The third annual meeting of the Western Philosophical Association was held in the room of the department of philosophy on April tenth and eleventh. Nearly all of the western schools were represented and several very interesting and instructive papers were read. These papers were discussed in a very free and spirited manner. The president of the association, Professor Woodbridge, now of Columbia University, was unable to attend, but his presidential address was read by Professor A. Ross Hill. A special feature of the program was a paper by Professor, J. E. Creighton of Cornell University on the "Standpoint of Experience." Professor G. T. W. Patrick of Iowa was elected president of the Association for the ensuing year, and Miss Mabel Clare Williams was elected a member of the association. The meetings were presided over by vice-president Arthur Allen. The visitors without exception expressed themselves as highly pleased by the hospitality extended them by the department of philosophy of the university and by President and Mrs. MacLean, and they left with the feeling that by attending the meetings they had received as well as given inspiration.

Amusements

Herman the Great, a favorite entertainer of magical phenomena will appear at the opera house tonight. He is the most expert conjurer now before the public, and his entertainments are both mystifying and amusing. Of engaging personality, extremely graceful, he is an ideal entertainer. In sleight of hand or palming he stands unequalled by sensational illusions. Among which are the "Princess Mahomed-a," a most mystifying illusion "Voyage instantaneous" a Chinese mystery, one of the most talked about tricks of the Asiatic conjurors.

James L. McCabe's "Maloney's Wedding Day" will take place at the opera house Monday next. It is the merriest jumble of fun and wholesome comedy ever put together. The company is headed by James L. McCabe and comes herald by press and public as capable of amusing an audience through three acts of the brightest comedy-drama presented this season.

The dramatic field is always open for novelties - in fact, it is essential that new ideas be constantly applied to keep up the interest of a stage whose superfluous devices pall with repetition. One of the note worthy new things that stand out prominently among the season's successes is E. J. Carpenter's great play. "A Little Ojibway," which comes to the opera house Saturday afternoon and evening.

 Locals

And the board instructed the building committee to rush this one new building for this purpose.

The Burlington Route has just issued two publications of great interest to homeseekers. "Nebraska" is the title of a small book descriptive of the agricultural resources of the state, profusely illustrated with farm scenes and supplemented with an accurate sectional map. "Big Horn Basin" is an illustrated folder telling all about the rich but undeveloped portion of Northwestern Wyoming. The Big Horn Basin contains wonderful openings for small ranches along good streams, with a million acres of government land open for settlement under the United States land laws. Both publications will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in stamps. Address J. FRANCIS, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha.
