HARPER ON ATHLETICS

HONOR, HONESTY, STRENGTH OF CHARACTER

Careful Living Are Essential to College Athletics

by College Athletics Staff Pres.

W. R. Harper of Chicago

"College athletics during the last twenty-five years have done more to promote honesty and morality among the young men of our country than almost any other power you can name," said President Harper of the University of Chicago. "I do not need to tell you that I believe thoroughly in college athletics. They are the best of our young men not only physically but morally and spiritually.

"Young men need such outdoor vigorous sport as is afforded by the college athletics of the present day. Honor and honesty are cultivated on the athletic field. A young man's strength of character is strengthened through the fellowship he finds soon discover his strong and his weak points. These young men are able to make true friends and Co. in their paths of morality who have natural tendencies to live less rigidly moral lives.

THE SPANISH GYPSY

GEORGE ELIOT'S STORY OF SPAIN PRESENTED

Katherine Jewell Everts impersonates the Charming Love Tale of Old Granada

Last night Katherine Jewell Everts presented George Eliot's strangely dramatic love tale, "The Spanish Gypsy." It is a story of chivalrous old Spain. The time is that of the expulsion of the Moors, and the place is near Granada. The characters are Spanish and Moorish.

The story is one that gives Miss Everts a better opp­rportunity than "My Lady's Ring" to display her strong dramatic powers. Miss Everts chooses few characters, but these are always strong ones. She never presents a weak role. Last night she acted three widely divergent characters, and yet at no time did they crowd or wait for one another. From the noble Duke Silva, to the priest fanatic with an imprisoned conscience, and then to Frenuda, the gypsy girl, the change was free and easy. The story requires master geniuses to present it. It was given last night to the satisfaction of the large audience.

There is something pleasing in romantic old Spain. "The Spanish Gypsy" brings to us the best of it. Most of us are stirred by the mere reading of such a tale. Add to this the fire of a reader like Miss Everts, and the golden blood must be stirred. She feels her lines and more she makes others feel them. Iowa City has been favored with an excellent reading course this year. The number that probably addressed all classes, and gave most pleasure to all, was Katherine Jewell Everts. Saturday night, she will present in the auditorium her favorite Jocelyn Leigh, for the benefit of the Oratorical Association.

Before the Edda Society

Next Saturday evening Mr. Stefanoff will read a paper on "Modern Icelandic Lyric Poetry." A number of translations into English of typical short lyrics will be given to illustrate the points of similarity and difference between Icelandic and English versification. Mr. Briggs will read an original translation from the old Icelandic of the poem "Skirnisland." Miss Gertrude Veilen will give a reading from modern Norse. The meeting will be held in the physics lecture room at 6:30 p.m., and is open to anyone who may be interested.

The Burlington Route has just issued two publications of great interest to homeseekers.
"Nebraska" is the title of a 48-page book descriptive of the agricultural resources of the state, profusely illustrated with farm scenes and supplemented with an accurate sectional map.
"Big Horn Basin" is an illustrated folder telling all about the rich but undeveloped portion of Northwestern Wyoming. The Big Horn Basin contains wonderful openings for small ranches along good streams, with a million acres of government land open for settlement under the United States land laws.

Both publications will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in stamps. Address J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha.
