SCHEDULE NEAR COMPLETION

Baseball Men are Showing up in Fine Shape—Practice 6 Games With Rock Island League

The baseball men are working hard and are rounding into fine shape for so early in the season. There is sharp competition for places and the players in the team was weak last year will be filled with strong players. The position behind the bat by which we were exceedingly weak last year is being tried for in at least three men are stronger than the last year’s catchers. The men who are showing up are equally well for this position are Montgomery, Adams, and Creighton.

In the best team will be Mill and Vos of last year while Hampson and Cranmer are promising catchers in the rest. Show ability to play most any infield position well.

Switzer, who has had college baseball experience before, is showing up fine and it is probable that if he keeps up a good work the vacancy left by Do Boise will not be seriously felt. Hawkins, Melzeng, and Sexton have a sharp race for short and the position is a toss-up between them. Any of the three show that they have a knowledge of the game the vacancy can be taken.

Vandergeist on second is showing up very well in his last years form. On first base Hampson is showing up well.

At the outfield Burns, Cood, Dye and a score of others have good chances.

The practice so far has been best, the men being given a chance to limber up their arms and feel the game. The bat-ting practice the men are most all showing up well. No one is batting all six practices with the rock island. These games will begin on April 20. Practice will be held with the scrub the beginning next week.

The work of completing the schedule has as yet been completed by manager McClain and Prof. Wlloox but they are expected to make their final arrangements soon.

TRACK WORK

After the cross-country run which is being run off today the track men will begin training for the home meet instead. The track men are all in good spirits and show great interest in the training and work. "It is a little early yet to select the sure point without spot," said Card against the men this morning for many of the new men are showing up well.

"We should send out one of the strongest track teams we ever had this spring. While we have a number of good men with us, there are a lot more with capability and talent.

The track program is an all-around affair and with a take a year or two to develop all is there in a man, hence it's very important that men should take up this work during their first year at the university. Everyone must work for the home meet. Everyone must work for the home meet. Every man should see what he can do."

PROF. STERETT MONDAY

Prominent Greek Professor Speaks in the General Lecture Room

John Robert Stimson Sterrett, Ph. D., Professor of Greek Language and Literature, Cornell university, will speak in the general lecture room at 8 p.m., Monday. The lecture is given under the auspices of the Iowa Society of Archological Institute of America. Prof. Sterrett will speak on the "Cave Dwellers of Asia Minor," more scientifically. "The Prodigies of Capadocia." He is thoroughly familiar with the region and the people discussed and is a recognized authority on them.

He has spent many years in making investigations and explorations in Asia Minor making five trips into the peninsula itself. He has traversed Asia Minor from Constantinople to Babylon, collected Greek and Latin inscriptions and located many ancient cities, among them Lystra, where St. Paul was stoned. He made many photographs of the volcanic regions of Mr回去, and of the cone formations, which were excavated into dwellings by the natives. These will be shown in stereoscopic views which will illustrate one of the most unique civilizations in the world.

A Teachers Bureau

The university is making a special effort to prepare thorough graduates for school teaching. The principles and superintendents and other school teachers presented in the right way, teachers of broad views and learning. Recognizing the demand the university not only to put them in the positions as soon as they are prepared. A board has been recently organized composed of the heads of departments in the college of liberal arts whose object is to act as a bureau on "Board of recommendation."

This board is not only a recommendation these recommendations of teachers but are also getting a line on the schools as well. Professor Bolton, the chairman of the board, is sending out confidential letters to the school boards of the state asking to be informed of vacancies. From the information thus received the board can recommend its best prospects. A p p y of the new men is greater than the applicants for them.

The Hammond Law Senate won both debates from the Philo last night.

IMPORTANT MATTES UP

REGENTS FACE WEIGHT PROPOSITIONS

New Buildings—Changes in Faculties

Athletic Matters Will be Considered—Additional Program of Law

The annual meeting of the full Board of Regents convenes next Thursday. Gov. Cummins who is a member of the board ex officio has signified his intention of being present and he will speak at assembly which will be on Thursday next week. Regent Geo. W. Cable of Davenport will be unable to attend this meeting owing to long and serious illness from effects of which he has not yet completely recovered.

"Matters of great importance will come up before this meeting. Plans will be decided upon for the erection of at least one more university building and possibly two. If only one building is projected, the gymnium will be weighed against the fire-proof building which the university holds as an addition as if the museum had the best of it, because it is probably the buildings will be authorized to be built consecutively.

The college of law is asking the Board for another professor. It was practically agreed by the regents last year to make this addition to the law faculty, but a suitable man could not be secured at that time. The committee is overcome, it is probable the law professors will be in this way relieved and the law faculty strengthened. For now members have been added to the law faculty since the three years course was sent to effect."

A bill will be presented before the board providing for their assuming a large part of the expenses of the improvements upon the athletic park which are at present charged against the Athletic Union. When these improvements were planned in 1900 the regents appropriated $20,000 to place this money in the athletic association account and if the regents will allow these figures as almost to double them. Thus a large sum was spent by the Athletic Union upon improvements on state property and while there is no legal claim on the regents to allow this bill the expenses are so strong in its favor that it will probably be successful. The fate of this matter is being anxiously watched by every student and friend of athletics.

Innumerable routine matters will of course come up for consideration and changes and changes are expected among the instructional corps of the university.

F. W. Crockett and W. P. McCuller leave for Chicago Monday as members to represent the university in the convention of the Phi Delta Phi fraternity.

The senior laws are convening a series of quizzes in preparation for the examination before the state bar in June.

THE PROM

Plans For Good Party

The first preennial class party which is to be given by the class of '04 bears evidence in its preparation paratories of bringing still continued progress for the annual prom.

The armory will be decorated in green and white. The committee charged with its decoration has elected the armory for the occasion.

The date is April 24 and Myers furnishes the music. The committee plans will be carried out at an estimated cost of $800.

Wisconsin’s Orator

Clifford C. Peake won the honor of representing the University of Wisconsin in the N. O. L. Oratorical contest this year. Mr. Pease is a junior member of the university, and is a declaredly good speaker, and won the sophomore, open oratorical contest. He took third place in the Wisconsin contest last year.

The Cardinal says of his oration on The Mission of Marshall," He told briefly the life of Marshall, his experiences in the army, the legislature and diplomacy. He refused to speak in this nation at the time of his call to the chief justiceship by John Adams were critical. A master mind was needed to make the constitutional powerful. He explored the entire domain of constitutional law and revolutionized the constitutional law of the supreme court. He refused the constitution by the individual states as it was in the Federal court. This was laid on the ordinance of Brown's law and the class went on to make the permanent of our nation.

All Souls’ Church—Topic at 10:15 a.m. "Love from the Naturalists’ Standpoint, with application to the Lenten season from Valentine’s day to Easter," a most interesting study. At 5:30 Y. P. R. U. address by Miss Grecley. 7:30 illustrated sermon: “The line of Profits from Moses to Paul” —in paintings from the great artists.

President H. C. King of Oberlin University, Ohio, will be the guest of President MacLean, of the State University of Iowa, April 9. He will make an address before the assembly and on that day, dividing the time with Gov. Cummins.

April 9—Third quarter ends.

The editors of this paper will gather up their traps, dust off their desks, and carefully arrange things in order; for Monday the fair coed holds sway. Then the whole force will be feminine from the woman editor-in-chief down to the...no, there is no woman devil connected with it. The regular stuff of the Iowans are coming back here after Easter to hunt for this place but not being sure of recognizing it will bid good-bye today.

The Woman's Edition will be beautiful for it will contain pictures of nearly every girl in college. It will be useful for it will contain an article on domes tic economy by one who has had much experience, and which tends to show that two can live as cheaply as one. There will be in it a touching story of the dreadful love affair of a cold-hearted instructor especially intended for those young ladies who desire to travel. This story comes direct from there hundred nights continuous performance in New York city. The Woman's Edition will be good because it is edited by the Y.W.C.A. girls, better because it is the West End Review and best, well "Just Because."

President Roosevelt visited Northwesterns and Chicago universities Thursday, he will speak in the University of Minnesota armory today and later, on his trip he will address the students of the University of California. As a college man himself, the president has always been loyal to his alma mater and to the best there is in college life.

It is hoped that arrangements can be made with both Wisconsin and Iowa for a series of inter-col legiate tennis tournaments in which both schools are entered under way and the management is satisfied that such games can be arranged.

Minnesota Daily

The Minnesota Daily has the following to say of President Arthur T. Hadley who spoke to Minnesota students recently:

"President Hadley has not a good 'stage presence' his manners and gestures are awkward but he gives the impression of earnestness and force."

Prof. F. E. Bolton leaves tonight for Sibley to give a week's course of lectures before the Osceola county institute. His theme will be child study, educational psychology, and the history of education.

The evening services at the Congregational church tomorrow will consist in the rendition of the cantata Nasarene by the church choir. Services commence at 7:30 p.m.

THE Burlington Route has just issued two publications of great interest to homesseekers.

"Nebraska," is the title of a 48-page book descriptive of the agricultural resources of the state, profusely illustrated with farm scenes and supplemented with an accurate sectional map.

"Big Horn Basin" is an illustrated folder telling all about the rich but undeveloped portion of Northwestern Wyoming. The Big Horn Basin contains wonderful openings for small ranches along good streams, with a million acres of government land open for settlement under the United States land laws.

Both publications will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in stamps. Address J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha.
