OUTLOOK BRIGHT

SCHEDULE NEAR COMPLETION

Baseball Men are Showing up in Fine Shape—Practice Games With Rock Island League

The baseball men are working hard and are rounding into fine shape for so early in the season.

There is sharp competition for places and the places in which the team was weak last year will be filled with strong players. The position behind the bat by which we were exceedingly weak last year is being tried for in at least three men who are stronger than the last years catcher. The men who are showing up about equally well for this position are Montgomery, Adams, and Creighton.

In the box we will have Miles and Vos of last year while Hampson and Cratsmeier are promising candidates. Hampson shows ability to play most any infield position well.

Switzer, who has had college baseball experience before, is showing up very well on third and it is probable that if he keeps up his good work that the vacancy left by Du Boise will not be seriously felt.

Hutchinson, Melzner, and Seerley have a sharp race for short and the position is a toss-up between them. Any of the three show that they have a knowledge of how the place is played.

Vandersteig on second is showing up to his last years form. On first base Hampson is showing up well.

In the outfield Burns, Cood, Dye and a score of others have good chances.

The practice so far has been light, the men being given a chance to limber up their arms and getting them strong. In batting practice the men are most all showing an ability to land on the ball. Six practice games will be played with the Rock Island Professional League team. These games will begin on April 20. Practice games with the scrubs will begin next week.

The work of completing the schedule has not yet been completed by manager McClain and Prof Wilcox but they are expected to make their final arrangements soon.

TRACK WORK

After the cross-country run which is being run off today the track men will begin training for the home meet in earnest. Track men are all in good spirits and show great interest in the training and work. "It is a little early yet to select the sure point winners yet" said Capt. Anderson this morning for many of the new men are showing up well.

"We should send out one of the strongest track teams we have had this spring. While we have a good bunch of men out, yet there are a lot more with capabilities who should be training. It takes a year or two to develop all there is in a man, hence it is very important that men should take up this work during their first years in the university. Everyone must work for the home meets to come. Every man should see what he can do."

PROF. STERETT MONDAY

Prominent Greek Professor Speaks in the General Lecture Room

John Robert Sitlington Sterrett Ph. D., Professor of Greek Language and Literature, Cornell university, will speak in the general lecture room at 8 p. m., Monday. The lecture is given under the auspices of the Iowa Society of Archaeological Institute of America. Prof. Sterrett will speak on the "Cave Dwellers of Asia Minor" or more scientifically, "The Troglodytes of Cappadocia" He is thoroughly familiar with the region and the people discussed and is a recognized authority on them.

He has spent many years in making investigations and explorations in Asia Minor making five journeys through that most historic region.

He traversed Turkey in Asia from Constantinople to Babylon; collected Greek and Latin inscriptions and located many ancient cities, among them Lystra, where St. Paul was stoned. He made many photographs of the volcanic regions of Mt. Argaeus, and of the cone-formations, which were excavated into dwellings by the natives. These will be shown in stereoscopic views which will illustrate one of the most unique civilizations in the world:

A Teachers Bureau

The university is making a special effort to prepare thoroughly qualified high school teachers, principals and superintendants. There is a good demand for teachers equipped in the right way, teachers of broad views and learning. Recognizing the demand the university not only is making strong efforts to equip her students along this line but as well is making plans which put them in the positions as soon as they are prepared. A board has been recently organized composed of the heads of departments in the college of liberal arts whose object is to act as a bureau or "Board of recommendation."

This board is not only in a position to make these recommendations of teachers but are also getting a line on the schools as well. Professor Bolton, the chairman of the board, is sending out circular letters to the school boards of the state asking to be informed of vacancies. From the information thus received the board can recommend its best prepared for the positions. The supply of positions is greater than are the applicants for them.

The Hammond Law Senate won both debates from the Philost last night.

IMPORTANT MATTERS UP

REGENTS FACE WEIGHTY PROPOSITIONS

New Buildings—Changes in Faculties Athletic Matters Will be Considered—Additional Program of Law

The annual meeting of the full Board of Regents convenes next Thursday. Gov. Cummins who is a member of the board ex-officio has signified his intention of being present and he will speak at assembly which will be on Thursday next week. Regent Geo. W. Cable of Davenport will be unable to come to the meeting owing to long and serious illness from effects of which he has not yet completely recovered.

Matters of great importance will come up before this meeting. Plans will be decided upon for the erection of at least one more university building and possibly two. If only one building is projected, the gymnasium will be weighed against the fire-proof museum building and it seems now as if the museum had the best chances. It is possible that both buildings will be authorized to be built consecutively.

The college of law is asking the Board for another professor. It was practically agreed by the regents last year to make this addition to the law faculty, but a suitable man could not be secured at that time. If this obstacle is overcome, it is probable the law professors will be in this way relieved and the law faculty strengthened. For new members have been added to the law faculty since the three years course went into effect.

A bill will be presented before the board providing for their assuming a large part of the expense of the improvements upon the athletic park which are at present charged against the Athletic Union. When these improvements were planned in 1900 the regents appropriated a sum calculated to pay for them by the engineer's estimates. The actual cost ran so much beyond these figures as almost to double them. Thus a large sum was spent by the Athletic Union upon improvements on state property and while there is no legal claim on the regents to allow this bill still the equities are so strong in its favor that it will probably be successful. The fate of this matter is being anxiously watched by every student and friend of athletics.

Innumerable routine matters will of course come up for consideration and several promotions and changes are expected among the instructional corps of the university.

F. W. Crocket and W. P. McCulla leave for Chicago Monday to represent the local chapter in the convention of the Phi Delta Phi fraternity.

The senior laws are commencing a series of quizzes in preparation to their examination before the state bar in June.

THE PROM

Plans For Good Party

The first prelethial class party which is to be given by the class of '04 bears evidence in its preparatory stages of bringing still continued progress for the annual prom.

The armory will be decorated in green and white. The committee have contracted with the electric light company to place one hundred incandescent lights in the armory for the occasion.

The date is April 24 and Myers furnishes the music. The committee plans will be carried out at an estimated cost of $200.

Wisconsin's Orator

Clifford C. Pease won the honor of representing the University of Wisconsin in the N. O. L. contest this year. Mr. Pease is a junior lit. student, was on the freshman declamatory contest, and won the sophomore open oratorical contest. He took third place in the Wisconsin contest last year.

The Cardinal says of his oration on "The Mission of Marshall," "He told briefly the life of Marshall, his experiences in the army, the legislature and diplomacy. The conditions which existed in this nation at the time of his call to the chief justiceship by John Adams were critical. A master mind was needed to make the constitution powerful. He explored the entire domain of constitutional law and revolutionized the conception of the supreme court. He found the constitution a flimsy parchment, he made it a powerful document. His mission was to place our law upon a broad, firm foundation to which is due the permanency of our nation."

All Souls' Church.—Topic at 10:45 a. m.: "Love from the Naturalists' Standpoint, with application to the Lenten season from Valentine's day to Easter," a most interesting study. At 6:30 Y. P. R. U. address by Miss Greeley. 7:30 illustrated sermon: "The line of Profits from Moses to Paul"—in paintings from the great artists.

President H. C. King, of Oberlin University, Ohio, will be the guest of President MacLean, of the State University of Iowa, April 9. He will make an address before the assembly on that day, dividing the time with Gov. Cummins.

Tennis Meeting Tonight

The tennis men hold a meeting tonight at 6:30 in Close Hall for the purpose of talking over the spring work. The State Tournament of the Iowa State colleges will be held in Iowa City on the 27th and 28th of May.

Today the editors of this paper will gather up their traps, dust off their desks, and carefully arrange things in order; for Monday the fair co-ed holds sway. Then the whole force will be feminine from the woman editor-in-chief down to the, —no, there is no woman devil connected with it. The regular staff of the IOWAN are coming back here after Easter to hunt for of recognizing it will bid good-bye today.

The Woman's Edition will be beautiful for it will contain pictures of nearly every girl in college. It will be useful for it will contain an article on domestic economy by one who has had much experience, and which tends to show that two can live as cheaply as one. There will be in it a touching story of the dreadful love affair of a cold-hearted instructor especially intended for those young ladies who desire to travel. This story comes direct from there hundred nights continuous performance in New York city. The Woman's Edition will be good because it is edited by the Y. W. C. A. girls, better because it is the WOMAN'S EDITION and best, well "Just Because."

President Roosevelt visited Northwestern and Chicago universities Thursday, he will speak in the University of Minnesota armory tonight and later, on his trip he will address the students of the University of California. As a college man himself, the president has always been loyal to his alma mater and to the best there is in college life.

It is hoped that arrangements can be made with both Wisconsin and Iowa for a series of inter-collegiate tennis tournaments. Negotiations are already under way and the management is satisfied that such games can be arranged.
—Minnesota Daily

The Minnesota Daily has the following to say of President Arthur T. Hadley who spoke to Minnesota students recently: "President Hadley has not a good 'stage presence' his manners and gestures are awkward but he gives the impression of earnestness and force."

Prof. F. E. Bolton leaves tonight for Sibley to give a weeks course of lectures before the Osceola county institute. His theme will be child study, educational psychology, and the history of education.
