Preparations for Illinois' Defeat
Begin on Iowa Field Monday

Illinois preliminary contest last night
Advisability of General Assembly of Iowa passing compulsory primary election law

The question debated in the Illinois preliminary last night was: "Resolved that the General Assembly of Iowa should enact a state wide compulsory primary election law."

The term primary election law shall be construed to mean a law which provides a system whereby all party nominations shall be made by secret ballot under state regulations."

This was affirmed by H. E. Dow, B. R. Jackson, and A. C. McLean and denied by J. W. Meyer, C. E. Moffit and Paul Shepard.

The affirmative undertook to show that the present caucus system is non-representative and is open to lobbying and ring control and the tendency of democracy was to give the people more direct representation. Their system was in accordance with the highest principles of self government.

They maintained that the primary election system would be orderly, effective and entirely representative being governed by the regular elections. In conclusion they cited a majority of the states were now tending towards primary elections.

The negative denied that the present system is representative and saw no occasion for a change. They maintained that the present method has always provided fairly good men and women for the legislative form, by means of which the principles of party are made known to the people. As it was shown, would tend to the ultimate destruction of the minority party.

The strong point was the question of the negative, "How will you get a platform?" The affirmative could hardly bring an adequate answer for the question. On this point the outcome of the debate largely hinged.

The decision of the judges, Dan Weld, Professor Sasse for Mr. Dow and Mr. Dorcas for three for the affirmative.

Next week will be the week of prayer for colleges.

Preparations for Illinois' defeat
November 21, will begin on Iowa field Monday.

The team and the whole university know that Illinois must be defeated.

There remains two weeks in which to prepare for Illinois. There are twenty yards between the teams, and there will be every effort made to win.

Jones will be in full condition for the game of Saturday, and all the students who wish to watch the practice next week, the only conditions being that the grandstand is not filled and that the field be occupied by spectators.

Iowa, Illinois:

Indians surprised the football world yesterday by defeating Illinois yesterday and defeating the University of Chicago. Illinois plays Minnesota next week and then comes to Iowa field.

Iowa, Illinois 2

Iowa defeated Simpson college of Indianapolis thirty-five to two in two thirty minute halves on Iowa field yesterday.

Simpson’s safety was made on Johnston’s high pass to Jones after Simpson had kicked to Iowa and Iowa had penalized the Indians in the Iowa twenty yard line.

The game was a good game throughout. The crowd perked up in the second half, where the Iowa team showed its superiority.

The Illinois defense was good and Simpson never scored. Iowa did not allow Illinois to score, another advantage for Iowa’s territory being made on punt, Magowan and Roy Buckley covering the line efficiently, but Buckley fumbled badly twice, losing the ball near Simpson’s goal.

Senior Laws Elect

The senior class of the college has elected the following to the law school election, yesterday afternoon in the senior lecture rooms.

The attendance was large, and as there was no contest nearly everyone was elected by acclamation. After the meeting, the class adjourned to the Smoke House, where fragrant Havana

The Iowan has received many compliments from alumni on the large amount of alumni news which has appeared in the paper this year.

The rosters did good work yesterday. The rolls were loud and well timed. The cheers for the Simpson team were an excellent feature of the rooting.

A much larger crowd should have attended the Simpson game yesterday. If the University desires football, the games must be patronized so as to pay a profit on them.

Preparations for the defeat of Illinois November 21, will begin on Iowa field Monday afternoon. The university students must make up their minds to assist the team in every possible way. Illinois must be defeated.

The Midland Schools have talked over with a number of teachers the comparative advantages of attending Iowa and universities outside the state, including noted eastern institutions. It finds that the State University of Iowa affords advantages which those who travel far to find do not find. The Midland Schools concludes that Iowa teachers desiring to pursue advanced work can do no better than attend Iowa.

AMUSEMENTS
Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" is the title of a really big company, which, under the personal management of Mr. Leon Washburn, whose name has been long and favorably associated with up-to-date amusement, is to appear at the Opera House on next Tuesday. The company comprises fifty people, including a dozen specialty artists, two quartettes, a big orchestra, and many colored comedians, who add to the big production not a little by their spontaneous wit and clever singing and dancing. Watch for the big street parade.

G. N. Jepson, a brother of the Dr. Jepson, Prof. of surgery in the Medical college, was elected a representative from Woodbury County last Tuesday.

R. P. Chase, J. W. Choute and J. P. DeNaney have been selected as the representatives of the University of Minnesota in the Iowa Minnesota debate. This year the inter-university debate will be held in Minneapolis.

THE BEST AT IOWA

STATE UNIVERSITY GIVES BEST ADVANTAGES

Students Who Go To Outside Universities Find Iowa is The Best

Iowa students who are going outside the state for their education would be making a mistake.

The State University of Iowa can give them better advantages than outside institutions.

This is the conclusion reached by the Midland Schools, a leading educational magazine published at Des Moines. The editor of the Midland Schools has been comparing the advantages offered at Iowa and at outside institutions, including noted universities in the east, and he concludes that experience of students at these institutions shows that the State University of Iowa affords the best advantages.

Following is the Midland's article:

"It will be observed that more than 500 Iowa teachers were entered in the institutions of other states this summer. Iowa students were able to draw less than half that number into the various schools of the state. Our own State University drew 500 students from outside the state, while over 150 Iowa students entered the universities of other states. Why is it that we cannot hold our own with the schools of other states? Are our schools inferior? We think not.

"We are of the opinion that many Iowa principals enter institutions in other states more for the purpose of being able to advertise that they have studied in Chicago, Amherst, Madison, Columbia, etc., because they can find work in the schools that suit their needs better than that given in our state schools. And when they have entered these famous schools they are placed under the instruction of tutors whose ability has never been proven.

"One Iowa principal traveled 1900 miles to a noted institution where he expected to do some special work in a given line. He was disappointed, he found he could find work in the schools that suit their needs better than that given in our state schools. And when they have entered these famous schools they are placed under the instruction of tutors whose ability has never been proven.

ES. M. Bell, president of the State University, speaking of such work, said:

"The balance of trade should be in our favor. We should be able to go to the larger schools and they should be recognized as such by the teachers of their own state. We heard a professor in the University of Wisconsin say: 'The best authorities on these subjects in the United States are Dr. Patrick and Dr. Seashore of the State University of Iowa.' And there sat under the sound of his voice fifteen Iowa students who had traveled hundreds of miles to learn that their own state had a university with a faculty that is not excelled anywhere in the lines of work they attempt to teach.

"There is more to be gained in our own state institutions. As principals and superintendents we should investigate our home institutions before we send students to other states where they will get no better schooling than they could have at home. Our State University should have a summer school of 500 students. They should be recognized as such by us.

"The State of Iowa now expert in students who that it imports. The balance of trade should be in our favor. If we can go to larger schools to get the benefit of their institutions, they should as well recognize the importance of the institutions of this state.

"We expect to go to our own institutions to find our own professors are quoted by the men we expect to employ. The real thing is worth buying; the 'look-alike-its' may or may not be. If you want the best, this is the place for it. You'll find it pays to pay the price of Hart Schaffner & Marx goods; they're worth more than they cost.
