Iowa Will Close a Successful Football Season with Minnesota Tomorrow

ALL TO CEDAR RAPIDS

Special Trains To Carry The Iowa City Continent
The Program
All roads lead to Cedar Rapids tomorrow. Despite the fact that indications point a defeat of the Iowa football team at the hands of the Minnesota players, the Iowa students and Iowa City people are going to turn out and make the Thanksgiving holiday one Iowa may lose but she proposes to die hard and make her opponents struggle as they never have had to do before.

The game will be called at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the athletic park at Cedar Rapids. There will be no certain ruler and the big game will be through in time to have the turkey dinner served in time for an evening Thanksgiving dinner. Both the Iowa and Minnesota teams, are making special inducements to get the crowd, low rates having been made as guarantee. The Iowa football team and the Iowa university band will go by way of the interurban at 9:30. After the game both the Iowa and Minnesota teams will be inspected by the Cedar Rapids business men of the Grand Hotel. Indications are that the game will be watched by an immense crowd. The people of Cedar Rapids are going to make it a society affair. Iowa City people will have no trouble.

Iowa will line up against Minnesota tomorrow at Cedar Rapids. As to the outcome of the game, very little may be said. It is a foregone conclusion that Minnesota should win. But as the ability of Iowa to hold the Gopher giants to a low score may be said. Let the fighting spirit which has made Iowa popular every place it has been this year.

This is another thing that is still more important. This will be the least opportunity Iowa students will have to cheer their football heroes this year. They should all take advantage of it. Show the football players and the Iowa alumni there that we have some spirit.

Many of the leading newspapers of the country are making extended editorial comment over the fact that Wilford H. Keeling of Sioux City, Iowa, has been elected president of the sophomore class at Harvard. The fact that excites comment is the fact that Keeling is a poor boy who has worked his way through school. The display of such a democratic spirit at Harvard is looked upon as being unusual.

The Chicago Evening Post thinks that the action of the Harvard sophomore class is a good indication and goes to prove that the colleges and universities are not going away from the path that was originally laid out for them. It says that Keeling is not a society man; that he is not a football star, therefore it concludes that his election resulted from his real worth in the classroom and elsewhere.

At Other Schools

C. T. Christianson will represent Minnesota in the Hamilton Club oratorical contest.

The Daily Iowan has again been considering the parking of the lower campus as Wisconsin, and have again, decided against it. This proposal caused a student demonstration against it when first proposed at jubilee time last year.

Princeton will soon have its annual cage opera. The way they conduct the spree at old Nassau is to have three men represent each side, one a heavy weight, one a middle weight, and one a light weight, and let them fight it out.

Drake Will Elect

Drake’s new football captain will be elected and the “Day" will be accorded to the man who has earned them this season Saturday evening. This is Carver’s best team in football, and with the Thanksgiving game he steps out of the list of university athletes.

There has been much speculation as to whether the lamps, including the head of the team for 1905 and early in the season several men were mentioned for the honor, but with the election only a few days a week that have dropped out save Burcham, who still has two years to play on the varsity team. Burcham’s work, cool headedness and popularity with the football men has made him the most likely candidate for the captaincy of the blue and white for next year.
