Monument of Usefulness
Enough money has been spent on class memorials in the last few years to do something really creditable, yet all of them have resulted in disappointment to many members of the class donating them. Some have been notoriously failures, and have become the laughing-stock of the student body. Something permanently useful, chosen with regard to the amount of benefit that will result to the alma mater rather than for show and ostentation would furnish a more fitting memorial of a college class than statuary, show cases, or disused fountains. A loan fund for needy students such as was established by Mitchel Anderson in such a memorial as all may be proud of.

Another Line of Expansion
Next year the university will take up university extension work in an earnest, systematic way. This means that the university is going to serve the people of Iowa more fully and beneficially in this branch of educational work. The courses offered are numerous, varied and valuable. The terms are such as to place them within reach of all university extension circles. Under the able direction of Professors Widcox and Mackrille the extension work of the university cannot but accomplish much.

The band rendered a beautiful concert yesterday afternoon and so effectually played themselves into the hearts of all that they were taken to Des Moines today by the Athletic Union.

Do not forget when home this summer that you are still a university man and that there are many good things you can do for Iowa in your home town.

THE CAPITAL CITY COMMERCIAL COLLEGE
Y. M. C. A. Building, Des Moines, Iowa
Is the largest and most successful commercial school in the west. Nearly one thousand students attend it each year. There are sixteen members in the faculty. The school has a national reputation and is everywhere regarded as a leader among business training schools. It occupies a position among institutions of this character similar to that of Princeton, Harvard and Yale among the leading college and universities. It has become famous throughout the western states, not only through the thorough work it is doing in the way of training young men and women for active commercial pursuits. Hundreds of our graduates are today occupying responsible positions in the principal cities and towns of the west. To help our students to keep pace with these new developments in our teachers are using the latest and most advanced course of instruction. It contains detailed in- formation relative to the work of the various departments. Address
