FOOTBALL GOSSIP

SPRING ATHLETICS AT MINNESOTA—1903 COACHES

Minnesota Talks of Abandoning Spring Athletics—Schools Go Hunting for Coaches—The Cornellian on Iowa Football

The St. Paul Globe is authority for the statement that the athletic council of the University of Minnesota has practically decided on no track and baseball teams for this spring. The council is represented as waiting for an uprising of the Minnesota students against this action and if it occurs will probably reconsider its determination.

The reasons for the course determined upon are several. It is stated that neither baseball nor track teams have been of particular credit to Minnesota, a statement which is hardly true. Improvements will begin on Northrup field early this spring and it is desired to have the field free from workmen. Members of the athletic council are said to have stated that the experiment of doing without both teams has been tried at western universities without harmful results.

KNIFE MAKING OUT SCHEDULE

Coach Knipe is now busy making out the schedule for the football team next fall. The matter of the track and baseball schedules will not be taken up until after the athletic union has raised the funds to pay off the present indebtedness of the union.

Dr. Knipe will soon have ready for submission to the board of athletic control the recommendations of the football men upon whom the right to wear the varsity emblem should be conferred.

LOOKING FOR COACHES

Northwestern, and Illinois are two western universities avowedly in the field for coaches next fall. It is possible that McCormick, coach of this year's Dartmouth team, may coach Northwestern next year. Huff of Illinois is saying nothing in regard to Illinois' choice of a coach. The report in the Minneapolis Journal that Coach Williams of Minnesota had been elected for another year at Minnesota proves to have arisen only from the Journal man's desire to have it happen. Considerable opposition is known to be present among the members of the athletic council despite Williams' fine work this year. Coach Yost of Michigan has expressed himself as having his weather eye on Minnesota and preferred that institution to Michigan. Yost has a contract for five years with Michigan, by the terms of which Michigan cannot discharge him for that period, but he may leave when he elects. That comes near being a one-sided contract.

The editor-in-chief of the Cornellian calls attention to the query that if Iowa is so poor this year, where are the other schools of the state? The question gives rise to considerable speculation. The Cornellian is a good friend of Iowa, however, and does not devote much space to Iowa's poorness.

Allen C. Abbott was unanimously chosen by the Wisconsin football team last afternoon as its captain for next year. The election was made by acclamation. Abbott had a rival in Emil Skow before the husky center announced that he would not be back next year, leaving Abbott a clear field. Abbott has played end on the varsity eleven three years, and next year will be his last. He was the only member of the Wisconsin team conceded a place on the all-western team for 1902. His home is in Oshkosh, where he played on the high school team before coming to the state university.

ILLINOIS CHOSSES TEAM

Three Men Picked to Meet Philo Debaters

Illinois has selected her debating team to contest with the Philo debaters. The Illinois men are Reef, Dreden and Black with Johnson as alternate. The Illini says of the preliminary:

The question debated was: "Resolved, that the United States should adopt a policy of complete commercial reciprocity in lieu of its present protective policy," complete commercial reciprocity being interpreted to mean reciprocal free trade. Rodman, Neidermeyer, and Wiley supported the affirmative side of the question, while Reef, Black, Harris, Dreden and Johnson supported the negative. The judges, Dean Clark, Prof. Robinson and Mr. Paul, were out for some time, but finally agreed upon Reef, Dreden and Black, with Johnson as alternate.

They all Say So.

The Minnesota Daily in commenting upon the reports of the recent, so-called riot at Iowa, says "Minnesota and all other universities, will join Iowa in a prayer for deliverance from the police, the devil, and the yellow journalist. Minnesota has recently had an encounter with the first and last of these. It is 'the bond of sympathy that makes the whole world kin.'"

Prof. A. G. Smith Complimented

The Michigan Daily News compliments Professor Smith on his recent article in the DAILY IOWAN. In quoting his entire article in its editorial columns, it says, "it advances ideas that at first seem very radical, but, which undoubtedly contain much truth."

Only two freshmen are taken on the staff of the Cornell Sun yearly. The election occurs in the spring and ranking is based on the amount of work published. No credit is given for assignments

The University calendar gotten out by the Y. W. C. A., will be on sale at their fair next Saturday.

TODAY'S ASSEMBLY

PROF. WILCOX SPEAKS ON THE DECLINE OF THE DREIBUND

An Interesting Talk Upon the Significance of this Old Alliance—Its Interest to Americans and Students.

Prof. Wilcox of the department of history spoke before the assembly this morning on the subject of "The Decline of the Dreibund." "Scientists," said Professor Wilcox, "from a minute part can construct the whole. A homely phrase says, a straw shows the direction of the wind. The facts of history give us good ground to predict the political future."

"In 1789 Bismarck formed the Dual Alliance between Germany and Austria. In 1883, Italy was admitted to the Alliance forming what was known as the Triple Alliance, or because two of its members were German, the Dreibund. Since then it has been reaffirmed a number of times, but always with reluctance. The direct cause for admitting Italy, was the occupancy of Tunis by France. This threatened Italy. Through this alliance Bismarck made Italy, but he unmade Austria.

"The Dreibund worked great changes in political Europe. It made Italy one of the Great Powers; Italy a country without any of the requisites of a great power. It galvanized and protected the corpse of Austria. It caused the formation of that strange alliance of opposites, France and Russia. It diplomatically isolated England, and made her friendly to an alliance with the United States. It united the Bulgarian Provinces. And it has produced an athletic contest in the internal politics of Europe.

"If the Dreibund is dissolved it will probably be by Italy. Germany is indifferent, Austria's life depends upon its continuing, and Italy desires its abrogation.

"If it were dissolved, Italy would try to form a republican government, and would fail. There would be war between Austria and Italy over the Italian peoples north of the Alps. Italy would be dropped from the concert of powers, for the Dreibund is all that keeps her in.

"Some are in favor of making the number of the great powers five, in case Italy should be withdrawn. Others have insisted upon the substitution of Japan, while still others would include the United States. These are theories, but one who has read facts aright can accurately predict. The intelligent man or woman of fifteen years hence, will be the one, who reads and learns from the news of today, in such magazines as the Review of Reviews and the Outlook.

COTILLION COMMITTEE

'05 Increases Her Advisory Committee—Passes Some More Doubtful Resolutions—Adopts Class Cap

The sophomore class held a business meeting yesterday in the liberal arts hall at which several important matters were disposed of. The committee appointed to draw up resolutions in regard to the recent class trouble reported and the resolutions adopted. A lengthy discussion as to the best thing to be done as regards the affair was indulged in and after all had said their little say, a committee composed of Olinger, Skelly and Allen were selected to appear before the faculty meeting held this afternoon and treat with that body concerning the matter. The class desires to ascertain, if possible, whether action will be against the class as a whole, or against individual members.

The class decided to adopt a class cap and before long all loyal naughty-fivers will be distinguished at a great distance by the appearance of the little blue cap with class numerals thereon.

Before adjournment the members who will make up the cotillion committee were chosen and consist of the following: M. W. Emmert, L. McAuliff, G. A. Drake, R. H. Finkbine, I. I. Struble, B. B. Burnquist, and R. J. Olinger. The committee will meet at an early date and select a chairman and arrange a date for the party.

CORNER STONE HERE

Massive Granite Block to be Used in Laboratory Building

A massive piece of granite which will be used as the corner stone of the laboratory building in the medical quadrangle arrived last week. The huge chunk of stone is three feet high and eight long and weighs several tons. The architect's plans specify that a space 6x8x12 inches shall be cut on the bottom of it in which shall be placed the articles usually contained in corner stones. In the face the year of erection of the building an inscription will be carved. The corner stone for the anatomical building has not yet arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Whiteis will entertain at cards Monday evening in honor of Miss Whiteis.

Frank W. Crockett, L. '03, left at noon today for Galveston Texas on business. While away Mr. Crockett will visit points of interest in the Southwest and return to the university in February.

Charles Stuart, L. '04, has been called to his home at Chadiwick, Ill., by the illness of his mother.

Dec. 10: Lecture, Professor Fairbanks, 7:30 p. m.

It now seems impossible to get the opera house for holding the preliminary debates. This will be a saving to the debating league. But where will they be held? A new assembly hall would save just as well, and would also provide a place for holding the contests.

The dailies have figured up the year's casualties in football. The athletic unions are bringing in reports with disappearing margins. It is the time of year when the cynic holds sway, and football seems to have lost its grip.

A number of the societies have decided to have their Hawkeye pictures taken before the holidays. This is a good move. It not only benefits the managers, but gives a better and earlier annual.

The difficulty that the sophomores seem to have in telling the motions passed at class meetings suggests a need. A need for a jurist, a stenographer, a graphophone and a linotype.

Prizes for Debating

Minnesota's successful contestants in the Iowa preliminaries will receive $90 in three prizes of $40, $30 and $20. There is also an additional $25 prize for individual merit. The Iowa preliminaries will take place in the near future. Minnesota offers in all as money prizes for debating the sum of $200.

Amusements

Knute Erickson in "The Man From Sweden" is announced for presentation at the opera house on next Friday, Dec. 12. This play is by that versatile author, Charles Newman, who has many successes to his credit among which may be mentioned "Rudolph and Adolph," "Mr. Jolly of Joliet" and "A Son of Rest."

The Beggar Prince Opera Co., will present the charming comic opera Fra Diavola. This opera is replete with strong dramatic situations, high class music and clever comedy.

The Pittsburg-Post says "The Crisis" is a positive and unmistakable success, the applause was simply poured upon the star and company. They appear at the opera house next Saturday, December 13.

It requires a special 60-foot baggage car to transport the scenery and effects used in the original production of "The Crisis," in which James K. Hackett is presenting Isabel Irving. Every detail used in the big cities will be seen here when Miss Irving comes to the opera house next Saturday, December 13th. Miss Irving is playing to crowded houses everywhere. "The Crisis" is the greatest hit of all the new productions on the road.
