THE UNIVERSITY CHORAL UNION PRACTICING

Will Give Gaul's "Holy City," Some Time in December

The university choral union will give Gaul's "Holy City" by Gaul some time in December.

The first meeting for practice will be held next Tuesday evening in the hall of liberal arts auditorium. The choruses will practice under the direction of Dr. J. G. Gilchrist, who has successfully conducted the concerts in the past. The meetings of the union will be private, and meetings will be open to all university students who desire to take part in the production of the oratorio.

After the holidays, the choruses will begin rehearsing upon "The Messiah" for the May Festival of Music.

SUMMER LIBRARY SCHOOL

Will Organize a State Association

It has been announced that the members of the summer school of library training held several years ago in this city will form a state organization at the meeting of the state library association, which will be held in Marshalltown beginning October 10th. The Register and Leader has the following to say about the proposed organization:

"A plan is now being looked toward the formation of an organization of instructors and students of the Iowa summer school of library training in connection with the state library association meeting to be held in Marshalltown. The school is one which is held each summer in Iowa City, under the auspices of the state library commission and has been steadily growing in popularity and attendance.

There are now between sixty and seventy-five alumni of the school in the state and it is expected that a strong organization will be formed.

The Law Societies

Last night the societies formally opened the college year.

At the Hammond Law Senate the features of the evening were the inauguration of a new informal debate. Mr. Cross emphasized the value of an idea as opposed to money getting.

At the Forum the program was a very pleasant evening. At the close of the literary program Mr. Sutherland was elected as debater on the Northwestern pre-liminary to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Walrod's resignation.

Famous Tennis Player Enters Iowa to Take His Work

John T. Bailey, famous in west and east as a player of tennis and tennis critic, has entered the graduate college of the University of Iowa and will try for the Iowa tennis team this fall and spring. Bailey was graduated at the University of Chicago on account of his athletic ability, as well as for his work at other universities in the west and east. He played in the National Tennis tournament in Minneapolis last summer and noted especially the style of play of all the western and eastern college men and at tournaments this summer.

Mr. Bailey is about to take advanced work in English preparatory to doing literary work. He examined carefully the teaching staffs of the leading graduate schools in the United States and determined to enter Iowa as Professor Kibby's assistant in the classics and to spend the remainder of the school year in the classics.

Mr. Bailey is the author of an article on "The Influence of the Daughters of America on American Tennis" in the October Outing.

GYMNASIUM SCHEDULE

Issued by T. M. C. A.- State Meeting of Physical Directors

The Y. M. C. A. gymnasium schedule has just been issued for the coming year. E. A. Rice, of College of Pharmacy, will take up his duties in earnest next Monday, when the gymnasium will begin its fall session. An exhibition will be given, however, at the men's reception Saturday evening. A new feature is the addition of the gymnasium on Firestone Saturday.

The schedule provides for a separate class on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday—one at 4:30 to 5:15 for professional students, and the other from 5:15 to 6:00 for faculty members and business men. On Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, there will be a class for college students at 4:30 to 5:15. On Tuesday and Thursday 7:00 and Saturday 3:30 there will be a basketball practice for the first team. There will be a baseball team on home and away dates.

The state convention of Y. M. C. A. physical directors will meet at Ottumwa, October 8, for the consideration of the matter of grading the work done in the gymnasium on the basis of their own standards. The local association probably will not be represented but will make use of any practical suggestions that may be made, so far as is practicable.

DRAKE PLAYS HERE

IOWA-DRAKE GAME TO BE PLAYED SATURDAY

Drake is Unable to Provide a Field at Des Moines

The Iowa Drake game next Saturday will be played on Iowa field.

The contest for the game calls for it to be played on Drake's new Athletic field at Des Moines if that is ready; otherwise it will be played at Iowa City. The Drake field is not ready and Drake has desired Iowa's consent to the substitution of the baseball park at Des Moines. Manager Spangler returned from Des Moines yesterday desirous of being able to consent to this change.

It was decided by the Iowa authorities this afternoon that this consent could not be given because the baseball field is ten yards short in width and ten yards shy in length. Coach Chalmers does not think it possible to play a game under such conditions and is unwilling to do so.

Iowa is disappointed at this result because it had insisted on playing this game at Des Moines, where there is a strong alumni organization and where attendance at the game would be large.

It is hoped that Drake will be able to provide a suitable field for this game next Saturday, as Drake management has made every effort to provide a field and is as much disappointed at its failure as the Iowa management.

Homes of the Greeks

With the beginning of the new year there is to be noticed several new changes in locations of the different fraternities of the university. As last year each fraternity occupies a house, it is to be expected that during other than transfer houses places in house will be reserved for them. The Beta, Sigma, Delta, Phi Psi and Sigma Chi are found in their old houses.

The Phi Delta will occupy the old home of the Dental fraternity on Bloomington and Dubuque street which has been removed and furnished for them. The Kappa Sigma find themselves nicely located on Summit and College at the old Main house, which is occupied by the Phi Chi on the old home of Kappa Sigma on Bloomington street last year.

The fraternities of Iowa are to be congratulated on such excellent conditions, for one seldom finds them all at other schools occupying their own homes and having the conveniences which they enjoy at Iowa.

Grounds Are Finally Secured After much Difficulty

Drake has been named as the site for the first football game between the Iowa Normal college and the University of Iowa. The game was played on the old circuit ground on Mavden Lane, which was begun at 4:00 having been-delayed by a drenching rain. The sod field however, was laid as good ground as could be procured.

GEODELICAL SURVEY

Prof. Calvin and Others Map Several Iowa Counties

During the summer much important work has been done by members of the Geology department.

Prof. Calvin of the Geology department, together with several noted other well-known geologists of the west, has devoted most of the summer to this work.

As soon as school closed last June, he went to Iowa where he remained for three weeks in the interest of some mining property. Since last time he has been in Winneshiek county, where, assisted by Prof. Arny of the State Normal, he has completed the survey of that county.

Recently he completed the survey of Palo Alto, Emmett, and Pocahontas counties by Prof. Macbride, Mr. Savage surveyed Benton Co., and Prof. Leonard now of the University of South Dakota, surveyed Clayton Co., and A. J. Alden of Rock Island also surveyed Clinton County.

Dr. Beyor of Amesbies finished a work on clay, Clay and Clay Products for this work. He will go to prepy in about a month.

The organization has just issued Volume XIX of the reports of the Iowa Geological Survey. These reports are distributed to libraries and geologists both in Europe and America.

Value of Bible Study

By Chas. MacCracken of the University of New York, proposes to examine entering students as to a general knowledge of the scriptures. He would require them to know by heart the Ten Commandments, the Sermon on the Mount, several of the psalms and classic hymns as well as some church catechisms. Such a requirement would pusht not alone the entering student but faculty as well. It is doubtful if such a requirement could ever be enforced. But the absolute practical value of a thorough familiarity with the scriptures can not be disputed. From the literary standpoint no book is richer than the Bible. Who can understand and appreciate Milton without a knowledge of the Bible? Is it a heaven upon which we gaze? Do we ever read it with the understanding of it that the great, great men? It is a book of economic importance. In the end it is a book of economic value. It is the only book in the world where the writer has true vitals. It is a book that is being neglected for the ignoble. Extensive rather than attentive and assimilative reading is now the fashion. Every young man, be he in or out of college, might follow Chancellor MacCracken's advice with profit.

With the recent offers of the Hamilton Club of Chicago the opportunity for students in or out of college is greatly increased and it behooves all students with such ability to see that due advantage is taken of the field. The field for the selection of a subject by this organization is so extensive that the same oration may be used for the Hamilton Club and the home contest in the Northern Oratorical League. It is only a short time until the orations in the Hamilton Club contest must be sent to the committee. Hence all students desiring to bring laurels to the university should begin immediately.

A MONDAY ISSUE OF THE DAILY IOWAN

The Daily Iowan will begin the publication of a Monday issue next week. The continuance of the Monday issue throughout the year will depend largely upon the support given it by the university students, professors and alumni. If all the students who do not now subscribe will send in their subscriptions, the manager of the Iowan promises a Monday section throughout the year. The Iowan is fairly entitled to hearty support from every student. It is the only university newspaper published for the university, does a great deal for the university, and is just as good a paper as its university support will permit. The way to support The Iowan is to subscribe for it. $2.50 anytime before January 1, or $2.50 after that date. There is also the matter of the Iowan's advertisements. The merchants who advertise in The Iowan are the leading merchants of the city. They desire student trade and will treat students well. It will pay you to trade with them. Subscriptions may be mailed to the Iowan, left at the office, or at the Arcade Book Store, or given to any of the editors or solicitors holding authorization from the manager. They may also be paid to No. 100. Special precautions are taken to see that all subscribers in the city and out of town receive the paper regularly. In case of non-delivery, subscribers will confer a favor by leaving word at office or mailing to the Iowan, one of the complaint blanks printed in another column.
