KNOX PLAYS GOOD GAME

IOWA'S FIRST DEFEAT IOWA FIELD

Knox's Hits and Iowa's Fielding and Battery Errors Gave the Knox Team a Lather Score

Iowa was defeated 10 to 5 by Knox college on Iowa field yesterday. The game was the first college contest lost on the home field this season. It was a good contest, saving a few errors by the Iowa fielders and some loose hitting by Miles. Knox hit the ball well and fairly consecutively. She was aided by advantageous bases on hits and hits on errors by the Iowa fielders. Essek for Knox pitched an excellent game. Iowa found time for enough hits and hit well enough to have won the game had Knox scores by hits and errors been kept to a reasonable figure.

The score: Knox 7, Iowa 5.

Knox's scorers: Byer, 3; Perley, 3; Rush, 1; Essek, 1.

Iowa's scorers: Hinkle, 2; Griffith, 1; Magee, 1; Page, 1; and Plumb, 1.

DRAMATIC CLUB

ESSEK TAKES CHARGE

Emerson College Ensemble

The performance of Emerson held yesterday afternoon in the dramatic club was a great success. It was a success not alone from the stand of play of the audience, but of making a goodly sum for the athletic union.treasury, but those who are learned in the art of dramatic work pronounce the work of the players last night as of a distinctly superior type.

Marie Lynch in the title role, was extremely well-adapted to her part and drew from round after round of applause, being given twice. The stage appearance was admirable and her work of the highest order throughout, though, perhaps lacking a little force at the climax. Willing however, Mrs. Rogers could hardly be improved upon. Mrs. Banglin's work was such that one forgot the player and thought only of the play, a thing which rather uncommon in amateur theatricals. She wishes to take it up as a stage career waiting for Mr. Banglin in which his success is assured.

Ethel Elliot as Nora Desmond was decidedly a goodly part and took the part of a pretty and rather flighty young lady with success. Miss Callen's portrayal of Mrs. Rogers was very good albeit she would seem to be more adapted to a kindly and soft-voiced part rather than that of a strong-headed woman. C. A. Dykstra as Mrs. Estabrook posed as a young artist in love with Nora, and was second most admirable. Dave Hardy, the mountain man was well presented by Mr. Casper Schenck very satisfactorily. Anna Gay in a minor part was well presented by Mr. Casper Schenck very satisfactorily. Anna Gay in a minor part was well presented by Mr. Casper Schenck very satisfactorily.

THE MANY MEN IN HOME MEET

ORDER OF EVENTS FOR TOMORROW

A Good Meet is Promised--Winners Given Medals--Track Team to be Picked

The home meet field will be held tomorrow afternoon on Iowa field commencing at 2:30 p.m. Judging from the entry list which is given below a treat is in store for all who attend the games. The winners of the various events will be given medals which, as usual, are donated by the organizations of the university. Besides this the result of tomorrow's contest will be a great aid to the determining who compose the members of the regular track squad this spring.

Everyone should make a point to see this meet if possible. It may be the only meet on Iowa field this spring and besides the team deserves the encouragement and support of a large audience that goes to watch Rogers could hardly be improved upon. Mrs. Banglin's work was such that one forgot the player and thought only of the play, a thing which rather uncommon in amateur theatricals. Congratulations

The success of the dramatic club last evening in its initial appearance is most pleasing. The club fills a sphere which is an important part of the student life of many universities and which has been too little cultivated in the past here at Iowa. While farces have been put on occasionally and a cast from the senior class has each year appeared before the footlights at commencement time yet these have been but sporadic and disconnected efforts. The organization of the dramatic club provided a centralizing factor for all lines of student dramatic work and not only looked to improving what we were doing but to tempting things unattainable before. The complete and remarkable success of last night's play assures the continuation and growth of the dramatic club and the Iowan predicts for it a rosy future and many coming triumphs
on the boards.

Very much of the credit for last night's success is due to Miss Mary Sleigh Everts who has given her time and talents to coaching the players and to Mr.
Clarence Dykstra who managed the troupe as well as played a part.

There was not a very large faculty representation at Eastereida last evening. Wonder if the faculty were jealous over the non-materializing of the talked of fact of faculty play?

The winning streak the baseball
men had, seemed to play-out yesterday afternoon.

Tonight Iowa meets Wisconsin
on the bloodless battle-field of debate.
