High School Boys Talked of Defeating It—Failed to Make Good
With the Money

The Iowa-Nebraska game will be played on Iowa Field.

That is the outcome of moving the game to Omaha which has been in progress for the past two weeks.

SOME BOLD PROMISES

Schools have not failed to change the game to Omaha was the attempt of two high school boys with credit limited to their week's allowances to play the part of the bold proposers.

TWO CHOICE SPHERES

Out in Omaha, there are some 2,000 high school students. The superintendent rows on athletics and at the last big football game, in which Omaha high was engaged, eleven tickets were sold among the students. But there are a few choice spirits in the school that keep things going despite the odds. The two choices are H. H. Putman halfback on the football team and George Thompson, who plays left tackle. These are the men who sell the tickets to the Omaha public and keep the high school treasury not too deep in the red link at the bank.

Securing some sort of an option on a race track at Omaha, Putman and Thompson went to Lincoln a month ago to induce Manager Buckner of Nebraska to play the Haskell Indians on their home ground. Many of the principal college Y. M. C. A.'s were on the ground for the game to be played on Iowa Field.

The managers of the Omaha high school have printed letter heads bearing the name of the "Omaha Driving Park Association" and corresponded with Manager Spangler. They offered him a certified check for $500 as a guarantee and only wished ten per cent of the receipts for ground rent.

W. J. Burgess, manager of Boyd's theatre, also opened up negotiations with Manager Spangler.

CERTIFIED CHECK WAS SHY

The dream is dead. The certified check was never sent. Manager Spangler when he reached Omaha. In its stead Messrs. Putman and Thompson proffered "the guarantee of the Omaha High School Association which is just as good as a certified check." Mr. Burgess would not give a guarantee satisfactory to Iowa. Omaha does not look like a football market and Iowa cannot risk going this year without a guarantee.

So the game will be played on Iowa field.

Peyton met last night with Miss Florence Odell.

INDETERMINATE TERM

Article by C. W. Wassam '03 in Last Bulletin of Iowa Institutions

The recent bulletin of Iowa institutions contains an article on the "Indeterminate Sentence" by Clarence W. Wassam '03. Mr. Wassam, who is scholar in sociology, has collected and reviewed the reports of the various institutions were the indeterminate sentences in use. He has also carefully traced the development of the idea from the appearance of the first leading article in the London Review in 1860.

"The indeterminate sentence," he contends, "would reform our prison system making better prison officers. It would be better ordered and better discipline a necessity. It would protect society by keeping the hardened criminal continually incarcerated. It would be a pinch of safety saving to the State a trial being sufficient for the defendant. It would save thousands of young men for a useful career, who are today driven to desperate and very poorly ventilated prisons. It would replace the idea of retribution by the hopeful thought of reformation."

"The two sources of opposition to the indeterminate sentence to-day are: First, the hardened criminal having to it, have taken a long step toward its adoption."

The Sophomore class at Michigan University, last year, drew up a set of rules for the freshmen. These rules forbid freshmen to smoke a pipe in the campus, or sit in the first five rows at the theater, or to enter certain refreshment places or to wear silk hats, and required them to wear freshman caps.
At a meeting of the Senior society, Michigan, this week, it was decided to support these rules and to aid in their enforcement.
It is the opinion of Michigan that by establishing permanently such customs here, college spirit will be strengthened and so they have determined to act in the matter this year and will decide extreme cases.
The University of Minnesota gives a few now "stunts" in undergraduate rushes. The sophomore dents and freshmen recently decided to settle class supremacy by choosing individuals to represent the class in various contests. After a series of boxing and wrestling matches the sophomore won out by a score of six to one.

President.

"Our colleges turn out some pretty good men nowadays," remarked the elderly gentleman. "Yes," replied his son, gloomily. "Your college turned out a man who was sure to have won the hundred-yard dash for us next year—just because he didn't pass any of his examinations."

President Harper told the women of Chicago University that parents are hesitating about having their daughters live on the campus because of the evil of "rushing." About 20 per cent of the freshman girl class fell last autumn, and to prevent a similar percentage of failures this fall, severe measures will be taken to stop an exess of social engagements for freshmen.
