GRIGGS OF WISCONSIN

CARDINAL CANDIDATE IN HAMILTON CONTEST

Preliminary Contest at Madison Was Strong and Gives Hopes of Winning

In the Hamilton preliminary at Wisconsin, V. R. Griggs '05 won first place, and P. H. Schram '06 second.

Griggs' subject was "Hamilton the Great Nationalist," and that of Schram was "The Tragedy of 1804."

Mr. Daggy, of the oratory department, in speaking of the contest said: "In spite of the fact that our contestants had little time to prepare, the contest was a very creditable one. Mr. Griggs, the winner has most excellent prospects. His oration shows thorough appreciation of the character and services of Hamilton. One strong feature is the fact that in the development of the theme he keeps before the audience the idea that the principles of Hamilton are recognized in the prevailing political and governmental ideas."

IOWA GRADUATE CLUB

Will be Entertained by Dean and Mrs. Weld

The Graduate Club will hold an open meeting this evening at the home of Dean and Mrs. Weld 612 North Dubuque Street. Professor T. Gregory Foster, of the University of London, will give an address upon "Graduate Work in English Universities." President MacLean and Professor W. C. Wilcox will also speak.

Delta Gamma Party

The Delta Gamma sorority chartered Kloos' bowling alleys Thursday evening, and entertained their masculine friends at a "Rip Van Winkle in the Mountains" party. The exciting and amusing contests were followed by a supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Springer.

The basement of the west building is being fitted up as an electrical engineering laboratory. New apparatus is to be purchased and installed along with that already owned by the University. Further alterations in the same building will be made in the near future, when other quarters will have been provided for the department of military science. The whole building is then to be devoted to the requirements of the chair of electrical engineering and will be provided with every equipment necessary for thorough and practical work.

Fighting Stubbornly, Tigers Go Down in Defeat

Missouri Does her Best, but the Hoodoo of the year Still Works Against Her

COLUMBIA, Mo., 3:00 P. M.—The game was called at three o'clock this afternoon on Rollins Field. The weather was ideal for football. Both teams were in good shape, and the Iowa team was in excellent form and spirits. Missouri was stubborn and determined to fight, but her only hope was to hold down the score.

The following was the line up:

MISSOURI		IOWA
Childers	c	Johnston
Landon	rg	Atkinson
Haggard	rt	McGowan
Tillman	re	Watters
Hoff	lg	Donovan
Coons	lt	R. Buckley
Wulff	le	Coulthard
Birney	q	Griffith
Ardinger	rhb	Allen
I. Anderson	lhb	Jones
Anamosa	fb	F. Buckley

The ill luck, which has followed Missouri all the year, worked against her again. It was her old story of poor team work. The Tigers failed to get together. At the same time Iowa played a good game.

The final score gave Iowa 16 to Missouri's 0. No scores were made in the second half.

Jones was injured and forced to quit the game.

Much of the time, and especially the last half, Iowa played an unaccountably slow game.

Surgical Clinic to Be Held at Homeopathic Convention

Among the many things which will take place for the benefit of the physicians who will visit the city and attend the Central Iowa Homeopathic Medical Association on December 9, will be a special surgical clinic. This will be held at the homeopathic hospital, and will be of great interest to the medical profession.

A NEW DAM

Senior Engineers Survey Location Below City

Prof. A. V. Sims has been working with a party of senior engineers along the river from below this city up to Coralville. The purpose of their work has been to secure the best location for the proposed dam that has been talked about by the Commercial club and the members of the board of regents. The survey has not been finished and there has not been any definite place, where the engineers think best for the location of the dam.

It has been estimated that a dam located some where below the city would raise the water up to the level of the Terrill mill dam and thus would keep the water at the same level all of the way up the river.

The Terrill dam cost in the neighborhood of $20,000 and the new one could be constructed at about two thirds the cost of the old dam.

BACONIAN

Relation of Mass to Chemical Action by Dr. Andrews

"By mass," said Dr. Andrews, "We refer to the concentrations of a compound, that is, to the space through which it is distributed. This influences very largely its chemical action. The intensity of a reaction is proportional to the mass concerned, and the velocity of the combination is equal to the square of the masses involved in the reacting substances."

"Certain reactions are reversible and the direction of the reaction may be controlled at the will of the operator by increasing the strength of one or the other reagent."

"Other reactions are not reversible, e. g. $2\text{HCN} + \text{HgCl}_2 = 2\text{HCl} + \text{Hg}(\text{CN})_2$ This also shows that, contrary to the general opinion, one of the weakest of acids may sometimes expell from combination one of the strongest acids."

"In physiological chemistry most of the reactions are found to be reversible."

FAVORS COLLEGES

ARE NECESSARY TO OUR EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

Pres. MacLean Stands By Colleges in the Fight Against Six Year High School

The Seventeenth Annual Conference of Academies and high schools is meeting at Chicago today. It was at a similar meeting, last year, that the University of Chicago heralded a movement for a six year high school. The object of this was to eliminate the first two years of the college course. A committee of twenty-one was appointed to investigate the idea. President MacLean, because of the prominence of his work in the North Central Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, was chosen to report on the proposition from the stand-point of the university.

The movement has been un-animously opposed by the presidents of the small colleges, because they feared it would crush them out of existence.

President MacLean, who was unable to be present at the meeting, said this morning in an interview, "that he had stood by the colleges, because he believed the college to be a real American institution, and had a work peculiar to itself." "The six year high school," he said, "is a movement to transplant the German system here. Our system is distinctly English, and the American college is a feature that is here to stay. The ordinary high school cannot at present do this work, and it would be a blow to the cause of education, if we tried to hold them to such an artificial standard. It is possible only in the large city."

Through President MacLean's influence the report of the committee was materially modified, and the conclusion reached that the function of the six year high school is general and not special, and that, it meets the demands of only a small class.

The following delegates from the University are in attendance at the State Young Women's Christian Association convention now in session at Ottumwa, Lulu Moulton, Lela Blaine, Grace Buckley, Carrie Watters, Grace Darland, Sara Nimocks, Prof. Leona Call, Grace Holmes, Frances Carrol, Mary Griffith and Nellie Sebern.

The Iowa Association of Charities and Corrections has adjourned at Des Moines. Professor Isaac A. Loos was re-elected a member of the executive committee. Dr. George L. Cady, and Judge Deemer took part in the program. C. W. Wassam, '03, who has made a special study of the indeterminate sentence, was also present. The next convention will be held at Sioux City.

State Papers Boost For University

The statements made by the members of the board of control in addressing the assembly last week seem to have aroused the people of the state to the needs of the university. In these demands there are no partisan lines drawn.

The Waterloo Times-Tribune says:
"Such statements should not be necessary in a state of the enterprise and push and with all the wealth of that of Iowa. The board's criticisms were only too true. Iowa does not rank with its neighbor universities. It has not grown as it should. The fault is not in regents or faculty, but in the people. Small appropriations, poor buildings and small salaries do not tend to the growth of a school. Iowa has a university that considering the support that it has had has kept its own wonderfully and that only by the love and work of its regents and faculty. Its best professors have been taken to other schools because of the poor salaries paid by the state, its students have gone to other schools because of the better buildings, laboratories and conveniences and still it has held its own. Doing that without much support, what could be done if the people of Iowa would demand a better school and furnish the money for it? The answer is easy Iowa would have one of the greatest and best universities in the land.

"It is shameful to the state that the support is not given the university.
To see our brightest students going to other states to attend their universities because of the better facilities it is not right. Every citizen of Iowa should become loyal supporters of the of Iowa University. They should demand larger appropriations that would at least reach the size of those made in our neighboring states. In fact every citizen of Iowa should become an active booster for the university at all times. Only by loyal support, financially and in spirit, can Iowa be made a great university. Let us boost first, last and all the time for the university."

In the Sioux City Journal is a strong editorial asking for more support,
"There is nothing," it says, "of which the state has better reason to be proud than its school system.

"It is doubtful if the people of the state desire retrenchment in state expenditures at the sacrifice of proper care for our educational enterprises.
Yet from time to time their ears are filled with the laments of reformers who appreciate the sensitiveness of the pockets of men. There were those in the recent campaign who appealed for support on the ground that too much money was being expended in the cause of education, but it is no doubt the sober judgement of a vast majority of our people that our educational facilities should be bettered rather than curtailed.

"The growth of our state university has no doubt been hindered by the pressing demands upon our state treasury from other quarters.

"It is probably true that larger popular interest should be felt in the struggle of our university. It ought to be a matter of state pride to have an institution that would compare favorably with the best in neighboring states."

AMUSEMENTS

The more you see "The New Dominion" the better you like it, secure your seats in advance and see Clay Clement and an all star cast at the Opera House Tuesday night.

The Whitney Opera Company has scored a most marked success in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home." All critics declare this to be the best American opera since "Robin Hood." It is a great novelty in every respect and drew immense audiences, such eminent men as Senator Depew and ex-Governor Black highly commending it. The latter has seen it several times. Many of the musical numbers have attained a great vogue and are being widely sung and whistled and played by orchestras. An especially attractive number is a song and chorus "Katie, My Southern Rose," sung by Union officers and introducing a promenade of officers and Southern belles arrayed in the great crinoline and hoop skirts worn during the Civil War period. Another big feature of the opera is a waltz scene in which forty officers and Confederate young women are disclosed in an old-fashioned dance with all its extravagance of movement. The effect is novel and is repeatedly encored at the Opera House next Thursday night.
