SPANGLER WINS SWORD

NUGENT WITH COMPANY "A" SECOND

Competitive Drill and Inspection Held Tuesday Afternoon—Major Bruce Inspects and Judges Competition

In the annual competitive drill yesterday Captain H. E. Spangler of company "C" was awarded the Coast Sword, which goes annually to the captain of the best drilled company. Company "A," commanded by Captain Emery, was awarded second place and the Wieneke medal.

The third and fourth companies were, "B," Captain M. R. Charlton; and "D," Captain C. W. Watson.

The drill differed somewhat from those of previous years in that the markings were only on the company officers, mistakes of the companies or men not being counted. "A" and "C" moved and marched and the captain counted. Each company was given ten minutes to go through the movements, which were mainly by platoons.

The competitive drill followed the annual inspection by the regular army officers. Major Bruce of company "A" U. S. A. was the inspector this time.

In speaking of the merits of the battalion, Major Bruce stated that the battalion drill was of high order, that the first, second, and third, the highest attainable marking. He said that the drill of the unit was the best west of the Missouri in the regular army.

He complimented Colonel Britt on the excellence of the drill and discipline of his command.

Junior Medics Entertained

The junior class of the college of medicine were given a dinner at the Burkle Imperial by Dean G. H. last evening. President MacLean was present and was called upon by the guests for a few words. He told quite touchingly of the chaplain services when he was in college, at the time of the drill. He talked freely of the professors in the class room and how much they mean to all in one's memory. The professor does his part in the instilling of the love of God.

The third company performed a few moments in that pleasing manner which has made him so popular throughout the state. He told quite touchingly of the chapelin services when he was in college, at the time of the drill. He talked freely of the professors in the class room and how much they mean to all in one's memory.

The drill was nominally held for the benefit of the guests and the city at Des Moines.

The provisions are made to conform to the conditions of the contest, instead of previously as was the old system. A second place for the opposite, the other, is that, in case there are not more than six constitutants, a preliminary contest will be held to reduce the number to six, when the home contest will be held to reduce the number to six, when the home contest will be between these.

tried in every imaginable way to force his enemy from the board. First, he thought out his educational board of control scheme, thinking that would terminate the board of regents entirely and leave Mr. Lane out. Then he began attacking the board of regents as a whole, criticizing their acts and impugning their intentions. And this was only the beginning. He turned his personal spite against the whole institution and the columns of his paper have of late been filled with articles directed against students and faculty alike and displaying the meanest and most contemptible of carping, petty-fault-finding spirits. Every infraction of statute and sedate decorum committed by students he takes delight in magnifying and painting up into an outrage "and a crime. The actions of students toward the Odd-Peopled were a "crying shame" and the acts of the elephant which nearly escaped from its drunken driver became in his hands "Another Student Outrage!

Now he announces his intention to carry on the war indefinitely and to cut off all appropriations for the university by the next legislature. Such are his wishes. It is good that his influence and power does not equal the volume of his malice.

The assemblies of the year are over. They have filled a long-felt want and should in the future be a permanent feature.

Two Books—Two Cents

The Burlington Route has just issued two publications of great interest to homeseekers. "Nebraska" is the title of a 45-page book descriptive of the agricultural resources of the state, profusely illustrated with farm scenes and supplemented with an accurate sectional map.

"Big Horn Basin" is an illustrated folder telling all about the rich but undeveloped portion of Northwestern Wyoming. The Big Horn Basin contains wonderful openings for small ranches along good streams, with a million acres of government land open for settlement under the United States land laws. Both publications will be sent to any address on receipt of two cents in stamps. Address J. Francis, General Passenger Agent, Burlington Route, Omaha.
