STUDIES OF CO-EDS ARE BROADENING

TAKING LESS LANGUAGES, MORE POLITICS

Alice Young, Dean of Women, Says a Girl Can Come to Iowa and Find Every Opportunity

"The co-eds at Iowa are broadening in their studies. More of them are taking political science and economics. It used to be that girls took only the languages but now they are reaching out," said Miss Young, Dean of Women, this morning.

CO-EDS HAVE EVERY OPPORTUNITY

"A girl can now come to Iowa and find opportunity for whatever kind of life she wants. There are splendid opportunities for the development of womanhood.

"The three literary societies can accommodate any girl who wishes to do literary work. There is great benefit to be derived from membership in any one of the societies.

"The Y. W. C. A. is increasing in strength and usefulness quite markedly. The new girls are looked after carefully by the older girls, who go to see them, hunt them up and take pains to see that they are given every opportunity.

"The Y. W. C. A. has now a considerably larger membership than it had a few years ago, and it is a strong factor in co-educational life at the University.

"The three excellent sororities at Iowa afford very fine opportunities for the more especial social life for girls, though of course there are excellent social opportunities for the girls who do not join sororities. The influence of the older sorority members upon the new girls is helpful.

"For girls who are interested in dramatics, there is the dramatic club which is coming to fill an important place in university life. The Ivy Lane, Polygon, Tabard and Die Germania societies afford opportunity for intellectual improvement and social advantages at the same time.

"The university chorus affords not only useful but pleasant work for girls interested in vocal music. The instruction is free and very beneficial.

"The cooking lessons given every year by an expert to the nurses' training schools are open to all girls in the university who wish to take advantage of them.

"In connection with the work of the department of physical training and athletics, several lectures are given each year to the girls by medical professors upon the general topic, "Health for Girls." Dr. Leora Johnson lately addressed the girls, speaking upon the value of exercise

Eastern Star and the University Both Stand for Culture--Dr. Coxe

"I bring you greeting from the Order of the Eastern Star, a greeting from 19,000 of the noblest men and women in the State of Iowa," said Dr. J. C. W. Coxe, of Knoxville, Worthy Grand Patron of the Order, in his address at the university assembly this morning.

"I congratulate you upon the advantages you have here," he said. "You have a splendid opportunity to climb, especially in coming up to chapel. This university stands pre-eminently for culture. This too, is what the Order of the Eastern Star stands for. I hope not one in this audience will be a chapter in ancient history, or furnish a fossil for the museum; but that with mind alert, eyes filled with eagerness, and faces turned toward the sun, may each press on.

"Today, as I address you, my mind goes back to the chapel and out of this talk grew the walk that is taken Saturday afternoons by all girls who so desire, under the leadership of Miss Kastman, Prof. Chalmers' assistant who is in charge of physical training for women.

"One feature of a girl's life at Iowa is the women's drawing room in the hall of liberal arts. In this large, commodious room, girls can study between recitations, meet their friends and extend their acquaintances. It is an excellent provision for co-ed life which many universities lack.

APPROVED BOARDING PLACES

"There are now a large number of approved rooming places for girls in the city. These places have been approved because they have promised to allow the use of parlors to girls in which to receive callers, and to feel responsible in a way for the girls who live with them. This last includes a reasonable enforcement of the university's suggestion that callers be limited to 10 o'clock.

"Physical training is now required of all girls in the freshman and sophomore classes of the college of liberal arts. The work is under the direction of a graduate of Dr. Sargent's School at Harvard and is enjoyed by nearly all the girls. It includes exercises to music, practice in poise and walking, and work with light apparatus. Basketball under the approved rules for women which eliminate rough play, is allowed for short intervals between classes.

"There were 395 co-eds in the university during the year 1901-2 and 398 for the year 1902-3. The registration of girls this year has not been counted but several professors have remarked that there seems to be more of them here this year than ever before."

of my own college days. I trust I may never forget those early days, may never be but a young fellow cherishing high ideals and filled with noble aspirations. Age and youth are not matters of the years, but of the heart.

"I am still a student learning the lessons of life anew. I have turned but a few pages in the great volume of reason.

"Attainment is a noble thing but it is simply a vantage point. Search is the noblest thing.

"The best school of philosophy is a realism based upon idealism.

"In closing I can give you no better thought, than that of the greatest divine of the ages, a graduate of two great universities, Paul of Tarsus, who said, 'For me to live is Christ.' Take the Divine Man as your supreme ideal and stand in the front rank of those who are striving to have the virtues realized."

WILL WAIT FOR GAME

Many Eastern Stars Will Stay Over for Iowa-Nebraska Game Saturday

A number of the Eastern Stars will remain in Iowa City until Saturday in order to see the Nebraska-Iowa game which will be played on Iowa field.

Among those who will remain for the game is Miss Jessie Johnston, '97 of Ida Grove, who is a sister of A. C. Johnston, center on the varsity.

PLAYERS LOAFED YESTERDAY

The football practice on Iowa field last night was 'not as satisfactory as that of the night before. Many of the varsity loafed in practice and as a consequence both the offense and defense was weak.

Swift, last year's guard was out in uniform last night. He will try for tackle this year.

Editor Iowan:—

I enjoy the IOWAN as a herald of my University home. I especially note the high moral tone of your editorials and the freedom from criticism of defeated Iowan enterprises, where the men have done their best to uphold their varsity's honor. I trust you may see the time when athletic and oratorical contests may be as certain victories as are those in debate.

I enjoy Yale immensely and in many respects she surpasses the younger institutions of the west; but I am glad that I spent my college days at Iowa.

Very cordially
IRA T. HAWK.

EASTERN STARS ARE PROSPEROUS

MEMBERSHIP IS STEADILY INCREASING

Iowa Grand Chapter now has Over 19,000 Members—Is Allied With the Great Masonic Order

"The Order of the Eastern Star in Iowa is one of the strongest societies," said Mrs. P. Jane Weeber of Cherokee, Worthy Grand Matron of the Order, this noon.

"We have now over 19,000 members in the state, having had an increase of over 2,000 the last year.

"Not only has the numerical increase in the order been gratifying the past year, but I feel sure that the standards of the order have not been lowered and that the grand chapter of Iowa is stronger in every way this year than it was a year ago.

"The Order of the Eastern Star is allied with the Masonic Order, and one of the rules is that there can be no chapter organized or perpetuated unless one Mason belongs, for there must be a Patron.

"We have a number of University of Iowa alumni who are prominent in the order and a large number who are members of the order."

JESSAMINE CHAPTER

The rolls of the local chapter contain a large number of university people of the present and several alumni. Among the members are, Miss Gertrude Howell '95, Dr. Leora Johnson H. M. '90, J. W. McKee L. '99, G. W. Swords L. '98, Mrs. Lillian Jones-Beck '99, Mrs. W. R. White ex. '90, Charles Dutcher L. '94, Dr. Hazard H. M. '97, V. Zmunt L. '94, E. M. Jones ex. '03 Henry Negus L. '03, and Mrs. Negus, Prof. W. R. Patterson '95, Mrs. Elizabeth Sherwood M. A. '03, and Mrs. Thrana Grothans-Dulin M. '03. Three new members were taken in last night. They were Guy P. Linville L. '04, Miss Lillian Waite '00, and Miss Pearl Waite ex. '04. Mrs. Gertie Starbuck, Mrs. Clyde Waite-Speers and Mrs. Maude Collins are also members. M. L. Ferson '00 and Mrs. Ferson are delegates from Corona chapter of Frank Pierce.

'02, Ph. Harry Strong has purchased a store at Vinton.

F. C. Drake executive clerk to the president is back at his duties again.

Reports from Illinois say that Frank O. Lowden is making a strong campaign throughout the state.

'99, Ph. Louis K. LeFevre of Keokuk was married on September 16, to Miss Elsinora L. Patten of that place.

One of the strongest organizations of the university last year was the Y.W.C.A. It reaches every class, and every class is numbered in its members. No organization, last year, successfully carried through as many enterprises as did the Y. W. girls. A series of twilight concerts, is one of the several features planned for this year.

Welcome O. E. S.

The university today welcomes the Order of the Eastern Star. Our doors have been thrown open to them and they have had the freedom of our educational home. Many of the visitors have sons and daughters in the university. All of them have friends here. Our wish is that they may return to their homes, friends of the university.

Many strangers saw for the first time and received their first impression of the university and its life. We trust the first was a good impression, and will remain a lasting one.

We are glad of the opportunity which this convention gives us to meet so many of the mothers of the state, for after all with the mothers rests our social welfare. Their moral support can mar or make an institution like the university.

Gathered here from every rank of life are the best sons and daughters of the State of Iowa can produce. Working for our own interests and that of our state, we are striving to be a benefit to the state. The University of Iowa stands for all that is noble, good and chivalrous. If we have lived up to our ideals, and the ideals of the school, we will have made for us today 1400 friends from 1400 different places in the state.

Once more the university gives cordial welcome to its friends, the Grand Chapter of the Eastern Star.

AMUSEMENTS

A new melodramatic production with a somewhat sensational title "A Hidden Crime" will appear at the opera house next Monday. It is a four act comedy drama depicting life in the far western state of California, and covering a wild field of action from the palaces of the wealthy to the slums of Chinatown, San Francisco. The production is said to be mounted in a sumptuous manner.

Hampton & Hopkins' beautiful production of "Sandy Bottom," which comes to the opera house Friday night, October 30, is one of those plays which will live for years because there is nothing vulgar, crude or coarse in its construction, nor filled with melodramatic clap-trap. It is simply a wholesome, heartsome play, a story from life in which the characters are natural and human, which, when coupled with faultless presentations by so capable a company of players makes it a play that every one should see.

IOWA THE BEST

HER PROFESSORS CITED AS AUTHORITY

Iowa Students Who Attend Other Institutions Find Iowa is the Best

(From the Midland Schools)

It will be observed that more than 560 Iowa teachers were enrolled in the institutions of other states this summer. Iowa schools were able to draw less than half this number into the various schools of the state. Our own State University drew but 15 students from outside the state, while over 150 Iowa students entered the universities of other states. Why is it that we cannot hold our own with the schools of other states? Are our schools inferior? We think not.

We are of the opinion that many Iowa principals enter institutions in other states more for the purpose of being able to advertise that they have studied in Chicago, Ann Arbor, Madison, Harvard, Columbia, etc., than because they can find work in these schools that suits their needs better than that given in our state schools. And when they have entered these famous schools they are placed under the instruction of tutors whose ability has never been proven.

One Iowa principal traveled 1900 miles to a noted institution where he expected to do some special work in a given line. He was surprised when his professor announced that the best authority on the subject was a professor in the State University of Iowa, whose writings on the subject would form the basis for the term's work.

We are convinced that at least three fourth of the teachers who go to the larger schools for their summer's study could do far better work in our own stateschools.

An Iowa educator remarked recently: "I spent four summers in subcession in Chicago University. Last summer I had occasion to visit our own state university. I was surprised to find that Dr. Bolton, Dr. Brown and the other professors at work during the summer, were doing work that was superior to that given in similar classes at Chicago."

Our own professors are quoted as authorities in their lines, and they should be recognized as such by the teachers of their own state. We heard a professor in the state University of Wisconsin say: "The best authorities on these subjects in the United States are Dr. Patrick and Dr. Seashore of the State University of Iowa." And there sat under the sound of his voice fifteen Iowa students who had traveled hundreds of miles to learn that their own state had a university with a faculty that is not excelled anywhere in the lines of work they attempt to teach.

Let us be more loyal to our own state institutions. As principals and superintendents we should investigate our home institutions before we send students into other states where they will get no better schooling than they could have secured at home. Our State University should have a summer school of 500 next year instead of 200. We now export more students than we import. The balance of trade should be in our favor. We should be loyal to Iowa institutions, give them our patronage, and help them to come into such prominence that students will flock across our borders to get the benefit of our educational institutions.

The basket ball team had a hard workout last night. Their team work is beginning to show up finely. Manager Ross expects a game with Kansas here about the holidays. He is also anticipating games with Chicago and Wisconsin.

The carving being done on the head block on the new medical building is attracting much attention. The work is being done by Mr. John Hesse and the progress of his work so far shows that he is an artist of ability. The figure shows the Iowa eagle and other symbols of the state.

The university basketball team this year will be ready for business earlier than ever before. The team has better chances for victory and in every way is better prepared for the season which will open sometime in December. A game with the State Normal men has been partially arranged; the date will probably be December 18.
