Both home records were broken. C. H. Swift broke his own record in the discus by throwing 220 yards. Weinrich broke the oldest record, 155 ft. in the pole vault made by H. Buhman in May, 1895. After standing for 23 years it was raised to 220 ft, 6 in. by Weinrich.

Soph's Take Cup
The sophomore liberal arts class took the Chantallion trophy cup, 185 points to 163. The competition in the meet was more exciting than before, due to the exciting finish in the discus throw. Weinrich broke the oldest record, 155 ft. in the pole vault made by H. Buhman in May, 1895. After standing for 23 years it was raised to 220 ft, 6 in. by Weinrich.

Seniors Medics Frasted and Toasted
Dr. Jepson Entertain the Class of 1903
The Medics Forgive Their Pro's and Forget Their Exams in the Menu and Toasts
The junior and senior classes at the college of medicine were royally entertained by Dr. Jepson, professor of medicine, at the St. James hotel last evening. The banquet was proffered on the menu and served at 9:30 by the board to the dining hall where an elaborate course banquet was served. After which the medical quartette responded with two well chosen songs.
The following toasts were given:
Our medical college, S. W. Huson '03; A Few Straw Thinks, R. K. Kalp '04; The University, E. J. Dunn '04; Surgery, E. J. Whirather '03.
Dr. Albert Baug's as toast master proved himself worthy of the occasion. The toasts were clever and to the point including both humor and thought.
Dr. Jepson expressed to all a call from his guests showed himself to be an able after-dinner speaker. He spoke of the eminent contribution in which were found both classes after their examinations in surgery last week and hoped that the menu that he had prepared would act as the set.
Mr. Angus in response to a call gave "Morning Call From the Barnyard" which followed a selection by the quartette. Dr. Albert thanked the host in behalf of both classes for the pleasures of the evening and all departed with nine rabs for their host and the college of medicine.

The freshman laws yesterday passed resolutions of sympathy and expressions of sympathy with Prof. Hayes in his recent bereavement.

President Recieves
The faculty of the law of the members of the senior law class were guests at a reception given by President and Mrs. MacLean last evening. The occasion was delightfully informal and furnished an evening of enjoyably social intercourse between the faculty and their families and the officers and members of the senior law class.
The company was addressed briefly by Dean Gregory, Hon. M. Remley and Judge M. W. Wade.

Four-Year Course Remains
Chicago, May 11—With but a few dissenting voices the college faculty and the president and president-elect declared the present four-year course should remain as it is. Only 121 presidents and professors were present. It was held by nearly every speaker the college has a field peculiar to itself irrespective of technical or professional schools.
The state convention of P.E.O. began a two days session today. A large number of alumnae are here as delegates.
Professor and Mrs. K. St. Evev of St. Paul were among the many who attended the late meeting in Europe. Mrs. Esther Swisher and Miss Mable Foster will accompany them. They will leave the latter part of June and be gone two months.

same time wish to compliment Iowa on the excellent showing made by her representatives.

It is too bad that Iowa City is to have a convention in which no opportunity will be given the university students to insult the delegation,—as there will be no public demonstration. What will the papers do for news and editorials? What bitter gag for them to be compelled to say, "The delegates report a splendid time, and all unite in praising the cordiality and respect shown them by the city and university. Several university people in fact belong to the association."

We regret that the convention now within the city, will give no occasion for Iowa City police to don their uniforms and assisted by the university juniors, march at the head of the procession to clear a way through the howling, jeering mobs.

Things are a doing this week. As one freshman remarked to another: "The Elks are going to have a big time here. Didn't you hear about the P. E. O. convention?"

The question of a sob doesn't seem to bother the senior civil engineers, or those pedagogically inclined.

THe Daily Cardinal has the following compliments for the Iowa debaters:

"We felicitate with our debaters over their victory in the Iowa Wisconsin contest. The victory is especially significant because of the strong debaters who made up the Iowa team. The Iowa men are all debaters, two of whom have represented Iowa before in intercollegiate debate. Their presence and ease on the floor and the adaptability with which they manipulated their rebuttal arguments are proof of this. Many in the audience thought that, taking the Iowa team as a whole, they surpassed our own team on delivery. It is certain that Wisconsin won on her strong arguments although our men made a good showing in delivery as well.

We extend congratulations to the Wisconsin team and at the

The Iowa Festival

The musical editor of the Des Moines Capital says:—The past ten years has seen a marked change in musical conditions in the state of Iowa. Ten years ago there was very little good music, or appreciation of good music anywhere in the state, and almost no opportunity of hearing concerted music, except of a semi-amateur kind. One after another the various colleges of the state have inaugurated annual musical festivals of a high order of merit which are going far to educate the young people of the state. Among the best of these will be the second annual festival to be held at Iowa City on the 16th of May, when two concerts will be given. The association has secured the services of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and such soloists as Wilson, Lurbeck, Bensford, Van Dordt, Wagner and Seelboeck who will give an afternoon symphony concert, besides appearing at the evening concert in Mendelssohn’s “Elijah.” The chorus of seventy voices which has been working on this, the most dramatic of all the oratorios, since last September, is thoroughly imbued with the spirit of the music, and a fine concert is assured.

Hesperian Special

The freshman girls of Hesperia assisted by some of the Zet brothers, gave two excellent farces Saturday night. The bill was “Baker Bakers” and “The Cool Collegians.” In the title role of the first, Marian Moody carried off the honors. In the second the stars were Robert Quigley and Janette Stone. Both farces were well rendered, and promise talent for future senior class plays.

Charles A. Williams has returned to his college work at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, having recovered from his recent illness. Mr. Williams will return to Iowa City in June as he is to be an assistant in the German department during the summer session.
