OUTLOOK EXCELLENT

MEN PREPARING FOR INDOOR MEET

Seventy Candidates—Making of a Good Team—Greatest Need Now is Regularity in Training

"The outlook for the track team is quite encouraging," said Captain R. M. Anderson today, "We have this year by far the most enthusiastic bunch of fellows training for the team that I have ever known here at Iowa.

"The greatest need of the team is to have the candidates regular in their appearance at training we have the armory only three times a week, so there is quite a blank in case a candidate misses a day. We have seventy candidates, fifty per cent of whom were out at the training Wednesday. We need to have everyone of the men out and more too.

"Every man who expects to do track work at all should be out regularly, faithfully and earnestly at work. The indoor meet comes March 21 and every candidate will need all the time between now and then to train for it.

INDOOR MEET EVENTS

"The events planned for the meet are: 30 yard sprint, 300 yard sprint, 600 yard sprint, 1,000 yard sprint, relay races between freshman and sophomore lites, medics and laws, and any other teams that may be formed, high jump, shot putting, pole vaulting.

"The shot has been at the armory for the use of the weight men for some time.

"From present indications, I should say that we will have a good track team this year."

MEN WORKING HARD

"We have begun to work hard for a good track team this year," said a student who is training for the team, this morning. "We need men who will work hard, who will get out every day, who will not be indifferent, who will help each other as much as possible.

"We feel that in a great measure the obligation of the university is upon us to do something, to win something for her. Iowa has gone so long without winning, that it is a ground hog case with us now. We've got to win, and that's what we are working for. We are going to bed early, eating wholesome food, avoiding cigars and tobacco because we are to win for the university.

"We know that men who have done these things before have won for the university, and know that those who have worked through thick and thin for Iowa have a good, wholesome love for her. And we can count it one of the best things in a college life to have an affection for the university that is bringing us up and making men of us."

STATE TRACK TEAM

A proposition to change the state track association from Iowa,

Ames, Drake and Grinnell, the Normal and Cornell, as it is at present composed to the first four named colleges is being considered.

The proposition was made by Drake University and has been approved by Grinnell and Ames. W. A. Bremner of Des Moines, a member of the Iowa board of athletic control is heartily in favor of the proposition and has been trying to secure Iowa's approval of it.

Iowa's position is that there is no especial reason for abandoning the present association, which has been reasonably successful. If Drake, Grinnell and Ames would agree to adopt conference rules in their athletics, Iowa could see some object in joining the new track association with them.

It is said that several of these colleges have about decided to adopt the conference rules and that Iowa's proposition may be accepted. Drake University, for instance is understood to be desirous of competing in the conference meet in Chicago next June. In order to do that, Drake must have adopted the conference rules in her athletics.

Present indications are that there will be no change in the present state athletic association. Simpson will probably be given an opportunity to rejoin the association, from which she lapsed last spring. This outcome of the track situation would be most acceptable to Iowa, who has no desire to freeze out any of the present members.

PRELIMINARY DEBATE

Subject—Date—Debaters and Judges of the Law Debate

The Forum has the affirmative and will be represented by Francis A. Heald, E. J. Van Ness and D. E. Brinck. The Hammond debaters are: J. E. Cross, J. A. McKenzie and R. R. Mowry.

INTERESTING LECTURE

Sivert N. Hagen Speaks on Analogy in Language

Last evening in the hall of liberal arts, Sivert N. Hagen of the department of English read an instructive lecture on Analogy in Language. After bringing out and comparing the effects on language of analogy and phonetic law he continued:

"The language of children is full of common errors resulting from the analogies of words. Vulgarities are to a great extent due to the outgrowth of the former. Standard English is derived from old Anglo-Saxon and a large number of words are analogous to those of the Scandinavian tongue.

"Every new form must, as it were, make a fight for its existence until it is formally adopted. The simplicity of the declension of modern forms has been caused by analogical and phonetical change. The wide-spread use of the periphrastic method of comparison of adjectives dating from the thirteenth century to the present time, is an excellent example of analogy. Language is a living thing and not a series of dead formulae."

Mr. Hagen fully illustrated each point with numerous examples, giving at times too many to be fully appreciated. Apart from this the lecture was a good one and was deserving of a much larger attendance than it received.

BASKETBALL SATURDAY

The next game in the Close Hall gymnasium will be with Monmouth College team on Friday, March 27.

A number of members of the W. O. N. T. S. club gave a "smoker" to their friends at the club room on Tuesday evening. —State Press.

Judge H. E. Deemer read a paper last evening before the members of the political science classes at the home of Prof. Shambaugh on Daniel Webster.

Prof. B. Shimek is in Omaha, Nebr. today where he delivers an address tonight. Yesterday he spoke twice to the farmers' institutes one of them being in Missouri Valley, Iowa.

Co-operation

In his remarks at convocation, President MacLean spoke of a new co-operation that was springing up among the faculties. Co-operation is what we need. It takes two units of force to produce a given velocity in one direction when another unit is pulling against them.

Co-operation, strength, progress, success: these things flow naturally one out of the other, and are the result of co-operation. Co-operation is the spirit of the times. Its advantages furnish the cohesive power that binds the trusts together. Let us have it then in a more full and ample measure! Not some stunted, half-hearted, forced co-operation which merely covers up an unquelling heart, but whole-souled co-operation all along the line; co-operation in athletics, co-operation in debate, co-operation among all students in raising the athletic union debt. Give us co-operation between the student and professor in the up-building of the university, co-operation among the faculties for the same purpose. Let us feel the united cooperation of our alumni backing up the university in all her acts and aiding with their interest and advice. No one can co-operate more effectually than a loyal alumnus. Through them we can gain the co-operation of the state of Iowa which established the university. Above all let everyone, friend, student, alumnus, faculty member, citizen of Iowa co-operate generously with him through whom the action of the university is directed; the president.

The State University after adhering to the freshman banquet as one of its oldest traditions has decided to abandon it, because it was productive of more class antagonism than all other causes combined. Few college authorities think that there is too much class spirit abroad at the present day; there are few college authorities who will not wink at the lesser indiscretions incident to class scraps, but when there is one function that always results in an over manifestation of this spirit, the authorities and students are wise in attempting to bring forward a less harmful substitute. —I. S. C. Student.

A university public desires to hear such men as William Jennings Bryan. The university lecture course management are to be congratulated on being able to bring him to Iowa City. Apart from his political views one way or the other, Mr. Bryan is a great man and a greater orator. He is by far the greatest popular speaker of this generation.

100 laugh, 100 minutes in Olivette, opera house, Friday, February 27.

"A Breezy Time," which will be seen at the opera house March 3 is one of the most effective farce comedies in town this season. It is diverting without being inane, and has a slight story which makes a very strong vehicle for introducing the various specialties of different members of the cast, each one of whom is an artist in his or her line.

"King Dodo" by Frank Pixley and Gustav Luders will be the attraction at the Opera House next Friday, March 6th, and it can be recommended to the music lovers of this city as a performance most worthy of their patronage. "King Dodo" has been played with success in all the large cities of the country and has received unstinted praise for the company, authors and management. Patrons of the Opera House will do well to secure seats in advance as doubtless a record breaking audience will turn out on this occasion.
