Mc Cormack Purple Coach

Crack Dartmouth Coach Goes to Northwestern

Walter McCormack of Chicago was last night elected coach of the Northwestern football team, succeeding Chas. Hollister who has resigned. McCormack played quarterback for four years at Dartmouth, the last two as captain of the team. He is an alumnum of Northwestern also, having taken his law course there. He has for the past two years been coach of the Dartmouth team and as such has been very successful.

Dartmouth wanted him back and offered him an increase in salary but McCormack had given Northwestern an option which expired today. Had Northwestern not chosen McCormack last evening, he would have gone back to the Green Wave unless made coach of Illinois had secured him.

The selection of McCormack as coach of the Northwestern eleven is an important event in conference football. Mr. McCormack never did know any too much about the game of football but in succeeding in giving the Purple a reputation for playing a good coming game, has hung on, at Northwestern for four years. The latest news from "Evanston prior to Hollister's resignation was that he was still living on the reputation earned by tiring Iowa. Championship team at Rock Island Thanksgiving day, 1906. Hollister, it is believed that he was a grand victory for him, and never believed for a moment that the championship had been doped the night before.

The advent of a man who knows football, both eastern and western, thoroughly will make a marked improvement in standing in football. It is now up to the conference colleges to beat the Purple in an irregular for the western championship.

Committees Meet to Make Uniform Entrance Regulations

The committee on secondary school relations will meet at the university today. The committee consists of: Professor F. E. Bolt, and Brown, High School Inspector, from Iowa; Dean J. H. T. Main of Grinnell; Acting Chancellor Hill M. Bell of Drake; Professor Nicholson of Cornell; President McCormack of Coe.

The object of the meeting is to make more uniform the entrance requirements for admission from the accredited schools. Special attention will be paid to the subject of English.

President McLean, as chairman, has also called a meeting of the committee on conditions of professional school requirements, with reference to the graduates of other school systems. This committee will meet with the same members that on secondary school relations, and in addition, Acting President Stanton, of Ames, and President King of Cornell.

Cottilion Committee

A meeting of the sophomore cottilion committee was held yesterday afternoon at which the committee was organized by electing Leslie McNally chairman and the appointment of the usual sub-committees. The date of the party will be fixed upon today.

The committee on being seen this afternoon announced that the date of the cotillion had been fixed on January 30th, and that Myers' orchestra of Cedar Rapids would furnish the music.

Subscribers, the first of January is approaching and subscription notices are beginning to come delinquent. Such a subscription costs 30 cents more than most other papers, and the financial aid is needed. Subscribers who have not yet caused their names to appear in the column opposite their names will do well to bear this in mind and call in and pay up and you will be making yourself a present of a half dollar. Mail your subscription to the board or pay them at the Iowa office. There are just a few more days of grace.

The Philathelians have elected the following officers for the second quarter: President B. D. Rensley, vice president, L. B. Boggs; secretary, S. H. McGrew; treasurer, C. E. Moffitt; program committee, C. Steffens; publicity committee, F. All- bert; chorus, T. C. Madison; sergeant-at-arms, H. E. Dow, E. W. Hyneman; and E. D. Jackson was elected as their orator at the annual commencement of the literary societies next month.

Prof. and Mrs. Lena G. Weld will be at home to the students of the graduate college on Wednesday evening December 17th.

Poem for the Medics

A very clever parody on James Whitcomb Riley's poem "The Boyg Man will Git You, If You Don't Watch Out" appeared in the Iowa City Times the other day. The line that caught our ear and the refrain is "The medic'll git you, if you don't watch out." It must be a "nurse verses writer" battle, and we have no idea who is at fault.

Faculty Takes Action

Notify Sophs of Their Punishment

Sophs Committee Decide to Prevent Faculty Ultimatum to Class Meeting Early Next Week

The faculty convened in extra session yesterday afternoon to consider and determine upon their action in regard to the late sophomor scrape. The meeting last till late in the evening when it adjourned the members of the body were a unit upon the measures adopted.

The committee who represented the Sophomore class before the faculty meeting last Wednesday, Olinger, Skelley and Allen, were summoned to the office of President McLean this morning at nine o'clock. They were closeted with the president till then and left, but President McLean asked them to make an engagement with the committee on secondary schools which is in session today.

The committee said that they had been informed of the action taken yesterday at faculty meeting. President McLean also asked the whole matter over thoroughly with them. They said it would be necessary to present the matter at a full meeting of the sophomor class, which would be held early next week, and that until then they could say nothing about the matter. When asked if the members of the sophomore class would be informed prior to the time of the punishment to store for them, Mr. Allen of the committee answered in the negative. President McLean said that the faculty had reached a decision in this matter this evening, and that the action was neither harsh on the one nor punisunamious on the other but kind and friendly in that he saw no reason why the faculty resolution should not be announced if the smaller committee were willing.

It is reported that a member of the faculty in speaking of yesterday's meeting demeaned itself in a graduate meeting, whether this means that it graduated several students is yet an unanswered question, but it would seem to have a significance.

Zet Officers

Zetogaphs chose the following officers for the winter quarter at their meeting last night: president, E. H. Claudi; vice-president, E. M. Turner; secretary, F. E. Robbins; treasurer, J. L. Lamb; corresponding secretary W. T. Stepp; sergeant-at-arms, L. W. Switzer and D. G. Miller.

The senior law class will make its debut in society on Friday, December 17th, evening by giving a dance at the K. P. halls. The committee in charge of the party is Sherman and M. J. Fitzpatrick.

Hammonds Elect

The election of officers at the Hammond Law Senate Dec. 12 resulted as follows: President J. M. McKenzie; vice-president, W. H. Therne; recording secretary, L. A. Johnson; corresponding secretary, S. N. Genn; treasurer, O. W. Enomos; third member executive committee, J. F. Kirby; membership committee, T. A. Gray; sergeant-at-arms, J. E. Wenner; critic, J. E. Cross.

Sophomore Debaters

Sophomore debaters were chosen for their debates December 13th, their meetings last evening as follows: Zets, R. R. Randall and F. E. Smith; Iotas, W. J. Whelan and E. Goodwin and A. C. Gordon.
Perseverance succeeds in the end. The students in the college of law after holding in a petition to the faculty about once a week for the last month have finally succeeded in having one granted. Their petition to be dismissed for the holidays on next Saturday accompanied with the offer to make up the lost time by work on Saturdays has been favorably acted upon.

The intent of the motion to admit basketball to the athletic union was to allow the desiring basketball players to strive for and gain the variety emblem. Basketball is now self-supporting and it is to be hoped this feature of it will not be changed by its change of status.
