JOHNSON

RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT

"Teddy" Hawkeyes hold a dramatic meeting in the liberal arts auditorium last night and elected officers for the ensuing cycle. The college Johnsons were the unanimous choice of the club for president, thus showing their hearty approval of his assistances in efforts in promoting the organization and driving for the success of the club.

C. J. Lambert was elected sec-
tary for teachers to fill positions;
the presidents, one from each college are as follows: Homosapiens, Lewis; Pharmacy, Nomm; Liberal Arts, Lovell; Dentistry, Heli-wig; Medicine, Williams.

Col. Boies was given the position of honorary captain of the club for all time to come.

The constitution and by laws were adopted and the report of the president of the work of the Reproductive Missionary Efforts, and the position of the President of the Government.

This class is in charge of Mr.
Harry P. Porter, who spent several years in the Islands serving the conditions at first and is now ready for four sessions are under way.

IOWA CITY,
In the state of Michigan one out of every 100 persons is pursuing a collegiate education.

The University of Munich has a law school.

It is the first of the German universities to do so.

Yale, Harvard, Columbia, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and the Colorado School of Mines are arranging to leave a mine in Colorado. An expedition composed of students at the summer schools of these universities will work the mine under instructions, doing all the work, from sinking the first shaft to refining the ore.

AMUSEMENTS

There is something about Olga Veron's personality that asserts itself in every play that she is in. Somehow, she seems to carry an atmosphere around her that refreshes and sweetens the characters and the audience like a draught of pure air from hills where daisies blow.

It's a charm stronger, words kinder.

The Iowa band has always been commendable and has always manifested its desire to strengthen the music department, and to produce a pleasant affair for the fans of the university band.

At the Iowa Candy Kitchen, 120-122 Washington Street, Iowa City, Iowa, the following telegram was received as second class mail matter, November 10, 1897, at the post office at Iowa City, Iowa, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879:

For Year, 10 cents before January 1st, M. C. Ragle, College of Medicine, C. W. Decker, College of Dentistry, H. B. Huffman, College of Pharmacy, R. M. Anderson, College of Education.

Department of New, Iowa City, Iowa.

The informal concert given by the university band in the hall of liberal arts last evening was an unusually pleasant affair and will only serve to strengthen the good feeling among the student body toward the band and its popular leader Mr. Molloyberry. The Iowa band has always been good but it is excellent now. It is not probable that many school or university musical organizations excel it.

The band manifested a degree of generosity its free concert that is commendable and further showed an interest in the football team in honor of which the concert was given. If Iowa students have any opportunity to do a good turn for the band they may be sure it has already been deserved.

Congratulations to Teddy

The Iowa Club of Yale University sent the following telegram to President Theodore Roosevelt: "The Iowa Club of Yale University congratulates you on your overwhelming victory in Iowa and the nation." (Signed) J. P. H. H. W., President. So far as can be learned this is the first Yale organization to send congratulations to the President. It is best to be cautious frequently that he is a Yale man by adoption.

Iowa Candy Kitchen

Teddy is at his home in Iowa City somewhat improved in health.

The cut, the cloth, the finish, the style are the features in which our clothing excels all others. The clothing we handle is the highest class ready to wear clothing in the country and often you stop to consider that you pay us more than you pay elsewhere for inferior makes you can readily see why it is the most economical to buy. By buying in immense quantities for our many different stores enables us to offer better values than you can obtain elsewhere, but don't take our word for it, come and see for yourself.

The highest award that can be given in the World's Fair at St. Louis—and there can only be fifteen of them in all—has been awarded to A. G. Spalding & Bros., from the Department of Physical, Culture of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. It is a special award, consisting of a gold medal which is given in each department for the best, most complete and most attractive installation, and this special award has been given to A. G. Spalding & Bros., for its fully equipped gymnasium, which was installed in the gymnasium building of Washington University, also for its model gymnasium as installed in the model playground in the model street as well as for its complete exhibit of athletic supplies that were installed in the gymnasium. A. G. Spalding & Bros. also received the Grand Prize for its display of athletic goods and paraphernalia for all sports and pastimes. This is more than praiseworthy from the fact that the superior jury only awarded one grand prize in the department to an exhibitor of athletic goods. A. G. Spalding & Bros., naturally feel pleased at this finding, owing to the fact that many foreign countries exhibited another illustration of the progress of American manufacturers.

Why Harvard Loses

George Fitch in the Council Bluffs Nonpareil: Harvard's old fault of trying to play football with a blue book and eleven family errors is more pronounced than ever this year. Already one son of the soil has left the squad because, while he is allowed to do the heavy part at practice, he must stand on the sidelines during the game and watch the display of some bean cultured back home with suit's to do all over his face and incompetent eyecare carved all over his legs. Harvard, it is alleged, suspicions in choosing its team by means of Bradstreet's manual and the Mayflower log book, and this fact accounts for its imposing collection of past defeats. However, they may not be defeated at all in the Harvard idea. Probably the Harvard students light bonfires over the aesthetic triumph when their team comes home from a crushing defeat by a minor school and declares that the fallback on the opposing team only has $500 a year and is upset upon the wrong way of the grain.

Cheerfulness
Learn to laugh: a good laugh is better than medicine.
Learn how to tell a story: a well told story is as welcome as sunshine in a sickroom.
Learn to keep your own troubles to yourself: the world is too busy to care for your life and sorrow.
Learn to stop crying: if you cannot see any good in the world keep the bad to yourself.
Learn to hide your scars and pains under pleasant smiles: nobody cares to hear your troubles.
Learn to hold your temper: if you are right you can afford to hold it; if you are wrong you cannot afford to lose it.
Learn to meet friends with a smile: a good humored man or woman is always welcome.
