THE FINAL CONTEST

IOWA AND GRINNELL NEXT SATURDAY

For State Championship—Iowa Has Won First Contest—Iowa Team Crippled

The biggest event in the way of basketball for this season will take place in the Close Hall gymnasium next Saturday afternoon when the teams representing Iowa and Grinnell will line up for the state college championship. Iowa has defeated Grinnell in the only game of the championship series that the teams have played this year. However the Iowa men were defeated by Grinnell in the exhibition game which was played at Grinnell on the day of the state oratorical contest, and the form displayed by the Grinnell men at that time gives cause for worry on the part of the Iowa players. Two of Iowa's regular players were out of the game, however.

The final game was to have been played Thursday but the Grinnell men could not play during the week.

Ross Iowa's star forward is out of the city now on the advice of his physician who says he must have a short rest. It is thought he will be in the game next Saturday, however. His absence will hinder the practice of the coming week.

One of the features of the contest next Saturday will be the game between the girls' teams representing the sophomore and freshman classes. This will be played as a curtain raiser.

Sororities Get Together

The sororities of the University of California held a meeting recently to discuss ways and means of promoting greater harmony among the Greek letter college.

At Stanford, the Pan-Hellenic Association has for years been in very successful operation. The principal canon and prime factor of the Stanford organization, is the rushing agreement. This provides that no sorority shall bid a freshman until a certain day in November. This not only gives the freshmen ample time to consider the merits of each, but is also easier on the sororities as it does away with the fever and haste incident to a short rushing season. It is rumored that action looking toward the establishment of a similar agreement was taken at this meeting and that the near future will see California in possession of rushing rules similar to those of Stanford.

Mrs. Sarah Brackett has been elected matron of the University hospital. She has had much experience as a nurse and the regents believe they have found an exceptionally capable woman.

WANTS MADE KNOWN

S. U. I. REPRESENTATIVES BEFORE COMMITTEE

State Shy on Funds and Institutions Must Suffer—Which Will It Be?

According to today's Register and Leader, the representatives of the State university went before the joint committee on appropriations yesterday and asked for the appropriation of $380,500 for the support of the university.

The arguments for the appropriations and the explanations of its needs were made by President Geo. E. MacLean, Judge Walter I. Babb, City Attorney W. H. Bremner of Des Moines, Harvey Ingham, editor of the Register and Leader, and others.

The university people ask $105,500 for the support fund and $275,000 for the additional needs of the university.

The appropriations committees of the senate and house are confronted by a condition and not a theory.

There is $1,400,000 in sight for the biennial period, and the demands upon the appropriations committee aggregate $3,000,000. This is the embarrassing problem which confronts the gentlemen of the committees.

The first active step in the establishment of an educational board of control to take charge of the educational institutions of Iowa and to do away with the system of regents was taken yesterday before the joint appropriations committees.

J. G. Berryhill of Des Moines addressed the committees, urging this method of caring for the state educational institutions.

Five Meets for Normal

Manager E. L. McConkle and Assistant Eugene Fenling have arranged a schedule of five meets for the track team of the Iowa State Normal school. They are as follows:

April 29—Home meet.

May 6—Interstate meet between the normal schools of Kansas, Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri and Iowa, at Cedar Falls.

May 14—Dual meet with Coe college at Cedar Falls.

May 21—Track union meet at Cedar Rapids.

May 28—State meet at Des Moines.

A new quarter-mile track was completed last fall on the campus and will be utilized this spring. Coach Pell announced that he will issue orders shortly after the spring session for all men who are aspirants for a position to report for a siege of very strenuous practice.

Manager H. E. Spangler announces that the Iowa baseball schedule will be read for announcement in about a week or ten days.

FAVOR SUMMER BALL

COACH HOLLISTER WOULD PERMIT IT

Says it is a Proper Way for Students to Earn a Summer Livelihood

Coach Jack Hollister of Beloit college is out with a defense of summer baseball playing by college men. In approving the action of Brown University in rescinding the rule prohibiting such playing, the Wisconsin athletic director says:

"It requires money to go to college and some college men must earn their way. They should be allowed to use any and all their faculties that it is right to use in earning their way."

The Lake Forest Stentor, in commenting on Coach Hollister's remarks, declares:

"If a man goes out in summer as a book agent and lies like a thief to get a few dollars he is respected for his business ability; if he plays clean, honest baseball and receives money in payment, he is looked down upon as a professional * * * When a man uses his natural or acquired abilities, honestly, cleanly and as a true baseball player, behaves as a gentleman, we cannot see why the payment of money for his services rendered in summer baseball should bar him from playing on his college team provided he is carrying the full quota of regular studies in a creditable manner * * * Mr. Huff of Illinois says that two-thirds of the college baseball players are professionals. If this is the case, there is an awful lot of liars—made liars by the present rules."

Ross Forced to Leave

Carl W. Ross manager of the Iowa basketball team and the star forward on the team has been compelled to leave school temporarily because of ill health. His action was according to the advice of his physician. It is thought that he will be back in a few days. His enforced vacation is being spent in Muscatine. His temporary absence will materially retard the work of the basketball team in getting in shape for the Grinnell game.

Wilcox at Ames

Professor W. C. Wilcox of the University faculty is delivering an address before the students of Ames college this afternoon on the subject "The Practical Value of History to the Average Man."

The I. S. C. Student says of Professor Wilcox: Professor Wilcox is one of the leading professors of history in the west, and is a brilliant and entertaining speaker. This will be a rare treat for the student body of the college.

FOR BIG BARBECUE

FRATERNITIES MAY HOLD JOLLIFICATIONS

Is Yet in Embryo State—May be Held Early in the Spring Plans Are Talked of

The disposition of the members of Iowa fraternity chapters to get together and get acquainted has been manifested in many ways this year. They are now conducting a whist tournament and have just about completed plans for a baseball tournament. The very latest scheme meant to further acquaint the various chapters with each other in an immense barbecue to be given just as soon as spring opens up properly. The big event has not yet been definitely decided upon; it is just talk, but it is talk that will surely be productive of results.

The plans are simple: One or two beeves; a big fire; a pleasant spot up the Iowa river, and about a hundred "good fellows" are the ingredients provided for in the recipe that has been considered for the coming event.

The affair is yet in an embryo state. A few members from each chapter have talked it over and have been enthusiastic over it. It is expected that it will be made unanimous as soon as presented to the remainder.

Similar affairs have been conducted in other institutions and have been productive of "regular" times.

The Irving Program

Standing room was at a premium last night in Irving Hall. The occasion for the large attendance was the presentation of a special musical program by the members of Irving Institute. The affair was eminently successful judging from the liberal applause showered upon the performers.

The program was opened by a violin solo by August Weinrich who played to an accompaniment by Miss Higley. Mr. Weinrich also played an encore number. Ed. Rule made a hit with his exhibition of club swinging and latter recited very cleverly a couple of selections. C. P. Schenck played a flute solo and responded with an encore. The Irving quartet composed of Roy Redfield, Frank Wilson, C. A. Peirce and Fred Moore sang two selections and responded both times with encores. It was the first public appearance of this organization. Miss Close closed the program with an excellently rendered soprano solo and followed it with an encore number. She was accompanied by Miss Hess. One of the most highly enjoyed numbers on the program was the cornet duet by Messrs Crossan and Eckhart. This was also followed by an encore.

Let Them Come

It is to be hoped that the effort of the commercial club toward getting the members of the state legislature to visit the university will be successful. It is certain that there would be no better way to convince the Iowans that the university is in need of funds than to bring them here and let them examine the university.

The trip of the legislators to Ames the other day was eminently successful—from an Ames point of view. The legislators were also jubilant over the results. They were accorded a genuine reception by the Ames students and faculty members. After the legislators had assembled in the Ames auditorium to listen to a short address by Governor Cummins, the students proceeded to demonstrate to them that they need a new auditorium by packing the room so full that here was not even room to breathe. Then, still more students crowded about the doors and filled the campus in their evident anxiety to get into the auditorium. The feeling manifested by the legislators upon their return to Des Moines is evidence that the Ames school will be handsomely treated.

There is little doubt that the Iowa students could easily demonstrate to the legislators that the university is in need of funds.

It is hard to tell just now whether spring is lingering in the lap of winter or vice versa.

EXCHANGE

Minnesota's gymnastic team may not go East to participate in the meet of the Inter-collegiate Association of Amateur Gymnasts of America.

Baconian

The paper at Baconian last night was read by Wm. Boehm of the department of Physics. His subject was "The Musical scale." A synopsis of the paper follows:

—Of the many musical scales in existence one is of special importance. It is the diatonic scale.

This is not the one found in our organ or piano. The scale adopted for these is an equal temperament which is not exact but distributes its errors uniformly among the various keys. It is however an approximation to the diatonic scale. This scale as employed by the scientist requires more than twelve notes to an octave. All told there would be about seventy-five notes where we now have twelve.

To play all these notes various keyboards have been invented; most of them have so many keys that the practical use of them is almost prohibitory to good music. A better plan which can be applied is to use stops when modulating from one key to another. It may also be possible to make use of a diatonic scale with the addition of only five new notes, thus preserving the common form of key board. This plan would not be so convenient since a stop must be drawn every time the key is changes. The advantage of the method is that it would give us perfect intervals and not merely approximations.
