President Bradley Preaches Upon the Lessons Derived from Personal Freedom of a Great University

The baccalaureate exercises were held at the opera house yesterday afternoon. Promptly at four o'clock the gowned processes of graduates and faculties emerged from liberal arts hall.

President Dan F. Bradley of Iowa College preached the baccalaureate sermon taking his text from Gen. 28:27, "And God said, 'Let man make man in our image, after our likeness.' So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him." He drew from these words the idea of the responsibility imposed by individual freedom.

He said that in the modern university, men living in freedom learn to add responsibility to freedom. This is the great lesson of life today and it is learned in the gaining of the freedom of the individual is great and each one stands on his own intellectual and moral worth. True democracy such as belongs to the university spirit develops responsibility above all and next charity.

This university spirit is that spirit of self-forgetfulness and whole-heartedness which is sometimes seen in the men in the athlete who throws himself headlong into the game.

At the close of the sermon President MacLean addressed a few words to the classes paying a fitting tribute to the late President Schaeffer under whose presidency the graduates entered the university. He repeated Dr. Schaeffer's oft-quoted words to full of meaning to the college man, "As your alma mater honors you, may you so honor her. Be True."

The program was:

JOHN G. CHALMERS SUCEEDS KNIFE

LAFAYETTE TACKLE AND CAPTAIN UNANIMOUSLY CHOSEN

Resigns Physical Directorship of Franklin and Marshall College to Accept Iowa Position — Has a Great Reputation as Captain, Coach and Physical Director

John G. Chalmers, the new head of the department of physical training and athletics, comes to Iowa with a high reputation and the best of recommendations from well known eastern and western men who have been acquainted with him and his work.

His ability to get a great amount of work out of his men, to inspire them with great zeal and enthusiasm, and a spirit of victory, has been an especial characteristic of his work as a captain at Lafayette in 1900 and as a coach since. At Franklin and Marshall he is higher esteemed than three former coaches, Hedges, now assistant coach at Pennsylvania; Oltland, lately physical director at Kansas, and Bull, now assistant coach at Pennsylvania and in '96 coach of Iowa's first strong eleven.

Mr. Chalmers was prepared for the Amherst Academy of Delhi, N.Y. Here he was captain of the relay team and of the baseball nine. Entering Lafayette in 1897, he made the football, baseball, gymnastics and track teams in his freshman year. During his two years on the eleven, Lafayette was coached by Parke H. Davis, in his last two years by Dr. S. D. Newton, Dr. Knife's friend who spent the summer of 1899 visiting in Iowa City.

Mr. Chalmers was for two years director of the gymnasium of the Phillipsburg Athletic Club at Philadelphia, N. J., and for the past year has been director of the gymnasium at Franklin and Marshall college.

Prof. F. A. March, Jr., chairman of the faculty athletic committee at Lafayette, recommend ed Mr. Chalmers very highly as the best man available to his knowledge, speaking of him especially as a man fully conversant with the latest rules and systems, a hard worker and a man determined to make a success of his work.

Dean J. R. Guthrie, of the college of medicine recommended Mr. Chalmers, who in his higher terms speaking from what he knew and heard of him at Dubuque, recommended him highly. A. D. Chaundler, a Lafayette man who was married last month to Miss Matilda Slato, Ex-03, who played on the Lafayette eleven, also recommended Mr. Chalmers and other noted players recommended Mr. Chalmers in highest terms for the position.

of lieutenant governor a couple of years ago. Now Brant is taking his revenge not on this man nor on the board of regents but upon the school which is supported by the people and is for the people of Iowa. By attacking the State University of Iowa Dave Brant not only attacks the school and board of regents but he attacks every person in the state. * * *

It would be well for the editors of Iowa to let the people know the cause of the attack on the university by the Iowa City Republican and the stories printed in other papers throughout the state. The Iowa university is attended by as good and clean a lot of young men and ladies as any school in the country and should be the pride of the state. The regents are chosen from Iowa’s men and they are well able to care for and do so care for the needs of the university. Brant’s attacks on the school are to say the least foolish and should be given credit for in proportion to the amount of love that Brant shows for the school and state.—Waterloo Times-Tribune.

Let the cause be known

The Waterloo Times-Tribune has the following to say editorially of Dave Brant and his attacks on the university.

"Ever since coming to Iowa City, the seat of our state university, from Clinton, Dave Brant the editor of the Iowa City Republican has attacked the university and its management at every turn of the road. The student publication, the Iowan has stood his attacks without much comment or resentment until the present time when with much force and truthfulness it tells the reason of Brant’s feeling toward the university. The feeling of cowardly opposition which Brant has toward the university is caused first by his not being recognized as a council of the board of regents of the school and second by one of the members of the board of regents, Joe Lane of Davenport, recently placed on the board, being an old time political enemy of Brant’s in the second district. Lane succeeded in causing the defeat of Brant as a candidate for the nomination of
