turkey day. Nothing but the same of support for the team from every Iowa, the utmost effort on the part of every player can accomplish this feat. But it can be done. Are we
