DEAN YOUNG DELINES A GOOD TIME AND GIVES TO ALL A HAPPY CHRISTMAS CHEER.

Dean Alice Young spoke to the students this morning on "Having a Good Time." "I heard within the shadow of Harvard last year that there is no one else educated until they know how to have a good time. Some think they are having a good time but they are not.

"If we only had a department of Having a Good Time," what easy lessons we would have, what charming lectures, and what delightful laboratory periods. Would you organize a new faculty to be excused? It is whispered some people come to the university with the sole aim of taking such a course. This is good; they bet that what constitutes a good time. If we had such a department it would give us new methods on freshman-sophomore scrap.

Dr. L. H. L. Harris, who in the winter and spring of 1895 gave a course of lectures on Roman Law in the university has engaged for the past five years for the consular service. He secured his first appointment from William McKinley, serving as consular agent at Ribenstock, Saxony. Dr. Harris is a graduate in both laws from the University of Heidelberg, a specialist in his history and political economy, and an enthusiastic student of modern commerce. Entering the consular service with special training in political and social science he has won distinction as one of the most successful contributors to consular reports published under the direction of the department of state. "During the course of giving these discourses," Dr. Harris made a short call on Professor Loos. But for the shortness of his stay he would have talked on the consular service with students under the auspices of the school of political and social science. He has been in this country very many years. Very recently he received an appointment as commercial agent from the department of state. His new appointment was made an advance of twenty-five hundred a year in his income. He will continue to make special contributions to the consular monthly reports. It is not improbable that he will return to the United States some time during next year to give discourses on commerce and commercial education in several of the large universities of the Northwest.

HIGHER REQUIREMENTS

Committee Think English Preparation Required

The meeting of the committee on secondary school relations held Saturday in the ball of legal arts was well attended. Matters of importance in the relations of colleges and preparatory schools were discussed and an especial attention was paid to the matter of entrance requirements in English.

It was decided to recommend that the entrance requirements in English to all standard colleges be raised and placed on a par with those of the State University. The committee prepared a report confirming this and some other matters which will be mooted at the college section of the State Teachns' Association at their meeting on December 31.

Michigan's law library lacks only 36 volumes of having 10,000 books on its shelves.

It is estimated that the value of college frame property in the United States is $5,000,000.

W. C. A. cleared about $200 from their recent fair.

DR. ERNEST L. HARRIS

A Former Instructor Pays the University a Visit

Dr. Ernest L. Harris, who in the winter and spring of 1895 gave a course of lectures on Roman Law in the university has been engaged for the past five years for the consular service. He secured his first appointment from William McKinley, serving as consular agent at Ribenstock, Saxony.

Dr. Harris is a graduate in both laws from the University of Heidelberg, a specialist in his history and political economy, and an enthusiastic student of modern commerce.

The university has secured a one and one-third rate for the round trip for university students and teachers to all points in the Western Passenger Association territory. The tickets will be sold on Tuesday and Wednesday, December 23 and 24, and are limited for return to Tuesday, January 6, the opening day at the university. Student certificates must be secured which can be had from the deans of the respective colleges at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, December 23.

The college of law these certificates may be obtained on Saturday morning. Students will need to give the ticket agent sufficient time before the departure to purchase.

The rates made by the railroads are for the special benefit of students. The rates for the general public do not go into effect until December 24, and are good only until January 2. The roads always give schools rates for 233; Haskell Indians 152; Nebraska 190, opponents 0; Iowa 133 opponents 57; Pennsylvania 152; opponents 44; Missouri 49, opponents 88. 1903 FOOTBALL CAPTAINS

NO IRISH NEED APPLY

At the request of the editor of "Shenandoah" a sporting's "spectacles," a committee of experts has chosen an all-American football team. The committee after mature deliberation agreed upon the following eleven:

Dean and Mrs. L. G. Weed, will entertain the graduate college tonight at their home on North Dubuque Street.
Christmas Giving Made Easy

The large annual and special holiday prices make selections easy. Fancy Art Vase from Japan, 12k Gold Plated Clocks, guaranteed time keepers; Burnt Leather and Burnt Wood Novelties, Books, Jewelry, Handkerchiefs, Kid Gloves Perfumes. Besides, the will more practical gifts make this Santa Claus headquarters.

No Beaks
A member of the faculty, who attempted to order some books was met with the startling announcement of "no funds for library purposes." What a state of affairs for a university to be in. This is a matter that should receive instant attention and remedy. It does not seem that such could be true, yet "truth is ever stranger than fiction."

A New Departure
The new "I" fraternity will make not alone for good in this university, but will set an example that other universities will follow. Iowa chapter will mark the founding of athletic fraternities.

Vacation Pleasures
The long-looked for semester system has come. The expectation of the student may have been too high, if he looked upon it as a cure-all. Still there co nes to the minds of many students that there is little difference between the old and new. Professors accustomed to give examinations every two years, will give them still, and the records are final. Then there was to be no examination ghosts to mar sweet dreams of Christmas tide. But this was too radical a departure and the examination still holds its terrors for freshmen, and makes bitter the holiday turkey, with thoughts of what may come. Then what a pleasure to lengthen out the all too short vacation, by having classes on Saturday. It is the way our fathers did in the old "deestrick skule." The world does move. Then should one over anxious hasten away before the last recitation, or tarry on the return, and the offense is double an ordinary absence.

Use or Abuse, Which?
Complaints are made that books are systematically disappearing from the library. It seems almost impossible to believe that any student can be responsible for this. Every advantage is offered for the taking of books and students are placed on their honor. Every book and corner of the library should be open, but it cannot be unless the student body not only as individuals properly use it, but see that others do likewise.

THE CAPITAL CITY COMMERCIAL COLLEGE

It is the largest and most successful commercial college in the city. Every year it graduates on the average one thousand students at least ten years above the national average in regard to their scholastic attainments. The school is a "three year" institution, and students are graduated as soon as their courses are completed. All students are required to take at least one course in business English, and every student must have a thorough command of the English language. The college has a large staff of qualified instructors, and every student is given individual attention. The college is open to all students, regardless of age, and offers courses in business and secretarial arts.

The Junior Slavata College

The Junior Slavata College is a private institution located in the heart of the city. It is one of the oldest and most respected colleges in the area, and is known for its rigorous academic programs and highly skilled faculty. The college offers a wide range of majors, including business, education, and the arts, and is proud to have produced many successful graduates who have gone on to achieve great things in their careers. The Junior Slavata College is a popular choice for students looking for a top-quality education in a small, supportive environment.

Dental Supplies

The Dental Supply Company is the leading provider of dental supplies in the area. They offer a wide range of products, from basic dental care items like toothbrushes and floss to more advanced products like teeth whitening kits and dental implants. The company is known for their exceptional customer service and their commitment to quality, and they are a trusted partner for dentists and dental professionals.

Amusements

A play of elaborate scenes is "The Coming Iowa Journal of History and Politics." It is the most popular of the plays, and is regarded as one of the best of the season. An advertisement for the play reads: "The Coming Iowa Journal of History and Politics. An adaptation of the novel by Rev. Durrow. December 11, 1903."

HE NEW QUARTERLY

"The Coming Iowa Journal of History and Politics." Within a few days the State Historical Society of Iowa, located in this city, will issue the initial number of its new quarterly, which will be known as "The Iowa Journal of History and Politics." It will be of magazine size and will contain about 250 pages. It will be printed in an excellent quality of paper and will be in large type. Its editor is Dr. R. F. Shamah, one of the leading authorities in American history. It will be issued in January, April, July and October, and is to be sent to the subscriber's address, and to all the subscribers of the "The Iowa Journal of History and Politics." The subscription will contain the following articles by Professor L. G. Weld of the University of Iowa: "By Dr. Francis S. Thorpe, one of the leading authorities in American and Iowa history."

STUDENT'S RECEPTION

To be Held Every Day

The firm giving this reception has ideal restaurant facilities. It buys everything at wholesale. Other restaurants buy at retail. It gives its customers the benefit of the prices secured in the quality of food served. Other house attempting to meet these conditions could at best make no more than expenses. This answer for you the question so many have asked—"the reason of our phenomenal success, so many student boarders, and the absence of any effect from outside competition. Remember that low prices in board is any other place then ours, in the absence of our buying facilities, means an inferior class of food stuff served. You can board a week on our 50c. 50c meal tickets. Our customer's weight increases in proportion to the length of time they board at the LELAND CAFE.
