IOWA SHUTS-OUT DRAKE

ERRORLESS GAME PLAYED AT DES MOINES

Adam's High Catch The feature of the Contest—Burns Knocks Ball Over Side Fence. Iowa found itself yesterday Shutting out an errorless game played in the capital city by a score of 5 to 0. Captain Johnnie Vos was in the box and he allowed the Blue and White but 6 hits and they were well scattered. Johnnie's intrepid support was perfect, not an error being made by the Hawkeyes who were out to retrieve the one left him untouched. Dey Decorah the day before. They did it in true Iowa way, getting eleven hits making the complete fielding record. The feature of the game was Adam's High Catch of a wild throw from first successfully tagging Moore, who was trying to score on a single. This was in the last half of the third inning and were out, allowing the next chance to score during the game. Burns brought down the grand total of 15 hits by the ninth inning the ball over the left field fence which by the ground rules counted two a base hit. The first score of the game was made in the first inning on a combination of a hit by pitched ball, an error and a hit by a throw slaying by Drake fielders. Switzer went down on a ball in the ribs. Burns, who was hit on the nose by that ball, and Switzer had scored. Daytona's young Iowa scored again, this time with an earned run. Dye held off with a single and two strikes and on a fielders choice which gave Hampton first base. Dye made another error and Switzer had to stay on third, but Burns the next man up, came to bat with a time out and double and Dye scored the next man flew out to Rawson, who made a catch looking straight into the sun. In the next three innings Iowa failed to score but in the seventh they secured three. An error by Morgan gave Adams a life at first. Vos arrested and landed safely. Owlsley was slow in holding the ball and the men landed safely on second. Owlsley here went up in the air for a few minutes and Dye, Hampton and Sargent each secured a single which, coming all together, scored the third run. They would undoubtedly have added still more to the total but for the sharp playing of the Walker and Walker in, in the next two innings. It was one, two, three, with one more double play in the ninth.

The Register—said the game, "It was one of the best contest scenes here noted in a long time.

OFF FOR MINNEAPOLIS

Delegate Leaves Tonight Walker Unable to go

E. J. Shumahan, H. E. Hadley and probably Albert Harris have tonight at 6:35 for Minneapolis where the annual contest of the N. O. L., occurs tomorrow. Henry Walker won second place in the home contest and was entitled thereby to go to the meeting of the league as delegate from the state. He has been designated as the next man by extra details. It is probable that Fred Albert who won fifth place in the contest on March 17 was planning to go at one time. Iowa has arranged for a special wire from Minneapolis after the contest and will give its readers a full account of the contest on Saturday's issue.

Congratulations

We congratulate the Athletic Union management of the University on its success in raising the Athletic debt. We congratulate the university on the spirit shown by friends and students generously contributing. Tinswell knows the troubles that come with such a debt and the feeling of relief that results from payment. The energetic way in which the matter was taken up and the general interest felt by the students ought to be a sign of good support to spring athletics and Drake University. Any student body will support a winning team but when individuals have to go out of their pockets to pay debts and do it willingly and cheerfully, there is evidence of healthier and more permanent loyalty to college interests—Scarlet and Black.

The program at assembly today was a musical one. M. C. Robison gave a vocal solo, "Tell Her I Love Her So" from DeFaye. IRVINGS BEAT PHILOS

First of the Inter-Society Games a 4-2 Victory for Irving

The first baseball game in the literary society series which was played off yesterday afternoon resulted in a close 4-2 victory for the Irving's. The game was interesting and close from the very start and it produced a fairly decided winner. The last man was out in the ninth inning when the score card showed 4 to 2 with the odds against the Philo-matics. The game indicated that baseball is far from a day ball as well as debate, for in all there were only four errors made up against both teams during the entire game. The battery work was not up to the fielding, and many men struck out on both sides although this is accounted for by the fact that the pitching on both sides was good.

Stebbins Praises Varsity

Mayor Stebbins in his address yesterday praised the varsity. "This is an Institution of which all Iowa is proud—an institution from which there is constantly going forth an influence that is penetrative not only in Iowa but the entire northwest.

It is an institution that has developed a manhood and a character of the State Historical society, filing over many relics of pioneer Iowa.

There is also the university library, the largest in the state and containing specimens gathered at great expense from the entire world, and equalled by nothing in the west.

Proper Use of Athletics
President Roosevelt recently in an address before the University of Minnesota, stated clearly the proper relation athletics should bear to student life.
He said, "I believe in athletics thoroughly. But let me add one proviso. I believe in them in their place. I don't want to see the boy nothing but an athlete; and when he has become a man I would like to see a much stronger expression than that. It is a first class thing to see a man of 20 who is a good halfback; but if at 40 all you can say of him is that once he was a good halfback, then I am sorry for him. Good hard play is an admiral thing as long as you recollect that it is play. If you mistake it for work, if you think it is the end better not play at all. If the boy who was a good man on his crew, a good man on his nine, a good man on the team, if when he leaves college treats that as partly an agreeable incident, partly a bit of preparation for the real work of life, which is not without its value, why then it is fine for him. But if he thinks he has struck what ought to be his main profession, then it is a misfortune to him.
To repeat what I said a few days ago, I want to see the young men of America, whether in or out of the universities, fine of body; I want still more to see them fine of mind, but most of all we must hope that they develop well that which counts for far more than body, far more than mind—character.

At the recent senior reception President Maclean and Professor Finn advocated a plan that should receive immediate attention; the forming of a permanent organization by this year's seniors. The object of this is to strengthen the alumni association. Aside from the mere increasing of the association's power, it will make stronger the bonds of fellowship among the members. The strongest supporters of any school is its alumni. Then let them systematically organize that the greatest good may result.

Yesterday the university gladly kept open house for the guests of Iowa City. To let the people overrun the university once in a while is good for both. It tends to counteract the garbled press reports that the public, ignorant of the real facts, read and believe. On the other hand, it teaches the student body to respect and to appreciate a phase of life different from theirs. The good natured spirit of a crowd is at bottom everywhere the same. The apparent difference is in the eye of the one watching.

Better write that invitation to your friend to come to commencement. It is true we will have no senior circle this year, but the star attraction will be the greatest commencement the university has ever known.
