STATE MAKE STRONG CASE

THREE WITNESSES SWEAR TO DELIBERATE MURDER

State Witnesses Tell of Hamlet's Private Conversation and Their Fi nal Accomplishments—Saw no Insanity.

O. W. Emmons of Iowa City, husbanded corroboration, and added detail to the states evidence against Hamlet in the junior law court today. Emmons was easily the most embarrassing witness to the defense which the state has yet produced, his familiarity with every circumstance of Hamlet's life from a time three months before the murder down to King Claudius's last speech in the play. His memory failed him not once through the whole long stay of his trial in connection with the death of Monsieur Hamlet. Emmons further testified to Hamlet's killing Polonius in his mother's closet, having taken him for Claudius. He corroborated the previous witness of the state as to fencing bout of Hamlet and Lord Leven and the killing of Claudius by Hamlet. He also identified "Exhibit A" as the rapier, with which Prince Hamlet stabbed the king.

COL. WERE CONFUSED

P. J. Cole, the state's second witness, was confused on cross examination as to the time of the murder, testifying that it occurred on the afternoon of Jan. 15. The defense showed him his testimony before the grand jury, in which place he placed the time as the evening.

The defense could draw from Mr. Cole little admission of change in Hamlet's appearance after the murder of his father.

IOWA CITY, IOWA, FRIDAY, MARCH 15, 1905

KOW-TOWED TO MUSK-OX

CROWNED BISHOP WORSHIPED SACRED ANIMAL

Distinguished Visitor Qualifies to Speak in Iowa Mutilation Ceremo ny—Subject of Orations, "The Conquering Nation"

Solemnity and dignity were with large upon the faces of the Select who awaited Crowned Bishop Cole's arrival on the afternoon train at the Rock Island station today. They had been cued with care and prepared to produce only the finest of entrees. The Select was proud to present their shepherd and German uncles well—we don't quite seem the men I have thought Iowa students were. Too thin-chested—not enough exertions in the Select pastoral.

"Yes, I've always taken delight in seeing students and professors exercising together, enjoying themselves on common ground especially with each other. Why, at Michigan and Chicago and Minnesota and Harvard and Yale and Nebraska—"

"You have an engagement for a meeting with state legislators, Col one!" interrupted the most brisk of the Select, while the others patted their comrade on the back.

"Do you think we can trust him this evening?" asked the Select as they made the sign of the two-horns when the guest was safely in his room.

"We'll have to, I guess," said Mr. Cole. "His subject is "The Conquering Nation", and he can't do much harm.

RHODES COMMITTEE

President H. H. Saylor Approves Selection of Iowa Scholarship Com mittee.

The college presidents who met Dr. Parkin in Chicago a short time ago at the invitation of President W. R. Harper have been much berated of late by Cedar Falls and Ames papers and correspondents. The Normalste in its current issue says flaky business has been done in the selection of the committee.

"These Diabolical Departmentals are kept and the Select were turned to toward the annual dinner in fifteen minutes," said Mr. Bryan. "Do you think we can "We don't see any select ones, who were turned to toward the annual dinner in fifteen minutes, yesterday, 20 minutes after the Select took their seats at their table, and no one thought of the broken oath marred by his homage of divinity qualify himself to speak to the Iowa students this evening."

"And now I must see the university," said Mr. Bryan. "So he was taken to the campus and shown the buildings and class-rooms, the seminaries and laboratories, the libraries and the observatories. But the guest became restive. "You have shown me many things that make men's minds great and have pointed out the chapels and sanctuaries where their spirits are taught duty and love—show me now where you teach their brains.

Then the Select took the visitor up to the fourth story of the library art halls. He examined the exhibits in the library and did not recognize any old school books, and many others had been ignored. Since my name has been mentioned as deserving such recognition. I write this letter to say that the committee as announced meets my entire approval and that I have not had and do not now have any different opinions from the educational essentials and the colleges of the state in charge of this kind of business and that any one who thinks differently is not well acquainted with the purpose or the plans of the late Cecil Rhodes."

President Saylor's open letter explaining his attitude is as follows:

Cedar Falls, Ia., March 11. Certain criticisms have appeared recently regarding the organization of the Iowa committee to manage the distribution of the Rhodes Scholarships. These criticisms have intimated that the right persons were not selected and that certain others had been ignored. Since my name has been mentioned as deserving such recognition. I write this letter to say that the committee as announced meets my entire approval and that I have not had and do not now have any different opinions from the educational essentials and the colleges of the state in charge of this kind of business and that any one who thinks differently is not well acquainted with the purpose or the plans of the late Cecil Rhodes."

The Daily Iowan will be sent to all subscribers in advance of the opera and a local paper calls them "smart alecks." that's one of the penalties of being a student.

Three men who were entirely innocent of throwing paper wads, but were watching the stage with a decent interest are suddenly expelled from the opera house and a local paper calls them "smart alecks." that's one of the penalties of being a student.

Sometimes during their banquet at the Imperial next Thursday, the Engineers ought to be able to figure out how to prevent plate glass windows from breaking when stones are thrown through them. They can all have an extra dish of ice cream if they do.

The outlook for those who annually attend the oratorical contests is better this year. Abraham, Caesar, and Charles Martel are excused from duty this time. Three of the orations deal with present day topics and none of the orations go back into history farther than 1787.

Amusements

The Chase-Lister Theater Company are playing a weeks engagement at the opera house. They are the leading western repertory attraction, this being their 9th annual tour. The play tonight will be "A Sea of Ice, or the Quest for Gold." The matinee tomorrow afternoon will be Cinderella. Special prices 10 and 25 cents to all parts of the house.

The " Rollettes" with Marguerita Sylva in the title role will be the medium of entertainment next, at the opera house March 20. Miss Sylva has been received with much favor on her two previous tours in a stellar capacity in "Princess Chic" and "Miss Bob White" and her natural charm and delightful personality has made her many friends. She is supposed to be an exponent of romantic roles but she has a strong comedy vein and is said to form a very pleasing picture in the part of "Bertie." The music perhaps is not as pretentious as that which she has been heard is before but it is tunefully pretty, and has a swing to it that it is a peculiarity of all of Ludwig Eng slander's compositions. The play was seen here last year and gave full evidence of its quality and a repetition with the augmentation of Miss Sylva to the cast should be a pleasant epoch in the present theatrical season. The cast is an unusually good one and includes such artists as George C. Boniface, Jr., D. L. Donn, Neil McNell, David Tor rence, Dorothy Hunting, Louise Middleton and others.

College Dancing School and Assembly every Wednesday and Saturday evenings at Kenyon hall. Reduced prices on all winter suits, underwear and caps at Bloom & Mayer.

News-Bulletin on Knipe

The University News-Bulletin, edited by L. A. Brewer, university publisher, for March has the following account of Dr. Knipe's resignation:

Dr. A. A. Knipe, Director of Physical Training at the State University of Iowa, has forwarded from New York his resignation to the board of regents. This resignation will be received with regret by every friend of the university. Dr. Knipe has been an efficient officer. Every effort was made by friends of athletics in the university to retain his services. To him more than to any one else are due the victories which has won on athletic fields in the last four years. His successor has not yet been chosen. It will be a difficult matter to secure a man with the experience and the judgment of Dr. Knipe. It is not definitely known what Dr. Knipe has in view for the future. It is thought however, he intends to devote time to the writing of articles on literary subjects.

To Shakespeare Clubs

So many Shakespeare clubs have applied for copies of the Iowa during the trial of Hamlet that the following offer is made: The Iowa throughout the trial for 45 cents.
