DAWNEE CLUB'S DEBUT

DATE IS SET FOR MAY SEVENTH

Dramatic Club Will Make Initial Bow in Emmerson—Proceeds Go to Athletics—Talented Cast

The dramatic club will make their initial appearance in public on Thursday, May 7th. This is the date set for the production of Emeralds at the opera house. The play is a pretty melodrama whose plot is laid among the pine forests of North Carolina. It consists of four acts with scenes at North Carolina and Paris. No change has been made in the cast as announced in this issue. For the past month rehearsals have been held once a week but the club is now meeting twice weekly.

The work is under the able direction of Miss E. S. Graham, and it is expected that the coming production will far surpass any former attempts by student companies in the theatrical line. This is the first time that such performances of such pretensions has been put on by a cast selected from the whole institution. The only former productions like this one, which have been put on have been the senior class plays.

The net proceeds of the play will be turned into the treasury of the Athletic Union. At the first of the year several members of the instructional staff planned to give a theatrical performance for the benefit of athletics but the project fell through from a lack of student cooperation.

The Dramatic club took up the idea all this winter and the approaching performance, in a way, takes the place of the former one. It is more than likely that owing to the known ability of the players and the popularity of the play and the public object for which it is given that the entertainment will be greeted with an unprecedented advance sale and a crowded house. Notice of the date of sale of reserved seats will be given later.

THE DAILY IOWAN
Second Year. No. 112

The medical quadrangle is now located street to the Iowa river. This is in addition of the block Iowa field. In short the state's post office is and where the holdings originally comprised all the property which is held at an exorbitant estate is clearly indicative of the policy of the board in regard to enlarging the university campus.

The work of the regents comprising plans for the erection of new buildings, the election of a new professor of law, the organization of the University's extension work, the adoption of a resolution which is the first step in the establishing of a school of applied science, and the outlining of a policy for obtaining a sufficient campus, made the last the most important meeting of those officials in years.

The creation of a new professorship in the college of law as well as the projection of a building for that college after the school of engineering is cared for, shows that the needs of students of Blackstone are in the minds of the regents.

The sun and warm weather are welcome to work and baseball men among others.

J. Carpenter's great play. "A Little Outcast" which comes to the opera house Saturday afternoon and evening.

The Alumni Directory

In large universities a valuable publication is the Alumni Directory giving names of alumni, date of graduation, address and occupation with other interesting information. Large and complete directories have been published at several neighboring state universities, but at the present time our own institution has no such volume.

Many years ago a catalog of officers and alumni of our university was published, giving names down to 1865. Two years later an Alumni Business Directory was issued by the alumni association containing location and occupation of its members. Since at that time not all graduates were members of the Alumni Association, the list even in 1887 was far from being a complete directory of the alumni.

At the last annual meeting of the Alumni Association steps were taken toward providing for this recognized need. A resolution was passed calling for the appointment of a statistics committee to cooperate with the officers of the university in the preparative and publication from time to time of catalogues of all persons receiving degrees from the university. The committee consisted at that time consisting of Mrs Kate B. Rodgers, Prof. Leona A. Call and Prof. H. G. Plum have been at work gathering statistics and other information for an Alumni Directory. The work of mailing to all graduates cards with blanks for the desired information is almost finished, and many responses have already been received.

This is but a beginning, but the prospect is good for the publication in the near future of an Alumni Directory.
