SOME FOOTBALL HEROES

TRUE TYPE HEROES DEVELOPED BY HARD TIMES

Abandon Their Studies to Help Pay Off the Mortgage on Their Old Home — Long List of Noble Players

These be hard times, these. Despite the prosperity statements that come from Wall street and the busy bags of trade, there are hard times abroad in the country and many football heroes are rising to the occasion, just as might be expected of the brave fellows.

Mortgages on the old farms must be raised, money must be earned to keep the family from the poor house and who but the football heroes of last fall's gridiron should leap into the breach and save the farm from the hard-hearted mortgagee and the old folks from the poor house?

France and Martin, the two best foot ball players on the Knox college team with the dinner furnished a fitting climax to the football heroes of last fall's liquid or solid. The fish course, value to every high school and college student of botany in which a law partnership in California was located.

The January 6. D. H. Farr; • Be "Dad" Witter, who played a fine game for Stagg last fall, left Midway last month. He felt that duty to himself required an acceptance of some tempting business propositions.

George Iverson, another brilliant football player, went home last month to help raise the mortgage off the old house. Evidently such heroism as his is becoming common at Chicago, for the Chicago Daily News said in its accounts of his difficulties that his high school and college followers of Maroon athletics were not surprised when the news was made public.

The latest hero is "Dad" Farr; the brilliant tackle who was picked by Dr. Witter for the Western eleven. Farr is a martyr to the responsibilities of family life at home, school and on the football field. He has been appointed

PRESIXS DINE TOGETHER

President MacLean Entertained at Dinner at the White House Tuesday

It is to be regretted that President MacLean will not be able to present at the convocation to-morrow but he could not be expected to miss a dinner at the white house even for a convocation.

Yesterday's dispatches contain the pleasing information that President Roosevelt entertained Dr. MacLean and Senators Allison, Hoar and Doolittle at dinner on January 6. Merely the bare fact is given and all details are sadly lacking. The constituents of the repast, the soups, whether liquid or solid, the fish course, the composition of the entrée, whether the deserts whether solid or liquid are still unknown; neither are the words of the company. What Presxy Roosevelt said and what Pres. MacLean reported are still veiled in the well ordered reserve of the nation. But it is safe to say that the dinner furnished a fitting climax to the hour's great speech delivered in the senate.

One of President MacLean's chief objects in going to Washington besides attending the meeting of the National Association of State Universities was to see Senator Hoar and persuade him, if possible, to give the complement at the university next year. It has been found that it is not probable that the eloquent old man from Massachusetts will be able to come west at that time.

Special Examinations

Special examinations in several subjects will be given senior laws students in the classroom in the auditorium of the college. The course in municipal corporations which was proposed to begin on January 5 will not be given till the second semester after the completion of equity.

Schuman's Theme

President Schuman will take for his theme, at convocation, the following "Our Philippine Problem.'

ENGLISH FOR TEACHERS

SPECIAL COURSES AT SUMMER SESSION

Seniorty and Spanish also on the Announcement Latey issued— New Course in Zoology

A preliminary announcement of the summer session has been issued; the regular announcement of the summer session will not appear until April. The 1903 summer session will open July 22 and continue for five weeks.

Besides the former courses, new courses are announced in English particularly adapted to teachers. Professor Shimke of the department of botany will offer a course in outdoor botany that will be of value to every high school teacher of botany and will fit him for work in the grades. Professor Brown the high school inspector will lecture daily upon topics of special importance to high school teachers in Iowa, and needs of the schools as revealed by his tours of inspection will be pointed out. Professor E. D. Nutting will offer a new course also on "General Zoology," in which a number of typical animals will be studied and the Zoological relationship of each of these animals will be discussed and the outlines of classification given.

Sanskrit is offered for the first time at a summer session by Prof. T. H. Potter, Prof. Van Steeden will give a new course in Elementary Sanskrit Grammar and reading designed especially for high school teachers.

In nearly all cases the heads of the departments will be in charge of the summer session in their respective branches. The university's library will be open for library training, under the inspection of the Iowa library commission. The new building will be dedicated the last day of the year, and all the faculty and instructors besiege the same with the substitution of Virginia, E. Grafie, supervisor of kindergarten, Cleveland, Ohio, public schools, for Harlsett L. McCorry who resigned last year. The summer session has become one of the important possessions of the university. It has grown in popularity from the first, and the courses have been increased in number and strength, year by year. It is now the time for the increased attendance. The new announcement, with its many added lines of study, promises increased success for the 1903 summer school.

NEW HAWKEYE OFFICE

The junior annual will now have moved their head quarters to the new building, having been granted the use of rooms in the liberal arts. The office will be open from 9 to 11 and 2 p.m. and from 9 to 4 p.m. The New Hawk Eye will be in charge of Miss Emma S. Mathews.

ANENT THE ALUMNI

The Old Students—Where They Are—What They Are Doing

Hon. Robert M. Haines, Law '75, Iowa College '66, has just died in Des Moines. He was a state senator in '73 and in the legislature exercised large influence on account of his wide knowledge and unusual ability. He was for many years President of Iowa College and in later years was more largely depended upon in all important matters than any other member of its board of trustees. He was always a staunch friend of the university, supporting it strongly in the legislature and on every possible occasion.

Jessie Runnaston Johnson, L. A. '94, has just been elected superintend- ent of schools in Idaho.

Lafe Vosmek, Jr. '98, is elected president of the Michigan Alumni association recently organized.

Clymer Coldren, L. '97, and J. W. McKee L. '98 have formed a law partnership in Muscatine.

Irwin Harlow Hart, sub guard on the 1900 football team, was married Dec. 26, at Hebron, Neb., to Miss Ida Fay Pew. They are now at home at San Antonio, Texas.

Major Jno. A. T. Hall, L. '95, judge-advocate of the department of California since December, 1900, has been transferred to the department of the Missouri with headquarters at Omaha, Neb.

Dr. Jno. Vincent Littig an ex-coach and brother of Dr. Littig of the college of medicine was married December 17 to Miss Besie Cassell, Dr. and Mrs. Jno. V. Littig will make their home in Los Angeles, Cal.

Hon. A. W. Hamann L. A. '98, L. '98 and Miss Clara Heenick of Davenport, were married in marriage during the holidays. Mr. Hamann took a prominent part in debating while in the university and was a member of Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Delta Phi.

Fleter M. Witter, Normal Department '95, was elected president of the Iowa State Teachers Association last week. He was for many years superintendent of schools in Muscatine and is now county superintendent. This high honor was very well deserved upon Mr. Witter.

Julius Lischer, L. A. '88 Law '90, died in Davenport a few weeks ago. He was largely interested in athletics, journalism and general student affairs while in the university. He won a high place in legal and civil affairs in Davenport and at his death was con-nued... ments, than a practitioner of law who is engaged in this work, but for a few days in the year. The human mind learns a thing and then, if not constantly recalled, it loses it again with the passing of time. This is illustrated by the weakness of any old practitioner of law on the fine points of theory on which any bright student, fresh from law college, can pick him up; and to this fact is due the origin of the permanent state board of law examiners. A student in college is as subject to this human weakness as any other, and many fine points in English grammar, geography, geometry, algebra, Latin and German are apt to escape his mind during three years spent in concentrating his mental powers upon other subjects. To examine him upon these subjects at the completion of his course is unfair to him. The certificate of the university examiner should carry as much weight with it as that of a high school principal; and, as it is "only a matter of evidence," it should in all common sense and fairness be sufficient.

No one should miss the opportunity to hear President Schurman who is the head of one of the greatest universities in the land and who has a long and brilliant record in educational work.
