FRESHMAN SOCIAL

CLASS scrap ends in violence

Sophomores overstep the Bounds of Reason and Logic in Damaging Heel

The attempt of the sophomores to break up the freshmen social at the Burkle last night resulted in scenes of riot and license.

The freshmen boys anticipating the action of the sophists retired to the seclusion of the hotel at various times during the day from early morning which witnessed the arrival of Pres. Burkle.

Burkle then drill hour when about fifty of the men of 1986 arrived and took their dinner at the hotel. Later in the evening when a crowd filled the street and part of the campus, jeering and jostling as the carriers of the gold for the Sophomore girls drove up.

Occasionally a bit of trouble would arrive accompanied by a more courageous swain, and bottom is as likely to upset as anything in such a crowd. He is a brother of Fred Williams, a freshman on the reserve team. He is a new member of the college of liberal arts. He weighs 195 pounds, is 5 feet 6 inches tall and 20 years of age.

Burkle was beaten by Marshall Scott Wilson in the middle of the dual at 143 pounds, measures 6 feet 4 inches tall and 19 years old.

Barlow C. Amcott of Salem played on the Whittier college team. This is his second year on the reserve team. He is a brother of Fred Williams, a freshman in the college of liberal arts. He weighs 155 pounds, is 5 feet 6 inches tall and 20 years old.

Special attention was devoted to blocking place kicks in preparation for the attempts of Cook of Illinois in that department of the game.

Dr. Andrews on Water Purification of Buda-Pesth

Buda-Pesth is one of the most progressive of European cities. It is also one of the cleanest. Its consumption of water per day is about 85 gallons per capita. For a city of its size this requires a great supply of which there is none nearer than the Danube.

Along the banks and extending to a distance of 4 to 5 miles is a broad flat of sand and gravel. There are three stations to supply the city. The first one has a failure, but leads to the present successful system. In the latter system a shaft is sunk to the depth of 50-60 feet. It is wider at the bottom where its diameter is 20 feet. Water is removed from the bottom by perforated slits in a shaft 1 1/4 miles deep. The water enters the town through these openings. It is already filtered by means of the natural filter which is nothing more than the sand and gravel into which the caisson is sunk. Before a well is used it is pumped for a week. The water gives an iron stain for the first year but afterwards this disappears. The upper part of the shaft extends above the flood level and at high water only the small hillocks are to be seen. Wells are to be found on each side of the river. There are 54 wells of which 54 are in use. The water is pumped to the city in two parallel tunnels neither of which is sufficient to supply the city alone. An analysis of the water from the two tunnels show that it contains 1-4 parts per cubic centimeter.

Since the introduction of this system the consumption of water has increased from 96 to 17. The present system can supply at the present rate of 200,000,000 gallons per day and requires for the Buda-Pesth system an expenditure of 70,000 for the city.

It is suggested that cities in Iowa may make use of the principles of this system, since there seems to be similar geological features found in this state.

Rates to Champaign

Manager Mcclain has succeeded in obtaining very low rates from the railroads for the Iowa-Illinois game. Normal rates traveled over are the Rock Island and the Chicago & Alton and they have offered a rate of $1.50 face for a guarantee of fifty ticket sales. The roads have already offered to pay half for a guarantee of fifty ticket sales.

The trains to Champaign run, leaving Iowa City at 8 a.m. and arriving at 10 a.m. and leaving Champaign at 8 p.m. and arriving at Iowa City at 10 p.m. The railroad company is now negotiating for a rate for 100 people.

"that howling mob" and obtaining no response, said, "Someone telephone the governor for troops!"
marked the occasion of every freshman reception and banquet with few exceptions for years. Last night might have been the first time any private property has been intentionally destroyed. The custom is wholly wrong and should be discontinued. It brings ill-feeling between the classes, injury to the participants and ill-repute to the University.

Cool-Headedness Required

The question of efficiency of civic officers is an important one and an officer jacking in those elements which go to make up quality is worse than no officer at all. An official phone business it is to preserve order and to prevent the destruction of property must have the qualities of courage and cool-headedness, two qualities which almost invariably go together. Men of this kind wearing the badge of authority will most generally do the right thing at the right time. The "mob spirit," always attendant with a crowd of excited, people, can be destroyed and made to spend its energy in a harmless way or it can be aggrieved and led on to rashness. The conduct of officials is then of the greatest importance. If they act without thought in a rash and excited manner themselves they will lead the crowd to do things which otherwise they would not have done. A hasty and uncalled for use of clubs in a promiscuous manner on innocent parties is a mistake of just, this kind. One mistake of this kind may lead to great injury to property, and such injury traced to its real source will fix the responsibility upon them.

Mistakes of officials at times when courage and coolness are called for are responsible for a great deal of damage.
