The Daily Iowan Makes Its Selection For An All Iowa Football Team

BASKET BALL NOW FIRST PRACTICE CALLED TONIGHT

Material Abundant And Outlook Promising—Schedule Being Arranged

The close of the football season marks the opening of the basketball season which is beginning more auspiciously than ever before. The past victorious seasons together with the recognition by the athletic union have had their good influence on basketball.

The first practice of the season is called for tonight. The team has been handicapped some by lack of a place to practice but arrangements have now been made whereby the gymnasium in Close hall has been obtained for the preliminary work. As soon as the new gym is completed the work will be transferred there in time for the match games. The new floor will be an ideal basketball field and will be a great help to the team in preparing for their big games. The other universities have all larger playing space than Iowa had up to this time and her teams were handicapped in this respect.

Coach Chalmers will find a bunch of good material when he takes charge of the work for the coming season. Most of last years winning team is back with an abundance of new material. Schenck, Parsons and Ross have all three years playing on the varsity team behind them and Griffith put up an elegant game toward the end of the season. Burkheimer, Brown, Call, Shaw and Berry are also candidates. Among the new men trying out Wilson and Narey, who played with Grinnell last year, and Barton captain of the Ft. Dodge Y. M. C. A. team, are the most promising. All these men are back and have begun training. The team has higher ambitions than winning the state championship again this year and are out after some of the Big Nine games.

Manager Walker is working on the schedule now and expects to announce it in the near future. It will include games with the surrounding state universities, such as Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, Chicago and Wisconsin in addition to the regular state games.

T. E. Diamond ex-Law '04 is visiting friends in the university.

The Alumni of Irving Institute have planned an informal dancing party for the active Erodolphians, Thursday night in the Kenyon Halls.

The Irvings and Erodolphians are working on a farce called "Lend Me Five Shillings" to be given Thursday the tenth of December.

SCHOOLS MUST AGREE BIG NINE TEAMS TO GUIDE OTHERS

Ames and Drake Will Have to Adopt One Year Rule To Play Iowa

The adoption by the Big Nine conference committee of the rule barring freshmen from participating in any athletic contest until they shall have been a student in the school for one semester may effect materially the athletic relations now existing between Ames and Iowa, and Drake and Iowa. Prof. A. G. Smith the Iowa representative to the conference who was elected president of the Big Nine has returned to Iowa City. In an explanation of the rules he said that in addition to adopting the one year rule the conference also adopted a rule prohibiting any Big Nine team from playing with any other team which does not observe the one year limit rule. Professor Smith said that he had already secured the consent of Missouri university, Kansas university and Washington university at St. Louis to observe the rule. He will make an effort to secure the consent of Ames and Drake to the same rule and if successful it is not anticipated that the rule will in any way hinder the continuance of pleasant athletic relations between Iowa and the other state schools. However, if Ames and Drake refused to support the rules it will mean that Iowa cannot play them and maintain her place in the Big Nine conference.

In the conference meeting the one year rule was opposed by Professor Jones of Minnesota and Professor Smith of Iowa. It was as a concession to these men that the conference adopted the rule practically enforcing other schools to adopt it.

It is not expected by state university athletes that Nebraska will be willing to agree to the conditions although to continue her games with Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois she will be compelled to do so.

Miss Everts has returned from a week's visit at the exposition.

A practically complete register of the alumni of the State University of Iowa has been issued. The Register contains the names of 3,500 alumni and covers that period from 1850 to 1904. The credit for the gathering together of the information contained in the Register is due to Mrs. Kate B. Rodgers, Miss Alice B. Chase and Prof. H. G. Plum. The Register was gotten out by the State Alumni Association. Two years were required to gather the material for the Register.

In this issue, the DAILY IOWAN attempts to summarize briefly the football season that has just closed. The IOWAN believes that this has been a signally successful season in the history of Iowa athletics. The team has not sprung any great surprises by defeating any of the other big teams of the west but it has played good football in spite of difficulties that seemed unsurmountable. The IOWAN believes that this is a greater victory than a victory in the matter of scores.

The IOWAN wishes to add its tribute to those who have given their time and effort toward making this one of the brightest years in Iowa athletic history; it wishes to compliment the student body for the loyalty which they have shown. Above all it wishes to add its tribute to that already heaped upon the members of the team and Coach Chalmers. The same grit and courage that has made this year's team famous will win victories for Iowa in the future.

The invitations for the big sophomore cotillion which is to be held in Smith's armory on the evening of Dec. 16, have been sent out. The members of the committee which has the big function in charge had another meeting last night in the office of the DAILY IOWAN and completed plans for the affair. The plans for decorating have been adopted and arrangements are being made for the music. It is said that the committee has in mind the employment of the entire university band for this occasion. This would be something entirely new in class parties at the university. The committee promises that the party is going to be above the usual degrees of elaborateness.

Not since the glorious days of 1900 when the Iowa football giants cleaned the western platter, has the Iowa star shown so brightly as now. After two years of athletic despondency the institution has taken itself by bootstraps and lifted itself out of the mire. Step by step it has advanced and now it has struck its proper pace.

The football season that has just closed has been a success in every sense of the word. The majority of the games have been won; the state championship has been clinched; no permanent injuries have been received by any of the players and the athletic union is ahead financially by a considerable amount.

Iowa has played a hard schedule this year—the hardest in fact of any team in the Big Nine with the exception of Chicago. But Chicago was expected to have a good team when her schedule was arranged. Iowa's prospects were not so good so Iowa undertook the biggest responsibility of any team in the Big Nine. To come out of it with flying colors is a distinct victory for those who have had the conduct of affairs in their hands.

First of all ex-Manager Spangler deserves credit for the excellent schedule; present Manager H. G. Walker deserves credit for a careful handling of all the funds in his hands this fall; the members of the athletic board deserve credit for the time and labor they have given toward boosting everything that has been undertaken, and the players deserve credit for their willing spirit and their courage which has pulled them through many a tight hole on the football field. Not the least important is the spirit of the students all of whom have stood by the team to a remarkable degree.

Iowa started the year without funds in her athletic treasury. Every possible economy was exercised by the management and the members of the board of control. Even the players felt the keenness of the situation and refused to allow the union to purchase new suits for them. Most of the players went through the season with their old suits. Such a spirit of sacrifice was bound to bring results. It spread to the student body resulting in increased patronage and the good home patronage and the good schedule of games away from home there is a neat surplus in the treasury amounting to about $8,000. This will be employed largely in clearing up old debts.

The season started out with the customary games with the smaller colleges of the state in which Iowa was successful in piling up decisive scores. Coe and Augustana were defeated by scores of 17 to 0 and 33 to 2, the later eleven being permitted to score a safety on the varsity. The Cornell college eleven was buried under the score of 88 to 0 by the Varsity players and Grinnell did not fare much better being beaten by a score of 69 to 0. Drake and Ames proved to be harder propositions, the former falling before the varsity by a score of 17 to 0 and the latter holding Iowa to a 10 to 6 score. The Ames team scored on a flunk in the first minute of play. Iowa clearly outplayed the Aggies however, much more than shown by the score.

Iowa met the big and fast Chicago University team when the latter was getting in readiness for their most important game of the year—that with Northwestern and was beaten by a score of 39 to 0 after holding the Maroons to a single goal from field in first half. Stagg used an entirely new set of backs in the second half. Iowa when in a very crippled condition met the Nebraskans at Lincoln. Jones, Griffith and Schwinn were all out of the game and Iowa lost by a score of 17 to 12. There is little doubt that if the entire Iowa lineup had been in the game we would have won. The score at the end of the first half was 6 to 0 in favor of Iowa.

With only half of the regulars in the game Iowa beat the gritty State Normal team on Iowa field by a score of 11 to 6. The Normalities put up a great fight that day.

Iowa had an off day at Champaign and lost to the Illinois team by a score of 29 to 0. The men were badly crippled and frequent substitutions were necessary.

No Iowa team ever covered itself with so much glory however as did the Iowa players on Thanksgiving day when they met the big Gophers at Cedar Rapids. Instead of a score of some 50 to 0 in favor of Minnesota which was freely predicted, the Gophers were held to eleven points. They were not able to score at all in the first half so perfect was the defense of the Iowa men. In the second half when the Iowa men had become exhausted, the weight of the Minnesota team began to tell and two touchdowns were made, the last occurring just a minute before time was called. The exhibition of football put up by the Iowa team that day was perfect and the Iowa rooters who saw the game howled with delight. It was a fitting finish to a successful season.

Capt. Earl McGowan has returned to his school duties after a visit at his home in Clear Lake.

- T. JONES (CAPT) NORMAL, R. H. B.
- BURCHAM, DRAKE L. H. B.
- KINTZ, DRAKE, FULL BACK.

Excluding the players of the state university football team, the above lineup of players selected from the teams representing the other Iowa schools and colleges would constitute the all Iowa team in the judgement of the DAILY IOWAN. The selections have been made after careful observations of the most important games in which each of the teams of the state have been engaged and from advices secured from those connected with the various teams who are in a position to study the work of its individual players throughout the season.

The selection of an all Iowa team is not an easy task by any means this season because the teams representing the upper strata of the Iowa football mass are not separated by a very great margin as far as quality is concerned. Ames and Drake have been playing a quality of football never before shown by them and in fact both teams gave the state university a hard tussle for first place.

The standing of the teams however in the state championship ladder is only one of the things to consider in the selection of individuals to compose the state team. For instance Drake is given five places on the first team while Ames gets but three in spite of the fact that Ames defeated Drake by a decided score. The state normal which cannot claim better than fourth place in the state championship fight has good claim to two members of the all state team. These men are "Tommy" Jones and Wright. Jones has shown out brightly in all of the games in which he has played this year and no one will question his ability as a back field player. Because of his experience and the quality that makes

A VETERAN QUARTERBACK

Dwight Griffith better known as "Reddy" has done his share toward keeping up the football reputation of the Griffith family. For four years "Reddy" Griffith has been a pillar of strength at the quarterback position on the Iowa team. Despite his smallness of stature he has played a star game wherever he has been. As a field general he has had no equal in the west for a long time. Griffith has played his last game with the Hawkeyes but he will not soon be forgotten by the Iowa students. Griffith has not only been an athlete but a student as well. He was last year the winner of the Max Mayer prize for excellence as a scholar and an athlete. His classroom work has always been of a high grade.

him popular with his men he is given the position of captain of the all star team. Wright is the premier center. Muskings of Grinnell is a close second.

For ends Jordan of Drake and "Sioux" Jones of Ames have little competition. Both are fast; use lots of headwork and have experience. They can carry the ball as well as play defensive.

Damon of Drake and Jorgensen of Ames have a monopoly on the tackle positions, all will agree. Both are fleet footed and good on defense. Hoffman of Drake and Drennen of Ames should hold the guard positions. Conaway of Drake however has the weight to cheat Hoffman out of his position but he has not displayed the football head. He should make a great guard in time.

In selecting a man for quarterback there may be difference of opinion. In the opinion of the writer, the place should go to Ball of Coe. He has had experience and knows how to direct his team. He is a hard worker and is always in the game. It would not be an injustice to the other state quarterbacks to give him first place. White of Simpson is probably next in line and Jensen of Ames deserves quite a little consideration. Jensen has it in him to make the all star team in another year but his lack of experience on a varsity team would keep him from a place on the all star aggregation this year. Hubbard of Morningside College is a good quarterback and deserves to be in faster company than he is now playing in. He is probably faster on his feet than any other quarterback in the state but he has not had an opportunity to shine out yet.

For the other halfback with "Tommy" Jones, Burcham of Drake has no competition. He is fast in carrying the ball, being almost as fast as Main. However, he excels in close play where Main does not. Burcham's value on the all star team is increased because of his ability to kick the ball. It will be remembered that he managed to score four points on Michigan.

For the fullback position there is also opportunity for different opinions. Kintz of Drake and Scott of Ames are of course the leaders for the place. Kintz is better at hitting the line than Scott and this qualification alone should give him a place on the team. He is equally as good on defensive work.

The fact that Drake has more individual stars than the other competitors and still was beaten by Ames would seem to add weight to the charge that has been frequently made that Dr. Monilaw is a theoretical coach rather than a practical one. He certainly has had a wealth of fine material this year both in the line and in the back field. It does not seem reasonable that a coach can teach football without having played it himself.

Ames has also had a great deal

COACH JOHN G. CHALMERS

When the Iowa football team left the field after the Minnesota game at Cedar Rapids last Thursday the members of the squad cheered for Coach John G. Chalmers. In doing so the members of the team expressed the feeling of the entire university and alumni for Coach Chalmers. Day after day, he has struggled with the team; sometimes the results were discouraging, but he struggled on and at the close of the season had the satisfaction of having the team that held the big Minnesota giants to the lowest score made by it during the season.

In his labors at Iowa University Coach Chalmers has been greatly handicapped. He has not had the material that the schools against which his team has been pitted have had. In addition he has not had the gymnasium facilities with which to season his material as other schools have had. In spite of this he has gone ahead and won out. A striking example of what he could accomplish is seen in the Ames game when he won a decided victory with a smaller squad, a lighter team and against a Harvard coach and the best trainer in the west.

Earle McGowan of Clear Lake, Ia., who has been chosen Captain of the university football team for the coming year is well qualified to fill the position. For three years he has been one of the star players on the team and withal one of the most popular players that ever wore the old gold. Up until this year McGowan played at the left tackle position but because of the scarcity of back material this year he was put at fullback and played his position very successfully. His line hurdling and plunges gained many first downs for Iowa during the season that has just closed. His defensive work was equally as good. McGowan is full of the fighting spirit which has won friends for the team every place it has played this year, particularly in its uphill games.

FRESHIE MEDICS ARE DECLARED CHAMPIONS

Custom to be Renewed Next Year By Classes, Societies And Fraternities

The football season which has just closed saw the revival of class football. Though late in starting a number of games were scheduled between the different classes and colleges which were very interesting. Next year the custom will be continued and the games will commence with the opening of the regular season.

It is to be regretted that no championship games were played this year. As all the teams did not meet it is hard to pick the champions. The freshie medics claim the best team and think that they should head the list. Their standing challenge was never accepted, and judging from their line up and the form displayed in practice they could have beaten any of the other teams. As none of the other teams dispute their standing it is safe to give the naughty eight medics the title. They developed a variety of offense, having worked out the science of end runs to a higher degree than any of their rivals, and were good on defense.

Perhaps the freshie laws would be given the next place. In their one game with the freshmen collegiates they triumphed by the score of 6 to 0. The game was a fierce one and the victory was well earned.

Third place is disputed by freshie, juniors and senior collegiates with odds slightly against the seniors. It is true that seniors lost to the juniors but as there was no choice in the playing of the teams the victory was only a nominal one.

Next year will undoubtedly see a great many of amateur games. The fraternities and literary societies as well as the classes will put teams in the field and all scores will be settled on the gridiron.

Large numbers of students attended Sousa's band concert at the opera house this afternoon.

Prof. Calvin lectured at Davenport last night on "A Geographical Excursion among the Rockies of Colorado." On Monday night Dean Weld will speak at Davenport on "The Life History of a Star."

Basketball Men Attention

The first practice of the season will take place tonight at 7 o'clock in Close Hall. All candidates for the varsity are urged to turn out promptly.

C. P. SCHENCK, Captain.

An enthusiastic meeting of those selected for the Varsity Glee Club was held last night at Close Hall and the following officers elected: J. C. Parish, president; Thos. L. Rogers, vice president; R. L. Glase, secretary and treasurer. A constitution was framed and adopted. Committees to obtain music and look after finances, were appointed.

Dave Lewis the comedian in the Royal Chef company which appeared at the opera house Friday night made a hit by appearing in the finale in an "I" sweater. The large number of students present joined in the Iowa yell. Mr. Lewis is a clever comedian and is supported by a good company.

THE RETIRING CAPTAIN :: ::

Nyle W. Jones, of Iowa Falls who has been captain of the Iowa team during the year that has just closed occupies a peculiar place in the estimation of the students and friends of the state university. In addition to having been one of the greatest players who ever wore an Iowa suit, he is without doubt one of the most popular players Iowa has ever had and the best liked of all. Jones is known on the football field and elsewhere as a perfect gentleman. As an example of the high esteem in which he is held by the other members of the team one of the players said: "I would not have played football this year but for one thing, and that was because Nyle Jones asked me to. I couldn't afford to give the time that I did to the game but I couldn't refuse when Jones asked me to play. He is the finest little gentleman I ever met."

Jones has played in hard luck this year, having been compelled to remain out of some of the most important games because of injuries. The injury which he received last year at Grinnell when he fell on a stake on the sidelines reappeared in the Augustana game this year. Jones was not able to appear in the Nebraska and Illinois games and played only a part of the Ames game. He closed the season with flying colors however in the Minnesota game and had the credit for making the longest single gain against the Minnesota team, this year, running forty yards through the whole Minnesota team.

Captain Jones has played his last game with the Iowa team but he will be long remembered by lovers of athletics at the university

Daily News Team

The sporting editor of the Des Moines Daily News should apply for a position on some humorous paper. His selection of an all state football team would be recommendation enough. Neither one of the Iowa ends, who have really composed the strong feature of the Iowa playing this year are given a place on his team. Streff could substitute for "Sioux" Jones according to the News man. Perhaps the News man was not aware of the fact that Stoltenberg got away from Bender at Lincoln for 35 yards, and again went around Rothgeb's end at Champaign for 40 yards, or that Stoltenberg and Streff were admitted by the Minnesota critics to have outplayed the Minnesota ends at Cedar Rapids. In this connection it will be remembered that the Daily News man predicted that Ames would defeat Iowa and that Drake would smother Ames.

The News man wears spectacles labeled, "Drake." Everything he sees through them looks blue and white. He says that Ames' victory over Drake was purely luck, after the Drake team had outplayed Ames. He also says that Iowa tried to "rough it" in her games this season. Let us laugh!

Cheerfulness

- Learn to laugh; a good laugh is better than medicine.
- Learn how to tell a story; a well told story is as welcome as a sunbeam in a sickroom.
- Learn to keep your own trouble to yourself; the world is too busy to care for your ills and sorrows.
- Learn to stop croaking; if you cannot see any good in the world keep the bad to yourself.
- Learn to hide your aches and pains under pleasant smiles; nobody cares to hear your troubles.
- Learn to hold your temper; if you are right you can afford to hold it; if you are wrong you cannot afford to lose it.
- Learn to meet your friends with a smile; a good humored man or woman is always welcome.
