EDUCATIONAL VALUES

FACTS AND FICTIONS CONEERNING THEM

Abe Paper Read by Prof. Bolton to be Published in Journal of Pedagogy

The following is an extract from a paper on "Facts and Fictions Concerning Educational Values," which was read by Professor Bolton before the Political Science Club and is soon to be published in the Journal of Pedagogy.

"Should the question be raised as to why a given study is in a curriculum the usual answer either (1) because it is useful, or (2) because it is a valuable mental discipline. Most studies from the kindergarten through the university first gained an entrance because of the first reason. But once in, even though they have outlived their usefulness many continue they are apt to be retained because of their supposed disciplinary values. Wills, habits, and prejudices are im-"
We can only have good teams by having all the athletes of the University on the field from the first. Come out now, keep at it, and if you are any good at all you will in the long run win a place on one of the teams and the honor of representing the varsity. Even if you fail to make the team this year remember that next year you will be better fitted if you try hard this season. At least you will have the consolation of knowing that you made some other fellow work hard for his position and thus benefited the team and your Alma Mater.

Underclass Meet
We hope that it will not be found necessary to call off the Freshmen-Sophomore meet. This is one of the best and most interesting of the home meets and should be encouraged. The freshmen are generally willing to compete for their class team when they would be too timid and modest to come out for the varsity. Thus many good men are led to begin work on the track which leads to their becoming good out-class men.

By all means let us have the under-class meet. It is a beneficial contest both for the men and the University.

Now is the time to enroll in some good teacher’s agency. The Educational Exchange desires to send information regarding its plans to every teacher who thinks of making a change. You may not decide to enroll, but to look over our papers you can do no harm, and may do you good. The bulk of our work is done in Iowa, but during this month we have had written requests of teachers from South Dakota, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Ohio, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, Wyoming, Illinois, Washington, Indiana, Montana, Idaho, Colorado and Oregon also. A business of this kind cannot be built up in a day or a year. It requires a continual investment in advertising, particularly among those employing teachers, and above all, strict adherence to correct and honest business methods. Let us send you our papers.

John Temple Graves, the brilliant southern orator, and editor of the Atlanta Daily News, has the following to say of Hon. G. A. Gearhart who is to lecture here Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. course:

"Mr. G. A. Gearhart is, to my mind, one of the most valuable figures upon the American lyceum. I do not say these words perfunctorily or from mere professional courtesy. Following Mr. Gearhart as often I have done I have yet to come in contact with any Lyceum course in America where he has appeared that did not remember him with pleasure and speak of him in terms of enthusiastic admiration. He leaves behind a distinguished record of eloquence, earnestness, magnetism and a cheap goods put in for this sale, only our own High Grade goods. Come in and buy at your own price.
