Eastern Star and the University
Both Stand for Culture—Dr. Cox

": bring you greeting from the Order of the Eastern Star, a greeting from 19,000 of the men and women in the State of Iowa," said Dr. J. C. W. Cox, of Knoxville, Worthy Matron of the Order. "I congratulate you upon the advantages you have here," he said. "You have a splendid opportunity to climb, especially in coming up to chapel. This university stands pre-eminent for culture. This too, is what the Order of the Eastern Star stands for. I hope not one in this audience will be a chapter in ancient history or furnish a fossil for the museum; but that the great family of girls will fill the same, and faces turned toward the sun, may each press on. "Today, as I address you, my mind goes back to the chapel and out of this talk the path that is taken Saturday afternoon by all girls who desire, under the leadership of Miss Eustace, Prof. Chalmers' assistant, who is in charge of physical training for women. "One feature of a girl's life at Iowa is the women's drawing room in the hall of liberal arts. In this large, commodious room, girls can study between recita­tions for the game or conduct and attend their academic life at the university. "The three excellent sororities at Iowa afford very fine oppor­tunities for the young girls who are looking after a career who do not join sororities. The in­fluence of the older sorority members upon the new girls is helpful. "For girls who are interested in dramatics, there is the drama club which is coming to fill an important place in university life. The Ivy Lane, Polygon, Tabard and Die Germania societies afford opportunity for intellectual improvement and social advantages at the same time. "The university chorus affords not only useful but pleasant work for girls interested in room music. The instruction is free and very beneficial. "I have a number of lessons given every year by an expert to the nurses' training schools are open to all girls in the university who wish to take advantage of them. "In connection with the work of the department of physical training and athletics, several lectures are given each year to the girls by medical professors upon health and hygiene. "The opportunity for girls: Dr. Leora Johnson last year, this year, is afforded to the girls, speaking upon the value of exercise of my own college days. I trust I may never forget those early days, may never be but a young fellow cherishing high ideals and filled with noble aspirations. Age and youth are not matters of the years, but of the heart. "I am still a student learning the lessons of life anew. I have turned but a few pages in the great volume of reason. "Attainment is a noble thing, but it is simply a vanguard post. Search is the noblest thing. "The best school of philosophy is a realism based upon idealism. "In closing I can only give you a better thought, than that of the greatest divine of the ages, a graduate of two great universi­ties, Paul of Tarsus, who said, "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain." What a Divine Man as your supreme ideal and stand in the front rank of those who are striving to have the virtues realized."

WILL WAIT FOR GAME

Many Eastern Stars Will Stay Over for Iowa-Nebraska Game Saturday

A number of the Eastern Stars will remain in Iowa City until Saturday night in order to see the Nebraska-Iowa game which will be played on Iowa field. Among those who will remain for the game is Miss Jessie Johnston, '97 of Ithaca, N. Y., who is a sister of A. C. Johnston, center on the varsity.

PLAYERS LOAFED YESTERDAY

The football practice on Iowa field last night was "not as satisfactory as that of the night before. Many of the varsity loafed in practice and as a consequence both the offense and defense were weak. Swift, last year's guard was out in uniform last night. He will try for tackle this year.

From an Alumnus

657 Yale Station, New Haven, Conn.

Editor Iowan:
I enjoy the Iowan as a herald of my University home. I especially note the moral tone of your editorialists and the freedom from criticism of dedicated iowan enterprises, where the men have done their best to uphold their varsity's honor. I trust you may see the time when athletic and oratorical contests are as certain victories as an item in your paper. I enjoy Yale immensely and in many respects surpasses the younger institutions of the west; but I am glad that I spent my college days at Iowa.
Very cordially,
Ira T. Hawk.

EASTERN STARS ARE PROSPEROUS

MEMBERSHIP IS STEADILY INCREASING

Iowa Grand Chapter now has Over 19,000 Members—Is Allied With the Great Masonic Order

"The Order of the Eastern Star in Iowa is one of the strongest of the Order," said Mrs. P. Jane P. Stone, Wyoming Grand Matron of the Order, this morning.

"We have now over 19,000 members in the state, having had an increase of over 2,000 the last year.

"Not only has the numerical increase in the order been gratifying the past year, but I feel sure that there can be no chapter organized or perplexed unless one Mason belongs, for there must be a Patron.

"We have a number of University of Iowa alumni who are prominent in the order and a large number who are members of the order.

AMUSEMENTS

A new melodramatic production with a somewhat accidental title
"A Hidden Crime" will appear at the opera house next Monday.
It is a four act comedy drama depicting life in the far western state of California and covering a wide field of action from the palaces of the wealthy to the slums of San Francisco. The production is said to be mounted in a sumptuous manner.

Hampton & Hopkins' beautiful production of "Sandy Bottom," which comes to the opera house next Monday, October 30, is one of those plays which will live for years because there is nothing vulgar, crude or coarse in its construction, nor filled with mel-dramatic clap-trap. It is simply a wholesome, heart-some play, a story from life in which the characters are natural and human, which, when coupled with faultless presentations by so capable a company of players makes it a play that every one should see.

IOWA THE BEST
HER PROFESSORS CITED AS AUTHORITY

Iowa Students Who Attend Chicago Universities Find Iowa is the Best (From the Midland Schools)

It will be observed that more than 560 Iowa teachers were enrolled in the institutions of other states this summer. Iowa schools were able to draw less than half this number into the various schools of the state. Our own State University drew but 15 students from outside the state, we are informed. Iowa students entered the universities of other states to the surprising extent for their hold on their own with the schools of other states. Are our schools inferior? We think not.

We are of the opinion that many of the really valuable institutions in other states more for the purpose of being able to advocate the truth that they have superior institutions in Chicago, Ann Arbor, Madison, Harvard, Columbia, etc., than because they can find work in these schools that suits their needs. Many of them are given in our state schools. And when these institutions are entered to get the best work, they are placed under the instruction of tutors whose ability has never been proven.

One Iowa principal traveled 1000 miles to look over institutions where he expected to do some special work in a given line. He waited for "Dr. Pinker" to announce that the best authority on the subject. The professor in the State University of Iowa, whose writings on the subject, was of what is the basis for the term's work.

It is undoubtedly true that at least three fourths of the teachers who go to the summer schools of the state's institutes of larger size have a summer's study could do far better work in their own state schools.

Our own professors are quoted as authorities in their lines, and they should be recognized as such by the teachers of their own state. We heard a professor in the state University of Wisconsin say: "The best authorities on these subjects in the United States are Dr. Pinker and Dr. Seashore of the State University of Iowa. We have heard these indered him and his voice fifteen Iowa students who, when they had traveled thousands of miles to learn that their own state had a university better prepared for them, not excelled anywhere in these lines of work they attempt to teach.

Let us be more loyal to our own states. Our teachers in other states and superintendents should we investigate our home institutions before we attempt to draw students from the schools of other states where they will get no better teaching than they could have secured at home. Our State University should have a summer school of 500 next year instead of 200. We now export more students than we import. The balance trade should be in our favor. We should be loyal to Iowa institutions, give them our patronage, and help them to come into such prominence that students will flock across our borders to get the benefit of our educational institutions.

The basket ball team had a hard workout last night. Their work is beginning to show up finely. Manager Ross expects a game with Kansas here about the holidays. He is also anticipating games with Chicago and Wisconsin.

The drawing being done on the head block on the new medical building is attracting much at-ention. The work is being done by Mrs. John House and the progress of his work so far shows that he is an artist of ability. The figure shows the Iowa eagle and other symbols of the state.

The university basketball team this year will be ready for business a great deal earlier than ever before. The team has better chances for victory and in every way is better prepared for the season which will open sometime in December. A game with the State Normal men has been pardially arranged; the date will probably be December 15.
