MEAS NO DIFFERENCE

FACULTY SAYS SOPHIS CAN PAY OR NOT

Members of the Class of 1891 are Being Examined in the Novelties of the Meeting Secret.

There is an old adage that two can keep a secret. This will have to be amended in this year of grace to read, a man afraid of getting fired will certainly keep a secret. About fifty professors and a hundred students, more or less, have been in possession of a certain set of resolutions since Saturday morning and they have been hush-hush about it to them. What the cause for this suppression of the actual resolutions of the university faculty is, cannot be ascertained. The faculty say they would just as soon publish the resolutions out but that the sophomores won’t want anything said. The sophomores say they can’t give them out and that all news must come through the faculty.

The faculty held a meeting Friday afternoon and passed a certain resolution bearing the effect that it was the sense of the faculty that if it was likely that the art that could make no difference in their action whether the sophomores would or wouldn’t do it, damage was done or not and that they intended to visit punishment upon those who were guilty of breaching university discipline in proportion to the damage done.

The resolutions were placed in the hands of the sophomores negotiating committee on Saturday morning. A call was issued for a class meeting which convened yesterday afternoon. Elaborate arrangements were made to keep the proceedings of this meeting a secret. Several intruders on the floor of the assembly were ejected, but the doors into the gallery were left open.

The resolutions of the faculty were read twice to the meeting and were discussed up and down, back and forth. It was the opinion of the majority of the class that they should pay for the damage whether the faculty dealt with them individually or as a class. A number of individual members of the class expressed their intention of raising the amount of the damage by private subscription if the class as such would not do so. The faculty will decide.

The faculty are grinding along on the matter today. A number of sophomores have been called into the executive office, where they and the members of the class are being placed on their honor and examined one by one. The witnesses are not asked to tell who anyone else, but merely questioned as to their own actions.

ATTRACTS NOTICE

The Minnesota Daily for Dec 30 reviews at some length the recent notice of the widow of the late Prof. A. G. Smith which appeared in the Iowans recently.

TO PLAY MORE GAMES

FACULTY MEMBERS COMPOSE SCHEDULE

State Baseball League Will Schedule Two Games with Each Member

The state baseball league will meet in Iowa City January 30 at which time the dates of the league games the coming season will be arranged. Two games will be played by each member of the league instead of one game as has been previously scheduled. This will better avoid a three-cornered tie such as occurred last year.

At the meeting at Iowa City January in managers of other college teams besides the league members will be present.

The league is at present composed of four teams, Grinnell and Cornell. Ames at a late meeting of board of athletic control voted to instruct bar representatives to favor an enlargement of the league. This is so posed to mean that Ames will favor the admission of Simpson, the best of the west and possibly Coe.

MOVE FOR THE BETTER

A decided move for the better has been taken at Michigan, which will probably be the step of the week or the season in college athletics. The Michigan district has voted to punish with suspension all students guilty of reckless and unmanly behavior at football games the coming season.

This move will be especially praised by Hawkeyes who remember with feelings of meanness the double X's shoved in their faces at Ann Arbor with offers to wager that Michigan's score would exceed Iowa's by fifty points. Betting is considered a vulgar pastime in Iowa and all efforts to keep it out of the state will meet with hearty approval from this region of the country.

WILL GIVE FARE

BAAZAAR A SUCCESS

Y. W. C. A Fair Very Popular and Profitable

The Y. W. C. A. fair held Saturday at Close Hall was a grand success. Over seven hundred of the new university calendar yesterday sold. On entering the building a tasty candy booth confronted the visitor. Mrs. Ellsworth were the Y. W. C. A. fair to be the best that the most popular of all were the calendars. Everybody bought a calendar and many purchased a greater number from the booth in charge of Misses Mary Ballard and Florence McGowan. The Y. W. C. A. girls are deservedly happy today over the good showing that was made generally and otherwise and feel proud for their effort in preparing and conductin the bazaar.

BRANDS IT A CANADIAN

Some humorous fellow started a story recently concerning the condition the university was in, and would have to close Friday on account it had been stated that the university was out of coal and would have to close Friday on account of a fire hazard. Everyone seems to believe what they wish to believe today, as in the time of the Romans and by night the story had gained wide circulation. It had improved also and some had it that only a few tons of the precious black diamonds were left in the store to encourage a sale. The people paid with enthusiasm over it and everywhere it is met by the largest of audiences.

The success and popularity of the play however pass into the background as we realize the event is composed as it is of celebrities that roll of stars, that may be well called. An advance sale of tickets will be made as a rush for seats is anticipated.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be used to buy large sets with varsity "Y," on them for the athletes who have largely been granted the honor of wearing them.

Dr. Gilchrist delivered 'last evening, in the Greek recitation room, the last of a series of lectures upon "Literary Landmarks of Mediæval England." The subject last evening was "The Development of Ornament in Inglaterra." This series of lectures have been popular and interesting.

Dr. J. F. Brown left the city yesterday on a tour of inspection. He will be gone the entire week.

H. G. Badgerow is confined to his room with a slight attack of appendicitis.
