OUT IN THE COLD

SUITOR'S DOG KEEPS PA OUT DURING COURTING

Tale of a Frat Dog, a Charming Young Miss and an Ex-dean

At one of the Greek homes in the north part of the city, there is an exceptionally fierce bull-dog. The dog is very fond of one of the fratres and frequently follows him down town. The frater is equally fond of and attached to the charming daughter, of an ex-dean.

The Greek started out one evening recently to see the miss and the dog followed.

When the young man reached the home of his lady, he entered to woo by the pleasant fireside in the drawing room. The faithful dog remained without upon the porch.

But while the young man wooed and the dog slept peacefully before the door, the father of the young lady was down town earning for the girl a patrimony. Tired and sleepy from the hard work in the office which had kept him until nearly morning, he was hurrying home. When as he lifted the gate latch he was startled by a low growl. Then directly for him came the big dog. The ex-dean fled. The dog satisfied with driving the intruder away resumed his post. The master of the house once more tried to enter his domicile with the same result, only this time the dog gave him a frolicsome chase in the mud down the middle of the street. The temper of the lord of the manor was considerably ruffled; but knowing he could do nothing in an open front attack he resolved to try strategy and enter in the rear. The dog had anticipated this and as the ex-dean was crawling over the fence made a spring for him that caused him to execute a broad jump backward.

Then the master of the house called lustily for help. At his cry the startled young people came rushing out. The situation was plain. The young man called off his dog and bidding a hasty good night hurried home.

Thus the story of the wooing young man and the dog is reversed.

The senior civil engineering class is the largest it has been for six years. At present there are four times as many seniors as two years ago.

The Sophomore Medical class elected the following officers this morning, president Fred Buckley vice president M. C. Roberts, secretary Miss Taylor, treasurer O. Hawkinson, delegate to president MacLean J. E. Love, sergeants at arm Kuno Struck and Mrs. Eyestone, athletic manager Howard Baton, Middletonian editor Fred Albert.

FALL FIELD MEET

WILL BE HELD OCTOBER TWENTIETH

Many New Trackmen Will Make Their Initial Ap-

The date set for the fall field meet is October 20, and from the appearance of things now is will be one of the very best fall meets that we have ever had.

Captain Swift takes a very bright view of the track and field outlook for the year and there is a general feeling of enthusiasm among the men. Nearly all of our last year's planet winners will again compete this year as well as a score or more of promising new material.

Among the new men there is Smith an old Syracuse University man who has a record in the pole vault of 11 feet and who is also a broad jumper. The Davis boys from Cresco have both won places for themselves in athletics by their work last spring in the state high school meet. Hedges from Marengo, a weighty man won first place last year in the discus in the same meet.

Chess Club Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Hawkeye Chess Club last night. The report of the committee on a correspondence tournament was considered and the committee was instructed to continue its efforts of securing such games. The Club will begin its regular meetings on Saturday evenings as soon as a room can be secured. With the presence of nearly all the old members and the pledges of several new students there is good reason for believing that there will be larger and more interesting meetings. The officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows; pres., Paul Dorweiler, sec. and treas., H. A. Naberhuis, referee. C. W. Rink.

The Assembly

President MacLean gave the address of the morning. He spoke on the relation of religion and education. He refuted the statement that the religion of youth was undermined in state schools and maintained that on the contrary it was fostered by the presence of Churches, Christian Associations and the example of the faculty.

Y. M. C. A.

At the business meeting of the Y. M. C. A. yesterday the bathroom formerly used by them was given to the Y. M. C. A. that it might be fitted up for the faculty and business men.

Hereafter the faculty and business men may have a private toilet room. Faculty members and Business men also have classes in the Gymnasium Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 5:15 to 6:00

ROOTERS ARE COMING

DRAKE TO HAVE GOOD SUPPORT SATURDAY

Every One Who "Can Raise the Price" Will be Here to See
The Game

In order to relieve the squad, from the monotony of the daily practice, Coach Chalmers, last night ordered the men out for a cross country run. The run, which was several miles in length seemed to be a welcome innovation, and did much to help put the men in good condition. In the evening the team reported at the armory for signal practice, and the men were kept busy for an hour perfecting the foundation of the different plays.

There seems to be some anxiety in regard to the Drake-Iowa game on Saturday. The very heavy fall of rain yesterday, will no doubt make Iowa field worse than ever but favorable weather will put the field in good condition. The game seems to be the principle subject of conversation at Drake, and from the reports in Des Moines papers, the attendance from that city will be a record breaker. The News of Tuesday says that "every Drake rooter who can raise the necessary funds to finance the expedition will be on hand with his megaphone." Iowa will do all they can to overpower Drake.

A LANDMARK FALLEN

A Giant of "the Old University" Perished last Night

One of the few remaining landmarks of "the old University" perished last night, when the storm felled one of the giant burr oaks which have long been the pride of the campus.

The old tree was one of the mighty group which shaded the diagonal walk to the Science Building and well known and loved by more than forty generations of students that have reclined on the turf beneath it.

The tree was nearly four feet in diameter and is estimated to have been at least three hundred years of age. For some time it had been showing signs of decrepitude, decaying around the base although still green at the top and had been supported by a wire cable attached to one of its sister trees.

Its fall is to be deeply regretted as a loss which can not be repaired within the span of life of any person now living.

Many guesses were made as to its age by the group of students which surrounded it this morning. Prof. Calvin was induced to say that he considered three hundred years as a very conservative estimate. Prof. Macbride said that there has been no perceptible change in the condition of that particular tree during the last forty years.

NOT VARSITY CLASS

MT. VERNON COACH ON IOWA

"Almost Any Minor Team Could Defeat Iowa" Says Mr. Lindgren of Cornell

"Iowa is not in varsity class this year. Almost any minor team could defeat her," said Mr. Lindgren, the coach of the Cornell college team, to Chicago reporters last night.

The Chronicle reports his interview thusly: "Our score against Iowa only serves to prove the weakness of that team, as we are not much stronger than a year ago. Iowa doesn't class with the rest of the big nines this season and almost any of the minor teams would stand a good show of winning from them."

The Chronicle, after discussing Stagg's work with his candidates since the Indiana game in preparation for the Purdue game Saturday says, "a further incentive to work hard is the showing which Cornell made against the University of Iowa two weeks ago. That game resulted in a score of 6 to 0 in favor of the state institution, and as Chicago has never had a chance to wipe out the blot left upon its record by the Iowa team of 1900 they expect to show themselves capable of doing it this fall."

Mr. Lindgren is a University of Illinois player. He played on the '99 eleven which was defeated by Iowa 58 to 0. Since graduating from Illinois, he has been coaching Cornell College each fall.

Cornell College has played Coe College and Iowa this year.

Iowa defeated Cornell 6 to 0 Sept. 26, in the opening game of the season on Iowa field. Iowa lost the ball on fumbles four times within Cornell's five yard line and three times on Cornell's ten yard line.

CAPT. HOBSON COMING

Hero of the Merrimac will Speak at Armory Oct. 19

Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, U. S. N., the hero of the Merrimac, will deliver his great lecture, "The United States as a World Power" at Smiths Armory Monday Oct. 19.

Capt. Hobson has been a popular speaker at colleges and Chautauquas all over the country. He is a polished orator and has a message which pertains to America's national life.

Capt. Hobson advocates a great navy for the United States. He pleads for such an increase in our armament as will prevent war with any country.

Col. G. R. Burnett will entertain Capt. Hobson at his College St. home during his stay in Iowa City and will introduce him at the Armory.

PRESIDENT G. E. MACLEAN.

Students the Dividends of Student

Perhaps it has never occurred to some of us that we are investments. The vital question is shall we be good or bad? We are a privileged class. The most of us are old enough earn our own living. Under ordinary circumstances we would be compelled to. But the world gives us four, six, seven years, or as much time as we need to complete our education. For the time being we are guests of the world; we are consumers not producers. The little that some of us may do to help our way through school by working vacations and between times, can in no way compensate for all that has been done for us. The friends who give us these advantages never worry about the cost. The vital question with them is how are you getting along with your education? Will you be of greater value to the world the day you graduate than you were the day you matriculated. If we are, then we shall be good investments. We will well repay all that has been done for us. But if we are not then we will be cheats and frauds. We will defeat the very inherent purpose of education. The thing for us to do then is to make up our mind to get out of our education a richer, stronger life, one that will be a benefit to mankind.

We should not try to take the whole curriculum at once but take our studies as they come. We should use those studies, which we like, to develop our natural gifts, and those we dislike for discipline. There may be differences in minds. But the second class mind well cultivated is better than the brilliant mind which raises only a crop of weeds. Let us be broad and not fall into "ruts." We should be loyal to all college enterprises. We should remember that education consists not merely in books. The day is past when the scholar can be a recline and a hermit. He must be a leader, and live among men.

AMUSEMENTS

A Gamblers Daughter at the Opera House to-night.

"In Convict Stripes" is a play that takes possession of the spectator and moves him to tears and to laughter with equal skill. It tells a horrible story of the life amongst the hills of South Carolina. It will be seen at the opera house on next Friday night.

The King of the Land of Pie has ordered his Lord Chamberlain to make a Treasury Pie, to be divided between his three daughters and princesses, at their marriages with three princes, living near. The Lord Chamberlain directs the making of the pie and pockets much more than his share. He resorts to villainy by encouraging the princesses to break with their princes, for then he thinks he can manage the whole of the pie. He nearly succeeds but is foiled by Kit Cat, the court jester. Kit Cat straightens things out, the princesses find they are unhappy after giving their lovers the mitten. They reconsider, make up with the princes and all ends happily. PARKER Lucky Curve Fountain Pen Really, is there any good reason why you should not be using a Parker 'Lucky Curve' Fountain Pen? I am making good pens—and warrant them—pens perfected by the experiences of many years. Among the pens I am making is one for you, which, after it is fitted to your hand, you should not part with for many dollars, so pleasing would it be. Any one of the 9,000 dealers selling the "Lucky Curve" will be glad to help find "your" pen. If you cannot find them in your city, please order direct.

My pens, quality considered, are not expensive. They are capable of many years of satisfactory use. They start in price at $1.50, to $2.00, $3.50, $3.00 and higher, according to size and ornamentation. I also sell a dollar pen, the Palmer (without the "Lucky Curve"), an excellent pen for the money.

In any event, let me send you my catalogue. It contains information you ought to know and costs you nothing. Kindly write today.
